U. S. Bayonets Halt Foe; Allies Expect Attack Near Rome

GERMANS HURL HEAVY BLOW AT CASSINO FRONT

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Jan. 24 (AP).—The most powerful German army ever massed in Italy lashed savagely at allied positions along the main 5th army front today in an effort to repair the epic staff blunder that permitted American and British troops to land almost unopposed near Rome on Saturday.

Field Marshal Albert Kesselring threw nine divisions, representing an estimated 100,000 men, against the allies along a 30 mile line running from Sant' Elia, four miles northeast of Cassino, to the Tyrrhenian sea. Three of them were crack armored grenadier divisions, reequipped and fresh after a long rest in the Rome area.

Yanks along the Rapido river fought off the Nazi charges with bayonets.

The Nazi high command evidently hoped to deal a devastating blow to Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces on the Cassino front and then to turn and smash the amphibious force at their rear back into the sea.

Drive 4 Miles Inland.

It appeared to be a desperate gamble, as allied landing troops were officially disclosed to have captured the port of Nettuno, 30 miles south of Rome, and to have driven four miles inland. This brought the Appian way, main coastal highway between Rome and the Germans' southern front, within effective range of allied artillery.

Small, but determined German tank, artillery, and infantry forces were disclosed tonight to have opened counter-attacks against the allied beachheads. German combat teams waged a series of hot fights for canal bridges in the flatlands. Several bridges changed hands several times.

[The German radio reported allied troops had been encountered northwest of Nettuno, somewhere between that port and the mouth of the Tiber river, 16 miles from the heart of Rome. The radio also quoted a German military correspondent as saying that American spearheads had driven into Aprilia, which it said was 23 miles from Rome, but later were driven out of the village. The Swiss newspaper Der Bund said that Littoria, 12 miles east of Nettuno, is in allied hands. Littoria is the site of a great Rome airport.]

Yanks Battle for Hours.

American troops who had crossed the Rapido river south of Cassino on Saturday against stiff resistance bore the brunt of the Nazi hammer blow. So great were the German barrages laid on the river over which Yank engineers had thrown bridges that the greatest difficulty was encountered in moving sup-

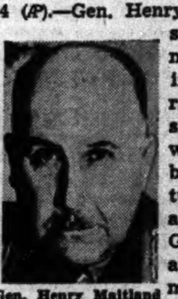
ON THE AMERICAN BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 24 (AP).—First Lt. Robert Bangert of Great Falls, Mont., led a squad of 27 engineers on one of the most dangerous missions of this amphibious operation today.

They were selected to make a forced march into enemy lines to dynamite bridges which the Germans might attempt to use to send in armor in a counter-attack.

Among Bangert's men were Corp. John Mangelson, Clinton, Ia.; Sgt. Lawrence E. Drescher, Neillsville, Wis., and Pvt. Julius Richter Jr., Greenwich, Conn.

"Our oufit built almost a hundred bridges and by-passes in North Africa and Sicily in repairing demolitions," Bangert said. "Once we built a bridge, then stood aside and watched the Germans blow up five others. Now we've got a chance to do some blowing up ourselves, and we are not going to miss it."

Gen. Wilson Tells of Race to Land Arms



Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson.

ADVANCED HDQ. IN ITALY, Jan. 24 (AP).—Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson, allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean, today said allied troops were racing to build up the Nettuno beachhead against expected German counter attacks which might develop fighting as fierce as the battle of Salerno.

"But we have this advantage," he said. "Salerno was much farther away from our air bases and main forces than we are today."

Not in Position to Attack.

Because of the surprise of the landings, the Germans "were not in a position to attack our beachhead during the first 48 hours, thereby giving us time to get ashore support weapons—which is something to be thankful for.

"This surprise was due almost entirely to the action of the air force which, by attacking the enemy's airports in the Rome area disrupted his means of reconnaissance and threw them out of gear at the crucial time when the convoys were leaving their bases and proceeding northward up the beaches. No enemy aircraft came over."

"Having surprised the Germans with the landings, the building up of weapons and other materials on the beachhead is proceeding as fast as possible to make it a springboard from which to strike at the enemy's rear." General Nelson said.

A "Classical Operation."

"The enemy has interior lines by road and rail to the Cassino and Rome areas, whereas ours are by sea and air. We have the handicap of weather, which affects both sea convoys and air cover. Given reasonable weather now, one hopes we may be able to use our superiority of materials—air force, tanks, weapons, and all things necessary."

Wilson said Gen. Alexander and Gen. Clark, the allied field commanders, expected the Germans to swerve in against the allied forces at Nettuno. As an alternative to a counter-attack on the beach, Wilson said, the Germans may try to form a new line of hedgehog fortifications behind their present Cassino line to prevent a break-thru at their rear.

Wilson described the design of Saturday's landing operation as "classical," the purpose being to draw and fix the enemy's main force and at the same time to strike his rear when he has sufficiently withdrawn.

"It looks as if that has been brought about," he said.

LOST HALF MY PANTS, BUT GOT 2 JAPS: HARMON

Flyer Tells of Air Battle in China.

BY PHILIP DODD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lt. Tom Harmon.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Fear of being machine gunned by Japanese planes led Lt. Tom Harmon, former University of Michigan football star, to "play dead" while parachuting to earth after his P-38 fighter plane had been set afire in combat over China last October, he told a press conference today. Harmon said that during the fray he shot down two Zeros and lost half his pants.

"The Japanese are notorious for shooting down our boys in parachutes," Lt. Harmon explained. "But half my pants legs had been blown or burned off and maybe they thought I was a Jap."

As it was, two Zeros circled him from the time his parachute opened at 5,000 feet until he landed in a lake, Lt. Harmon said.

Return Route a Secret.

Lt. Harmon's adventures from the time he landed in the lake until he arrived at his squadron headquarters 32 days later remain a secret. It is known only that he made his way thru enemy territory.

Lt. Harmon's reappearance after being shot down in China was his second dramatic return within a year after being reported missing. The two motored bomber he was flying over the South American jungle April 8, 1943, was forced down and he made his way thru the jungle to a Dutch Guiana village which he reached seven days later.

Late for Press Conference.

This morning it appeared for a while that Harmon was lost again. His press conference was scheduled for 10 a. m., but when the hour arrived there was no Lt. Harmon. Later he telephoned that the bomber on which he had flown from Greenville, S. C., had been delayed.

Harmon said he was shot down on a dive bombing attack on the docks and warehouses at Kiukiang, China. Four P-38s flew as dive bombers and four others participated in the mission as "top cover," protection against attack from above. Lt. Harmon was "tail-end Charlie" — last plane of the top cover.

Twenty Zeros Attack.

When the American planes arrived over the target area they were attacked by at least 20 Japanese Zeros, Harmon said. Some attacked the escorting P-38s and others went after the dive bombers.

"I busted in between 'em," he said. "Three turned off to the left and the two to the right, but one of the Nips flew right into my sights. I gave him a machine gun burst that tore his cockpit off, and then the cannon, and the Jap blew up."

Harmon's plane was in a dive. As he pulled out, he came up under another Zero. His machine guns tore off part of the Zero's left wing, he said, and his cannon made the Zero "go up like a matchbox."

Zero Nails Harmon's Plane.

An enemy plane then came up under Harmon's fighter. Incendiary bullets tore into his cockpit and started a fire. Harmon said he tried to put out the blaze with his hands, but was unsuccessful, so he jumped.

In the fight, four of the American planes were shot down, including Harmon's and that of the squadron leader, Capt. Lowden Enslen of Springfield, Mo., who was killed.

Jap airmen are not all "suicide pilots," Harmon said. He told of one captured Zero pilot who upon seeing the guns of his captors, shouted "Don't shoot! Don't shoot! Me no hara-kiri boy!"

He said he will leave Washington shortly for his Ann Arbor, Mich., home to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harmon.

Career Girl Suicide Over Unwise Love

New York, Jan. 24 [Special].—A year ago Beryle Blake was one of New York's most successful and glamorous career girls.

She was 34 years old and an executive of the Palmolive-Peet company in charge of styling cosmetic products. Behind her was a record of success as head of Kathleen Mary Quinlan, Inc., a large cosmetic house. She was a graduate of Randolph Macon college, Virginia.

Beryle had a host of suitors, among them many men of wealth. She wasn't anxious to get married. She already had the smart clothes and other luxuries that would come with marriage to a wealthy man. She could afford to take her time and wait until she met a man she loved.

Choice Already Married.

She met Albert R. Roberts about that time. He was a Canadian millionaire with patrician features and a home in Maryland where he lived like a country squire. Beryle, who had just turned down a bachelor with a sizable fortune, decided that maybe Roberts was the man she had been waiting for. There was just one hitch. Roberts had a wife.

But this was really no insuperable difficulty, Roberts told her, according to friends. Mrs. Roberts had already agreed to go to Miami and get a divorce, he is said to have indicated. Beryle accepted from him a diamond and sapphire ring.

Months went by without Mrs. Roberts starting for Florida. Beryle waited and hoped and wore her ring. Saturday night her sweetheart came to call at her Greenwich village apartment, but Mrs. Roberts came with him. His wife had refused to divorce him and he could not marry her, he said. Mrs. Roberts added some remarks of her own about women who come between husbands and their lawfully wedded mates.

Foils Guards; Ends Life.

Beryle told her physician over the phone later that night that she was going to kill herself. He rushed three nurses to stand guard but yesterday Beryle put on a show of having recovered her composure and dismissed them.

Today the body of the woman who could have had everything except the man she loved was at the city morgue. Police distributed to addresses three suicide notes found with the body. One of the notes asked that Roberts be notified at the Ritz-Carlton hotel. Physicians and nurses barred police from his suite, however, explaining he had collapsed on hearing the news.

TOP MUSTERING-OUT PAY OF $300 SLATED IN COMPROMISE BILL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Senate and house conferees drew up a compromise bill providing $100 to $300 mustering out pay for service men and women today, with the top payment going to those who serve overseas or in Alaska.

Sen. Johnson [D., Colo.] estimated the cost of the compromise proposal at $3,000,000,000, or $600,000,000 less than the house measure, and $2,500,000,000 less than the senate version.

The scale provides: $100 to service men and women who serve less than 60 days in the continental United States; $200 to those who serve more than 60 days in this country, and $300 for those with service overseas or in Alaska.

5 HURT IN TRAIN WRECK ON N. Y. C. NEAR SYRACUSE

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 24 [Special].—Five persons were injured tonight when the Chicago bound Advance Water Level Limited of the New York Central railway which left here at 11:15 p. m. was wrecked at Jordan, N. Y., 18 miles west of here.

The passenger train crashed into a freight train which had been derailed a few minutes previously. One of the locomotives was cut in two, but both engineer and fireman escaped.

All of the injured, who were sailors, were taken to a hospital at Auburn, N. Y., 12 miles south of Jordan.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Many restrictions on men's and women's clothes are expected to be dropped Feb. 1. Hugh Dalton, president of the board of trade, is expected to make the announcement at the coming session of parliament. Stores and warehouses are filled with "austerity suits" that almost nobody will buy.

Stalin Called Hitler Helper in War Plots

Rep. Sumner.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Urging defeat of legislation to finance American participation in the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, Rep. Sumner [R., Ill.] told the house today that Premier Stalin of Russia "helped Hitler start this war."

The Illinois woman legislator asserted "the war he [Stalin] helped to start boomeranged and he himself was attacked."

"We owe him nothing," she said, "except respect for not folding up and for fighting magnificently instead in self-preservation."

Denounces Moscow Parley.

Referring to the Moscow conference, which resulted in a four power declaration for post-war collaboration, as "another Munich," Miss Sumner said that "Stalin demanded more than he had the right to ask or America had the right to give."

"We had no right to give him Poland or any other country in Europe," she added. "In addition, we promised him another second front, consisting mostly of Americans, because the British still have some sense left."

"Does Stalin today have the same respect for our country that he would have had for America if, at Moscow and Teheran, we had adhered religiously to our American principles and kept our self-respect?" she asked.

Makes Us Accessories.

The UNRRA legislation, she charged, "would make us accessories after the fact to the unjust Moscow concessions," and would, she said, "help give Europe another cruel dictator."

Miss Sumner spoke as the house moved toward a final vote on the legislation, authorizing the expenditure of 1 billion 350 million dollars for the United States share of UNRRA's estimated cost for helping rehabilitate axis devastated countries as soon as they are liberated.

President Roosevelt was denied control of the American contribution to the UNRRA by the house today by a vote of 116 to 102. This responsibility was placed upon the shoulders of the state department.

Herbert H. Lehman, director general of the UNRRA, announced the appointment of Frederick Leith-Ross as deputy director general in charge of UNRRA's European office in London.

WACs Do 239 Jobs in Army; Could Do 406

BY MARCIA WINN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—The women's army corps is only one small cog in the army of the United States, so relatively unimportant that its director, Col. Oveta Culp Hobby, is not a member of the war department's general staff. As such, the WAC has been publicized out of all proportions to its role in the war.

The army has an estimated 7½ million men, individual members of which are publicized only when they have done some heroic deed, gone AWOL in an unusual manner, been killed, or come home wounded. The WAC had 64,735 members on Jan. 21, members who are publicized, individually and by groups, every time they turn around. This is most of the time.

The reason is obvious. Women, unimpressed by the fact that the WACs role in the war, altho small, is important, are not enlisting as expected. They are not enlisting in sufficient numbers to justify the outlay for camps, training schools, and equipment set up to care for the authorized WAC strength of 200,000. If by the end of the war women have not joined the WAC in numbers far exceeding the present rate, there may be reasonable basis for the conjecture whether the creation of the corps was justifiable.

Frankness Needed.

One paramount flaw in WAC recruiting may be the war department's reluctance to state, frankly and fully, just what the 64,735 WACs now in khaki are doing. Many more women might join if they knew with certainty that they would do work relieving a man for combat duty. Many women labor under the delusion that the WACs work for each other.

Officials tell you that WACs are doing 239 jobs formerly done by men, but they don't tell you how many. They merely say the WACs are doing a wonderful job and more are needed. There are 406 jobs they could do, they say.

One reason for this evasion may be that 53 per cent, or roughly 33,000 of the 62,859 women in the WAC on Jan. 1, were doing administrative and clerical work. This accounts for 44 of the 239 jobs and means that most of the WACs in that category are typists or clerks.

Not Exciting Work.

Now, that is not exciting. It is not glamorous. A lot of it is pure drudgery. For the hundreds in the Pentagon building it differs little from their jobs as typists or clerks in civilian life, except that now they can't afford to be late, can't change the color of their dresses or hats, can't live where they please

G. O. P. LEADERS OPEN 7 WEEK PRIMARY DRIVE

Green and Lyons Head Caravan.

BY THOMAS MORROW.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 24.—Top state candidates of the Republican party headed by Gov. Dwight H. Green and Richard J. Lyons, seeking nomination for United States senator, opened the primary campaign here today before a noisy welcoming crowd of more than 300 women Republican leaders.

Tomorrow the seven candidates will begin a seven weeks' tour which will carry them 3,900 miles and into all of the downstate Illinois counties. Besides Green and Lyons those making the trip are: Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, Arnold P. Benson, candidate for secretary of state; Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett; Earl B. Searcy, candidate for clerk of the Supreme court, and Conrad F. Becker, candidate for state treasurer.

Hear Optimistic Reports.

The Republican women, who gathered from all parts of the state and overflowed the ballroom of the Abraham Lincoln hotel, brought optimistic reports of growing Republican strength and disgust with burocratic government. They gave the governor an ovation and clambered to their feet to cheer Lyons' assertion that "before we plan for all the other peoples of the world we should make an American plan for the welfare of the 12 million returning soldier sons of the United States."

Gov. Green, while predicting a Republican victory and urging unity behind the war effort, warned that voters must protect with their ballots the liberty of the home front.

"For even while we strike the foreign foes of liberty with every weapon at our command, the burocratic termites strike at our precious liberty from within," he told his audience. "They dare to attempt by stealth to seize what they could never take by force."

Green Predicts Sweep.

Of the coming Republican victory in the fall election the governor said it "will sweep the country clean of high-handed burocrats and professional dreamers—the government wastrels, spendthrifts, and un-American schemers. These are the schemers whose insane plan for operating America's economic system once consisted of killing pigs, plowing up corn, burning wheat, and has now concentrated upon regulating and questionnairing the business man to his ruin, putting the laboring man and the heroic war veteran on a perpetual dole, and piling up the most gigantic national debt in the history of the world."

This debt, the governor continued, has not been piled upon the tax payer to aid the war effort. He asserted that it has grown to finance impracticable schemes and maintain extravagantly disproportionate pay rolls.

"The business man is in a sad predicament," the governor said. "On his back he bears the burden of his business. On one shoulder he must carry a burocrat, and on the other shoulder he must carry a lawyer to interpret the burocrats' decrees.

Farmers' Plight Similar.

"But his condition is more perplexing than that of the farmer—the farmer who was urged to raise more pigs and then prevented from marketing them and forced to take a loss because of a bungled meat rationing program—the farmer who was first paid for not raising food—or destroying food—and is now not being paid enough for producing the largest crop in history.

"This is the farmer whose mail box is filled daily with a flood of propaganda written by "swivel chair" experts in Washington giving him instructions, orders and advice on everything—from filling out masses of unnecessary reports to suggesting that he remove his horses' shoes at night to save metal."

The speaker pointed to Illinois as an example of the difference between New Deal methods and a business administration. By strict economy, Green reminded his audience, the state government has created a surplus of 70 million dollars after accepting an empty treasury from a Democratic administration.

The governor told his listeners that the state is determined to offer a comprehensive war veteran rehabilitation program. At present, he said, Illinois offers better prospects for rehabilitation of the disabled veteran and jobs for both he disabled and able-bodied veteran than any other state in the union.

"Illinois' Republican administration has shown further recognition for the soldier by passing legislation which will make it possible for him to vote in the election next November," Green said. "This program is practical and workable and it could have gone into effect in time to permit the fighting men to vote in the April primary, had not a selfish clique of Kelly machine puppets in the general assembly blocked the emergency clause in the bills.

Charges Insincerity.

"This act of boss Kelly's men is the clearest illustration of the insincerity of the men of the New Deal party who set up a great hue and cry for soldier vote legislation and then do everything in their power to kill it, or render it ineffective shamelessly playing politics with the voting rights of the heroic men and women who are making mighty sacrifices for liberty."

On concluding his speech, the governor introduced the other candidates to the audience. Benson assured his listeners that he will take over the one portion of the state house which has been inhabited by Democrats during the last three years, the office of secretary of state.

Becker, who stretches upward six feet and five inches and admits to Redbud as his home town, said dolefully that "If he lived and was nominated he was sure of election along with the other party candidates."

VETS' HOSPITAL IN MIDDLE WEST GIVEN APPROVAL

Presidential approval was given in Washington yesterday for construction of a new veterans' hospital to serve northern Illinois, eastern Iowa, and southern Wisconsin. At the same time another hospital for the metropolitan area of New York was authorized. The middle west hospital will have a capacity of 1,328 beds and the New York hospital will have 1,492.

The veterans' administration said sites for the hospitals will be announced later and added that it was expected government owned land with some of the necessary services and structures already in place will be used. Both hospitals will be used for treatment of veterans suffering from nervous and mental disorders.

Veterans' administration officials in Chicago were not aware of the plan to build another hospital in this area. Two hospitals for treatment of mental cases are operated in Illinois. One is in North Chicago and the other is in Danville.

ANACONDA BOWS TO FRAUD CASE GUILTY VERDICT

Providence, R. I., Jan. 24 (AP).—The Anaconda Wire and Cable company and four of its former officials today abandoned their right to appeal from federal sentences imposed last Wednesday on charges of conspiring to defraud the government thru the manufacture of substandard army field wire.

A few minutes before the expiration of the period allowed for appeal, Lawrence J. Hogan, counsel for the company, handed a check for $10,000, the amount the company was fined, to the clerk of the court. None of the former officials appealed their convictions and sentences.

William H. Morley and Jacob Eagleson had been sentenced to 18 months, Lowell K. Morrow to 15 months, and William Eagleson to a year and a day.

Promotion of 62 Firemen to Engineer Jobs Ordered

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan yesterday ordered the promotion of 62 firemen to the civil service post of fire engineer. The men are needed to fill vacancies caused by retirements, recent promotions, and the draft.

G. O. P.'S COUNTY SLATE IS READY FOR SUBMISSION

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

A carefully balanced slate of candidates for Cook county offices will be offered for approval tomorrow to the Republican county central committee. More than 100 aspirants were interviewed during the last month by the subcommittee on candidates.

John T. Dempsey, G. O. P. county chairman, was drafted for state's attorney by the whole committee on Saturday. It is expected that his campaign will be managed by former Judge Edward B. Casey, his close friend, law partner, and former classmate.

Carr Slated for Sheriff.

Reports yesterday were that the remainder of the ticket will be as follows:

SHERIFF—Leo E. Carr, 1942 nominee for this office, former chief of the state highway police.

CORONER—Dr. Alex J. Prominski, 12th ward, physician, officer in World War I., manufacturer of waterproofing chemicals.

RECORDER—Raymond J. Peacock, 39th ward committeeman, owner of a string of neighborhood newspapers, who has been his party's nominee for congress and county assessor in recent years.

APPELLATE COURT CLERK—Herbert G. Immenhausen, 45th ward, active in boy welfare work, who was Municipal court judge from 1924 to 1930.

Wescott for Court Clerk.

CIRCUIT COURT CLERK—L. A. Wescott, Oak Park committeeman, a master in chancery of this court.

SUPERIOR COURT CLERK—Laddie T. Pelnar of Berwyn, in charge of state sales tax collection, who organized the country townships of Cook county for Gov. Green in the 1940 primary.

SANITARY DISTRICT TRUSTEE [vacancy]—Walter E. McCarron of Oak Park, general manager of the Illinois Motor Truck Operators association, a war veteran.

SANITARY DISTRICT TRUSTEE—Louis N. Blumenthal, 49th ward, veteran of World War I., a former assistant state's attorney who prosecuted Martin Durkin for the murder of a government agent.

SANITARY DISTRICT TRUSTEE—Dr. J. B. Martin, 2d ward, owner of the Chicago Giants baseball team and president of the Negro American league. He was nominated for county commissioner in 1942.

SANITARY DISTRICT TRUSTEE—Matthew Lanahan, financial secretary of local 134, Electrical Workers union.

Seek to Represent All.

In this slate, it was said, the subcommittee attempted to represent various elements of the population geographically and racially.

Reports indicate the slating of Dempsey for state's attorney is putting ginger in the downstate campaign. The move shows Cook county G. O. P. leaders really expect to win there, downstaters said.

Meanwhile, Democratic activity was quickening despite the silence of State's Atty. Thomas J. Courtney in the face of efforts of downstate prosecutors to draft him to run for governor. Failure to have top candidates in the field is hampering downstate Democrats in lining up their own county tickets. Potential candidates for congress in some instances are holding back until they know who will support them on the state ticket.

Albert J. Horan, now the No. 2 man in the regular Democratic organization here, was asked by 30 downstate leaders to run for governor. The late Gov. Horner is still a hero to them and they recalled that Horan broke with the Cook county machine in 1936 to aid Horner, altho at that time Horan was chairman of the executive committee in the regular organization.

Horan is chief bailiff of the Municipal court and is in the insurance business.

Suggest Hughes' Brother.

Another idea aimed at breaking the Democratic log jam is to run Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes' brother, William, for this important office. Secretary Hughes has refused to be a candidate, but the Democrats are loath to part with a name of demonstrated appeal. "Bill" Hughes works in the secretary of state's office and resembles him in appearance and manner.

PLAYGROUND AID RESIGNS; DENIES HE HIT CHILDREN

Joseph Stephan Stoeber, suspended last month as a playground instructor at Gallistel school, 10347 Ewing avenue, has resigned, Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, announced yesterday.

A board of education hearing had been set for tomorrow, on charges that Stoeber used profanity before children and hit them with a rubber hose.

Stoeber said he might have used mild profanity, but not often. He admitted carrying the hose, but said it was for protection against older boys. He said he never struck a child with it.

Stoeber is 58 years old. He lives at 4950 Fletcher street.

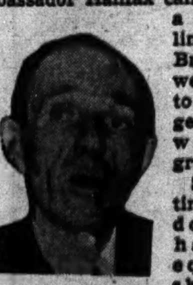
HALIFAX CALLS FOR NEW PEACE TIES IN EMPIRE

Would Make It One of 4 Big Powers.

TORONTO, Ont., Jan. 24 (AP).—Ambassador Halifax called tonight for a closer post-war linking of the British commonwealth of nations to make up together one of the world's four great powers.



Ambassador Halifax.

Saying that the tiny United Kingdom "could hardly claim equal partnership" with giants like the United States, Russia, and China, the British ambassador to the United States thus specified "the need as I see it":

"If in the future Britain is to play her part, without assuming burdens greater than she can support, she must have behind her in peace the same strength that has sustained her in this war.

Seen As Aid to Peace.

"Not Great Britain only, but the British commonwealth and empire must be the fourth power in that group upon which, under Providence, the peace of the world will henceforth depend."

Halifax spoke at the centenary dinner of the Toronto Board of Trade.

The dominions, he recalled, swiftly followed the mother country into war in 1939, altho "in fact as well as in theory, they were entirely uncommitted."

Urges Wider Sharing.

"When the history of these fateful days is written," he continued, "I do not doubt that the unshaken stanchness of the commonwealth will be recognized as a decisive factor. If once again Britain was 'a bulwark for the cause of men,' it was because she was so stoutly buttressed."

Looking ahead he called for "a common foreign policy expressed not by a single voice, but by the unison of many."

4TH TERM ISSUE HEATS UP ARMY BALLOT DEBATE

'As Long as He Lives'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Rep. Lambertson [R., Kas.], In commenting in the house today upon the Democratic national committee's request that President Roosevelt run again, charged that the President intends to be "President as long as he lives and the national emergency will last as long as he is president."

"If people want their boys and girls to stay in uniform and on foreign fields, even if hostilities cease, if they want rationing to continue and multiply, bureaus to continue and multiply, they should make this thing possible," he said.

BY LAURENCE BURD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Navy Secretary Knox and War Secretary Stimson were charged today by Sen. Taft [R., O.] with "running for a fourth term" and taking a "partisan" stand before congress in support of the New Deal's plan for federal regulation of soldier balloting in this year's elections.

Taft's charges, which brought Democratic senators to the defense of the two cabinet members, both former Republicans, were made before the senate as that body reopened consideration of service men's voting legislation.

Touching off the exchange were remarks by Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.], sponsor of a bill similar to one already defeated in the senate, which provides federal instead of state supervision of service balloting. Lucas cited statements by Knox and Stimson to the effect that the army and navy cannot handle distribution of ballots "from every state in the union," but that they could distribute uniform federal ballots. The Lucas bill provides for federal ballots covering only federal offices and carrying no names of candidates.

Charges Partisan Attitude.

"The truth is," Taft interjected, "that from the beginning the army and navy have been determined to have federal ballots. They have been determined not to have state ballots. Every statement they have made has been to that effect.

"In my opinion Secretaries Knox and Stimson are today running for a fourth term. . . . It is only natural that men who have the responsibility they have are convinced that their continuance in office is essential to the welfare of the world and of this country.

"They have assumed a partisan position in connection with this bill and I do not believe what they say regarding the inability of the war and navy departments to transmit the [state] ballots to soldiers thruout the world."

Rips Weight Argument.

Taft then turned to the Knox-Stimson contention that the army and navy can send by air mail only ballots weighing eight-tenths of an ounce or less. Estimating the average weight of state ballots at two ounces, Taft computed that 4 million ballots for overseas personnel would weigh only 250 tons.

"I challenge the assertion of the army and navy," the Ohio senator continued, "that they cannot carry by air 250 tons of ballots."

Lucas professed to be "shocked" by Taft's fourth term charge at Knox and Stimson. He termed it "pure political poppycock of the highest type."

During the debate Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] asserted that 800,000 service men and women from Illinois would have a "maximum chance to vote complete ballots under recently revised legislation in that state, except for the "arbitrary" ruling by Knox and Stimson on the weight of the ballots.

Lucas Under Fire Again.

Lucas came under fire again when he asserted his bill would not transgress state supervision over voting as guaranteed in the Constitution, because, he said, local election officials could throw out the federal ballots if they were judged illegal under state laws.

"That means," commented Sen. Revercomb [R., W. Va.], "that you are telling all the boys they can vote, but that their votes won't be counted. They should be assured by congress that they will get legal ballots. Such dual control, moreover, will mean contested elections in every state in the union."

Senate debate on the measure will continue tomorrow, and the house is expected to consider its pending bill Wednesday.

7TH DISTRICT'S LABOR FORCES ENTER POLITICS

Members of the United Labor and Community Political Action committee from the 7th congressional district met last night in Wicker Park hall, 2040 North avenue, to set up ward and precinct organizations.

J. R. Robertson, 7th district executive secretary, who presided, said that, tho the committee is affiliated with the CIO political action committee, it will also try to work with units of the AFL, the railway brotherhoods, and civic organizations.

Similar meetings have been scheduled for the 6th district tonight at 3500 Douglas boulevard; the 2d district, Thursday, Jan. 27, at 3025 East 91st street; the 9th district, Jan. 30 in Viking temple, 3257 Sheffield avenue, and the 10th district, Feb. 18 in the Assyrian church at Hazel street and Sunnyside avenue.

$900 IN CIGARETS MISSING FROM RED CROSS UNIT

Fritz R. Vespermann, superintendent of the American Red Cross Packing center No. 2 at 349 West Ontario street, reported to police yesterday that nine cases of cigarets valued at $900 were missing from the center.

The cigarets, Vespermann said, were intended for Red Cross kits for American prisoners overseas. He said there were no indications that burglars had broken into the center.

An employe of the Milwaukee railroad, James O'Connor, reported to police Saturday that he found 50 cartons and 50 packages of cigarets scattered in a lot at 348 West Ohio street.

CIO TO REVEAL ITS 1944 PURGE VICTIMS TODAY

BY GUY GENTRY.

Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO political action committee, said he would make public today at the conclusion of the two day meeting of 12 of the 14 regional directors a list of senators and representatives to be "purged" by the committee in the 1944 elections.

Membership of the list will be based on records in congress on post-Pearl Harbor isolationism, those who aided in defeat of the Green-Lucas soldier vote bill and congressional members with general anti-labor records.

Work in Both Parties.

The committee meeting yesterday and today, Hillman said, is to perfect a political machine, working thru both major parties, that will go into every ward and precinct of the country to register at least 14 million voters for this year's election.

Hillman pointed to the 28 million who voted in 1942, compared with 50 million in 1940, and said it would be the first purpose of the political action committee to overcome this apathy and register as many men and women as possible. The committee is aiming at a goal of at least $5,000,000 with which to carry out its political program.

Seeks "Profiteer's Paradise."

In a press conference yesterday Hillman was particularly critical of a "reactionary coalition of Republicans and Democrats" who had defeated the Green-Lucas bill and had thus "disfranchised 10 million fighting men and women."

The same group that defeated the soldier vote bill, Hillman charged, is opposed to price control and an equitable tax program and is "seeking a profiteer's paradise."

Hillman declined to comment on an attack by the Better Government Association of Chicago in which the CIO political program was described as "Class war—brother against brother."

"Every citizen, regardless of party, and particularly every member of a labor union, should consider the sinister implications of the announced intentions of certain CIO leaders to dominate the government of this country thru organized control of politics," stated the letter issued by J. A. Cobbey, president, and Fred W. Blaisdell, executive director of the association.

Rap Labor Aspirations.

"Their plan has been publicly proclaimed, boldly and boastfully. They claim they will elect presidents, senators and representatives, elect governors and state legislators—all pledged to do their bidding. The next step of course would be the control of the appointive judiciary. These labor leaders aspire to be the government.

"This ambitious dream has more substance than most citizens realize. These men have laid their plans well. They have their 'war chest'—the present estimated figure is $5,000,000—diverted from dues of their members. Their organization chart reaches into every ward and precinct. They are hiring the knowledge and experience of practical politicians of a sort, some of whom are resigning positions of importance in the present administration to serve these new masters."

CHIEF OF POLICE AT STONE PARK WOUNDS MAN, 27

Lester Cook, chief of police at Stone Park, last night shot Howard Deegan, 27 years old, a bus driver, when Deegan allegedly swung at him with an ax after he had arrested him for causing a disturbance at the home of his brother, E. J. Deegan, at 1713 North 37th avenue, Stone Park. The wounded man, whose home is at 8210 West 44th street, Lyons, was taken to County hospital. He was shot in the groin and his condition is serious.

Cook went to the Deegan home, he said, in response to a call from Mrs. Deegan that several men were fighting. At the door, he said, Howard Deegan hit him in the face with a whisky bottle. He was walking to his car with Deegan, he said, when the man snatched the ax and swung. Miss Grace Roncho, 21, of 1709 37th avenue, corroborated his story, police said.

The wounded man's wife, Agnes, asserted, however, that Cook hit her husband without provocation and then shot him. She said she would ask the Morton Grove police to issue a complaint for Cook's arrest.

DROP BAD CHECK CHARGE AGAINST AVIATION CADET

Charges against Warren Schmikel, 23 years old, an absent without leave aviation cadet, of passing bad checks totaling $500, were dismissed yesterday by Judge Joseph H. McGarry in Felony court on recommendation of Maurice Mettle, assistant state's attorney. Schmikel was taken to the Warren avenue lockup of the army air forces, where he will face a military court. He was arrested Jan. 12. He has been AWOL from a training depot in Moorehead, Minn., since Nov. 11.

JURY QUESTIONS MYSTERY MAN ON HOPKINS LETTER

'Not Going to Be Thrown to Wolves,' He Says.

BY JOHNSON KANADY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—George N. Briggs, erstwhile aid to Interior Secretary Ickes and mystery man of the Hopkins letter affair, today told reporters that he "shan't be thrown to the wolves" as he prepared to testify before a federal grand jury.

Briggs appeared before the grand jury this morning. He submitted to an interview, but refused to offer any light on the "Hopkins letter" matter.

According to C. Nelson Sparks, author of "One Man—Wendell Willkie," Briggs acted as agent for Ickes in obtaining at first a copy and then a purported original of the celebrated letter for publication in Sparks' book.

Letter Branded Fraud.

The letter has been denounced as a fraud by Harry Hopkins, Presidential confidant, who was said to have written it, and by Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, who is supposed to have received it. The justice department has said that the "original" of the letter, which Sparks says he received from Ickes thru Briggs, is a forgery. That announcement was made after Briggs' typewriters had been seized from Ickes' office.

In the face of this, Briggs retained as counsel James D. C. Murray, one of New York's leading criminal attorneys, before voluntarily visiting the grand jury today.

Briggs asserted Sen. Langer [R., N. D.], who in a speech in the senate disclosed Briggs' connection with the letter mystery, is "throwing me to the wolves." To this he added, "But I shan't be thrown to the wolves."

Silent on "Intrigue."

He did not say whether by this he means he will disclose any knowledge he may have of intrigue in the high command of the New Deal.

The letter which has caused all the furor reads:

"Dear Umphrey:

"What has been done in the [word blocked out] matter? Will you write me, please. What developments in the other situation? Willkie is going to be the man, in my opinion, and I can promise you good coöperation from that quarter if you think it would be helpful.

"Sincerely yours,
[Signed] HARRY HOPKINS."

Among the varied interpretations put on the letter in Washington have been those that it is a move to "get Hopkins," that it is designed to "get Ickes," that it shows, as Sparks contends, that Roosevelt wants Willkie for a Presidential opponent this year, or that Hopkins is "playing both sides of the fence," expecting either Roosevelt or Willkie to be President next year.

Rejects Lee Question.

Asked today whether he knows Dr. Lee, Briggs said abruptly, "I won't answer that."

Briggs said he met Ickes thru Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago, and added that "Mayor Kelly now probably will deny he ever heard of me."

Briggs declared he is not a "mystery man," and said he couldn't understand why it has been said that he was missing.

"They had the FBI trailing me night and day," he said.

He said he hasn't seen Ickes since the Ickes-Briggs angle in the story was disclosed by Langer.

"Power Politics."

"Langer doesn't like Willkie, just like a lot of other Republicans," Briggs said. "Langer doesn't like Hopkins. He doesn't like Ickes because Ickes as public works administrator had Langer impeached when Langer was governor of North Dakota.

"This is my first taste of power politics. I'll have to acquire a taste for it, like olives. A lot of men in power politics seem to like it. I don't."

Henry A. Schweinhaut and G. Maynard Smith, special assistants to the attorney general who are handling the "Hopkins letter" probe, which was initiated by Hopkins, declined to comment on future action after Briggs testified. There was no indication whether Briggs' testimony today completed the case.

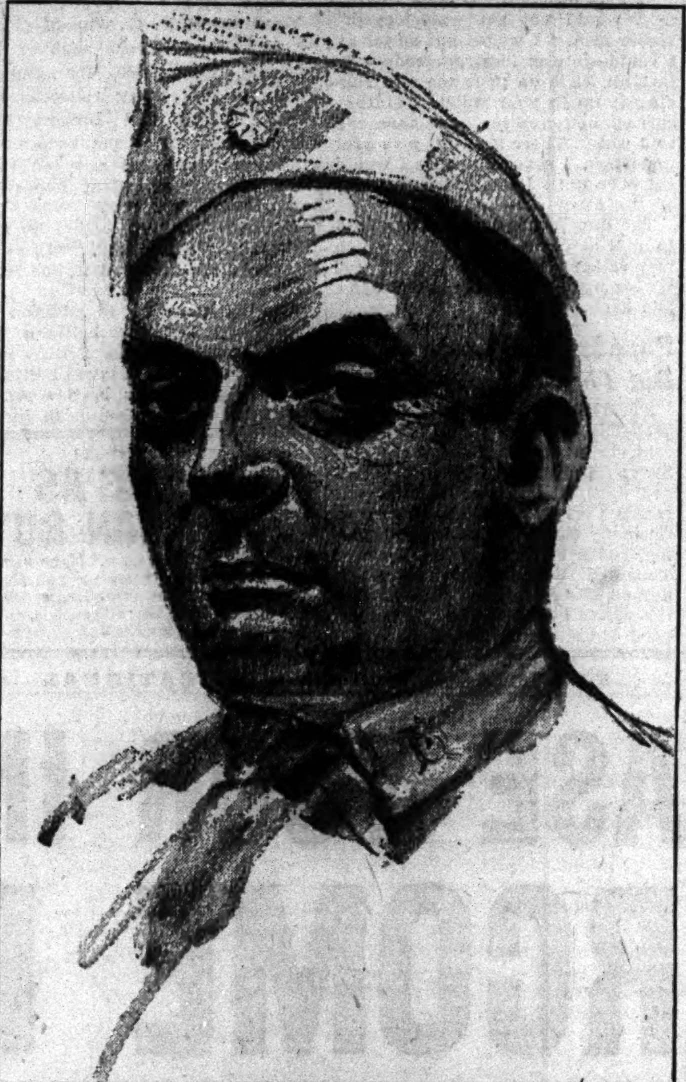
Quartermaster Major in Pacific



Tribune Artist Gary Sheahan's sketch of Maj. O. M. Jonas, army quartermaster corps, done in the Southwest Pacific.

Maj. O. Michel Jonas of the army quartermaster corps, who was sketched recently in the Southwest Pacific by Gary Sheahan, Tribune staff artist, is a veteran of 19 years service in the army, 15 months of which were spent overseas in World War I.

After World War I., in which he served as a machine gunner with the army air force in England, Jonas remained in the reserves. From 1934 to 1941, when he was called to army duty, he was commander of civilian conservation corps camps in Wisconsin and Illinois. He was sent to the South Pacific last fall.

Maj. Jonas' wife, Elsie, and their daughters, Kathryn, 21 years old, Eunella, 18, and Patricia, 12, live at 4296 South 27th street, Milwaukee. In a recent letter, Maj. Jonas told of meeting his neighbor, Lt. Lloyd Miller, 4278 South 27th street, in Australia.

Two Raids Bag 51 Jap Planes; Bomb Six Marshall Islands

Biggest 1944 Success

ADVANCED HDQ. IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 25 [Tuesday] (AP).—Hundreds of allied planes bombing Wewak and Rabaul scored their biggest success of 1944 by shooting down at least 51 and probably 65 Nipponese planes Saturday and Sunday.

The sky successes raised above 300 the total of enemy plane losses this month in the Pacific.

More than 100 American planes gave Rabaul its 27th bombing of the last 33 days. Mitchells, escorted by Corsairs, Thunderbolts, and Lightnings, smashed the Lakunai airfield's runway and and revetments.

18 Japs Shot Down.

Seventy Japanese planes intercepted. Eighteen were shot down and two others were listed as probables.

Sunday, the 5th air force sent a big force of Liberators against Wewak to attack anti-aircraft positions at Cape Moren and Boram. The Liberators were attacked at 19,000 feet by 50 Japanese fighters.

The bombers, busy spilling 105 tons of bombs which silenced 18 gun positions, shot down 12 of the Nipponese and had eight probables. The escorting fighters got 21 and four probables.

Thirteen allied planes were lost in the Wewak and Rabaul operations. That made the officially acknowledged allied air losses this month more than 80, with 50 at Rabaul.

Aussies Cut Off Japs.

In the New Guinea Ramu valley, where an Australian force opened a drive Friday aimed at Madang, 40 miles north, headquarters reported that Japanese in one area were cut off from retreat except down a precipitous mountain side.

The Aussies have taken positions on Shaggy ridge and hold all ridge trails in the area. Enemy field guns and considerable ammunition were captured. The immediate objective of the drive appears to be Bogadjim, a strong defense outpost for Madang.

Sunday night Liberator bombers ranging over the Bismarck sea near Kavieng, New Ireland, spotted two ships and caused bomb damage to a 7,000 ton Japanese freighter.

On the western end of New Britain, American patrols of the invasion force at Borgen Bay pushed into enemy territory Sunday aided by Boston attack planes.

New Targets Pounded

PEARL HARBOR, T. H., Jan. 24 (AP).—Army and navy bombers ranged over the Marshall Islands Jan. 22 and 23, striking at six separate atolls in nine raids, the most widespread bombing of these enemy bases since the allied Central Pacific offensive opened in mid-November.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed five enemy ships were damaged, including one large cargo ship. Six Japanese planes were shot down and ground installations were heavily strafed and bombed.

Six atolls struck Saturday were the most ever raided in a single day. Eighty-five Japanese fighters attempted to intercept the bombers, but the Americans suffered no plane losses except on one mission, on which losses were described as "small." Six Jap planes were shot down, six more possibly destroyed, and eight damaged.

Hit Two New Targets.

Two new targets, Kaven Island in Maloelap atoll and Ailinglapalap atoll, between Jaluit and Kwajalein, were hit for the first time. At Kaven ground installations were bombed and strafed. Twenty-five enemy fighters intercepted. Two were shot down and a third crippled.

Navy planes bombed two small vessels at Ailinglapalap Jan. 22 without loss. One of the vessels apparently had been beached, the navy said. Wotje was raided by medium bombers which damaged a cargo ship and a small oiler. Airdrome installations also were bombed and strafed.

Liberators and navy Venturas scored bomb hits on installations at a seaplane base and in a cantonment at Emidj [Imieji] Island in Jaluit atoll the afternoon of Jan. 22.

Jap Cantonment Hit.

Mili atoll and Roi Island in Kwajalein atoll were hit by army heavy bombers that evening. Air field facilities were bombed and several grounded bombers damaged at Roi. When more than a dozen enemy fighters attacked American gunners shot down one, possibly four others.

Bombers hit the cantonment area at Mili, which has been raided 13 times this month. Near Kwajalein Jan. 23 navy search planes bombed and severely damaged a large cargo ship.

Fifty enemy fighters were encountered at Taroa in Maloelap atoll in two raids by Mitchell bombers Jan. 23, with 25 attacking each strike. Three fighters were shot down, two others believed downed and four were damaged.

TRIBUNE AWARD NO. 18 WON BY POLISHING TRICK

In a west side Chicago industrial district is a big war smithy—the plant of the Kropp Forge company at 5301 Roosevelt road. There dozens of mighty forging hammers—some weigh many tons—pound or compress pieces of white hot steel into forged steel shapes, later machined into parts for airplanes and aviation engines; for tanks, even for warships.

Vital parts of the forging hammers are the piston rods.

Worker Solves Problem.

Altho made of the toughest nickel alloy steel, continuous heavy pounding all too often caused the piston rods to break—a mishap expensive in itself, but much more expensive in war production lost.

The Kropp company had among its workers one who found a way to reduce greatly the breakage in piston rods. For that achievement, The Chicago Tribune War Workers' Award for December—the 18th—will be conferred tonight upon Gustave E. Carlson, for 16 years an employe of the Kropp company, which is one of the few companies to have been awarded the Army-Navy E four times.

Presentation of the award—symbolized by a diamond studded gold pin—will be made at 8:30 p. m. on radio station W-G-N by Lt. Melvin H. Lanphar, district industrial incentive officer for the navy, with headquarters in Chicago.

Polishing Process Developed.

Carlson developed a polishing and lapping process which gives a mirrorlike finish to piston rods made for replacement purposes in the Kropp company's machine shops. It had been found that even the faintest scratch on the surface of a piston rod caused a flaw that led eventually to the rod's destruction.

Carlson developed a clamp in which wooden blocks, cut to the size of the diameter of the piston rod to be polished, are fitted. Lining the blocks are pieces of belt leather to which are applied the emery cloth that does the polishing. Thomas J. Lane, shop superintendent, found that Carlson's process speeded the polishing time, reduced accidents, and increased precision.

Breakage Reduced 65 Per Cent.

Most important, Lane said, was a reduction of the number of piston rods broken by about 65 per cent. Previously the cost of breakage per year ranged to about $780,000 in money and 2,340 hours of labor. Thus the annual savings thru a 65 per cent reduction in breakage should exceed $507,000.

Carlson lives at 1207 Ogden avenue, Lisle, with his wife, Margaret, and four children, Robert, 13; Margaret, 11; Astrid, 7, and Beatrice, 6. He was born in Sweden in 1889 and became a naturalized American in 1919 after having served as a mechanic in the 222d Aero Squadron with the AEF during World War I.

Carlson's advice to war workers to help them to do a better job for the war is this: When in the shop, think shop; when out of the shop, forget the shop. This will help you keep your mind on your job in the shop.

NLRB ORDERS ELECTION.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 [A. P.].—The national labor relations board has ordered an election within 30 days among employes of the Baldor Manufacturing company, Greenville, Ill., to determine if they wish to be represented in collective bargaining by the United Steel Workers of America, CIO affiliate. The company is engaged in war work.

CHICAGO FLYER BACK AFTER 211 PACIFIC MISSIONS

Capt. B. A. Makowski.

Capt. Bernard A. Makowski, 23 years old, who has flown 211 combat missions in the South Pacific in the last 20 months, came home on leave yesterday to visit his father, Casimir, at 3245 Le Moyne street. Later he will report to an east coast base for reassignment.

Capt. Makowski, who has put in more than 400 hours in combat flying, most of it from advanced bases in New Guinea, has one Zero to his credit. He has been awarded the distinguished flying cross with one cluster, the air medal with oak leaf cluster and holds a Presidential citation. He was graduated from Lane Tech in 1938 and enlisted in the army in July, 1940. He became an air cadet in December, 1941.

He says his narrowest escape came the day his motor went dead while returning from a mission. He crashed just after getting back to the American lines and got away from his plane just before it blew up.

DIES OF POISON WHILE HIS WIFE WAITS IN COURT

Shortly before he was scheduled to appear in Felony court yesterday on four charges of auto theft, John J. Mecher, 23 years old, 2556 Kimball avenue, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in a car parked in front of 2645 Kimball avenue. A hose from the exhaust led into the car.

The automobile in which he died was stolen Sunday night from in front of the Palmer House. It belonged to J. M. Bergold, a navy lieutenant.

Unaware of her husband's death, his wife, Dorothy, was in Felony court when her husband's case was called, waiting for him to appear.

Swiss to Call Men 19 for Army Duty This Year

BERNE, Switzerland, Jan. 24 (AP).—A great part of Switzerland's 19 year old men will be called up for military training this year, in addition to regular contingents, because of "the necessities of the hour," the government announced today. In Switzerland army training normally starts at 20.

LIGHT RAINFALL BRINGS RELIEF IN LONG DROUTH

Intermittent light rains thruout the Mississippi valley yesterday brought some relief from the winter drouth that has threatened crops of late sown grains, and hay and pasture crops.

Forecaster G. L. Canaday said more rain is expected today with precipitation reaching as much as one-quarter inch. He said the rain will not turn to snow for another two or three days.

Earlier Forecaster H. L. Jacobson had predicted rains thruout sections of the north central states. In the earlier hours, steady rains were recorded in Des Moines, Ia., and Minneapolis, Minn.

Sign of Drouth's End.

Some rain also was predicted for Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Indiana. Both forecasters said it was the first sign the winter drouth was ending. Precipitation was reported relatively light, but word from many sections was "it looks like more and heavier rain."

All predictions were that whatever rain developed would continue thruout the forenoon today.

While forecasts for Missouri predicted rain in the west and north and showers also were expected in the eastern part of Kansas, only the extreme southeastern part of Nebraska was promised relief. Nebraska generally has been suffering most from the extreme and unseasonal dryness.

Sunny Midwinter Recorded.

The rainfall put an end to almost two months of the sunniest midwinter weather in the middle west in years. So far, it has been the sunniest January since 1924, and last December was the brightest in the 73 years the local weather bureau has operated. In January the sun shone 56 per cent of the time, compared with a normal 45 per cent; in December, 59 per cent instead of the normal 40 per cent.

The mild temperatures continued yesterday. At 3:10 p. m., it was 49.8. Highest temperature on a Jan. 24 was in 1909, when it reached 62 degrees; lowest was Jan. 24, 1897—15 below zero.

INQUEST DEFERRED.

A coroner's jury yesterday deferred until Feb. 24 an inquest into the death of John Simpson, 45 years old, 219 South Woods street, a watchman for the Goldsmith Pickle company, 4941 South Racine avenue, who was beaten fatally by thieves in the factory Saturday. They took $200 from a box.

U. S. REFUSES RECOGNITION OF BOLIVIA REGIME

Calls Ambassador Home; Assails Rebel Rule.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—The United States government today officially linked the new revolutionary regime in Bolivia with "subversive groups hostile to the allied cause" and refused to do business with it.

Ambassador Boal.

Referring to the La Paz regime as the "present revolutionary junta," the state department announced that Ambassador Boal has been directed to return to this country.

[Venezuela and Peru yesterday joined Uruguay, Cuba, and the United States in refusing to recognize the rebel regime in Bolivia. London dispatches indicated Great Britain would do likewise, and the Brazilian foreign office counseled against recognition.]

May Apply Sanctions.

For the time being, economic sanctions or other positive measures designed to put the Bolivian regime further on an international hot spot are not being undertaken, but they remain available to this and coöperating American governments for use if necessary.

The United States had obtained a large part of its tin supply from Bolivia under a five year contract signed in November, 1940. This contract gave this country about half of Bolivia's tin output and the British get the other half. The United States also imports rubber, tungsten, and quinine from Bolivia.

The United States formerly had a lend-lease arrangement with the prerevolutionary Bolivian government, but that was automatically stopped when the new regime took over. On the other hand, the Bolivian Development corporation, set up with both Bolivian and United States capital in 1942, still is functioning in that country as far as is known here.

Hits Subversive Actions.

The text of the state department's statement follows in part:

"This government has been aware that subversive groups hostile to the allied cause have been plotting disturbances against the American government operating in defense of the hemisphere against axis aggression.

"On Dec. 20, 1943, the Bolivian government was overthrown by force under circumstances linking this action with the subversive groups above mentioned.

"The most important and urgent question arising from this development in Bolivia is the fact that this is but one act committed by a general subversive movement having for its purpose steadily expanding activities on the continent. These developments, viewed in the light of the information the American republics have been exchanging among themselves, dispose negatively of the matter of this government's recognizing the present revolutionary junta by La Paz.

"This government is confident that the freedom-loving people of the American republics, including those of Bolivia, who have the good will of the government and people of the United States, will understand that this decision is taken in furtherance of the aforesaid purpose."

HIT "U. S. IMPERIALISM."

Victor Paz Estenssoro, leader of a nationalist revolutionary movement, installed himself in the presidential palace on Dec. 20 after Maj. Gualberto Villarroel took over the government. Paz Estenssoro was jailed in 1941 by the government of Gen. Enrique Penaranda, whom he replaced in the recent coup. At that time the Penaranda government charged Paz Estenssoro with participation in a plot by Ernest Wendler, German minister to Bolivia, to provide a communications channel to Germany.

Paz Estenssoro and his associates had frequently attacked foreign ownership of Bolivian tin mines and "United States imperialism."

REPORT BATTLE RAGES AT SERBIA, BOSNIA BORDER

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—The Budapest, Hungary, radio said tonight that 25,000 Jugo-Slav Partisans had attempted to break from Bosnia into Serbia, where they were engaged by axis troops, and that fierce fighting was in progress.

Earlier a statement broadcast from the headquarters of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz said the Germans in an effort to capture a Croat coastal town 35 miles south of Fiume were recklessly throwing men and material into the battle with Partisan forces.

King Peter of the Jugo-Slav government in exile was quoted in a dispatch from Cairo as saying that his one desire was to return to Jugo-Slavia and take an active part in the fighting.

REVEAL BRITISH GENERALS FLED PRISON IN ITALY

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—Three high ranking officers, Lieutenant Generals Philip Neame and Richard O'Connor and Air Marshal O. T. Boyd, were among thousands of British prisoners who escaped from Italian prison camps after the Italian surrender last September, it was disclosed today. The three officers have reached England. The generals were captured near Derna in 1941 and Boyd was taken after a forced landing in 1940. All were at a camp five miles from Florence when Italy surrendered. Details of their escape were not disclosed.

MOUNTBATTEN NAMES TWO TO LEAD ASIA DRIVE

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—Two veteran British campaigners have been named to lead armies under Adm. Louis Mountbatten's southeast Asia command, the war office announced today.

Gen. George Gifford, 57, a veteran of more than 30 years in British colonial armies, was appointed commander in chief of an army group. Lt. Gen. W. J. Slim, who fought under Gen. Harold Alexander in the first Burma campaign, was named to lead the 14th army.

Chinese Gain in Burma.

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 24 (AP).—Chinese troops have captured Mingru Ga in their offensive across the Hukawng valley in northern Burma designed to clear the way for the new Ledo supply road into China, allied southeast Asia headquarters announced today.

Argentina Calls Envoys; Nod to U. S. Expected

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Jan. 24 (AP).—Foreign Minister Alberto Gilbert conferred today with United States Ambassador Norman Armour, British Ambassador David Victory Kelly, and the German charge d'affairs, Erich Otto Meynen, and later promised correspondents "important news" tomorrow. The general belief was that Argentina was planning an important rapprochement move toward the United States.

ROCKFORD YANK FIGHTS FOR LIFE IN RAPIDO RIVER

BY HAL BOYLE.

WITH THE 5TH ARMY AT THE RAPIDO RIVER, Italy, Jan. 23 [Delayed] (AP).—"What burns me up most is that those damned jerries got my knapsack with my wife's picture in it," growled Staff Sgt. William C. Weber of St. Mary's, Pa.

It made him so angry he almost swam back to retrieve the knapsack after he had forded the swirling Rapido river carrying a lifeline that enabled him to save six companions stranded with him when a powerful German counter-attack destroyed an American bridgehead.

"Had a Real Workout."

"But here is a guy who had a real workout," the husky blond sergeant said, turning to Pvt. Harry W. Lund, Rockford, Ill., one of those who came out alive with him from that Teutonic inferno.

The two, who had just finished drying their clothing, were crouched in a dugout on a hill only a few score yards from the bank of the Rapido—and they were fit for battle altho they had returned from the other side only a few hours previously.

"We figured the best way back after the situation became hopeless was over one of the pontoon bridges not knocked out," Lund said. "We found the bridge all right, but it was half sunk out in the middle of the river. I tied a rope around me and swam out and tied it to the bridge. Then we tried to pull it into position. We couldn't because one section was four feet under water.

"I tied a piece of communications wire around me and set out again. This time I tried to swim to the other side, but I was tired and might have drowned if the boys hadn't hauled me back. Then Sgt. Weber said he would try it."

"I took off all the clothes I could so I would not get waterlogged," Weber said. "I waded out as far as I could—it was like somebody putting an icicle on your toe and running it up to your waist. But that current bothered me more than the cold water. There also was an awful undertow. I never was sure I would get over until I finally crawled out on the other side."

The line Weber brought was used to pull across a heavier one which was secured and then the six and Weber made their way to the opposite bank.

Pope Spurns Renewed Nazi Bid That He Leave Rome

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 24 (AP).—The newspaper Aftontidninger said in a dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland today that Pope Pius had declined renewed German proposals that he go to some city in Germany because of the allied landing south of Rome. The German controled Scandinavian telegraph bureau said in a Rome dispatch that the pope's guard has been strengthened since the landing.

BRITISH-INDIAN RELATIONS HELD AT LOWEST EBB

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Dr. Syud Hossain, chairman of the National Committee for India's Freedom, said today relations between British and Indians had reached their lowest point since the mutiny of 1857 and asserted that he would ask President Roosevelt tomorrow to intervene.

Nothing less than action by the President, Hossain said, "will avail to avert a possible catastrophe later on."

Hossain said that in addition to a political deadlock between national leaders and the British government, resentment toward British rule and policy has been accentuated by the recent famine in India.

INCREASE YOUR INCOME
OVERCOME FEAR
DEVELOP POISE, SELF-CONFIDENCE
SPEAK EFFECTIVELY

FREE LECTURE by Percy H. Whiting, Personal Representative of DALE CARNEGIE
in the MURAL ROOM of the MORRISON HOTEL
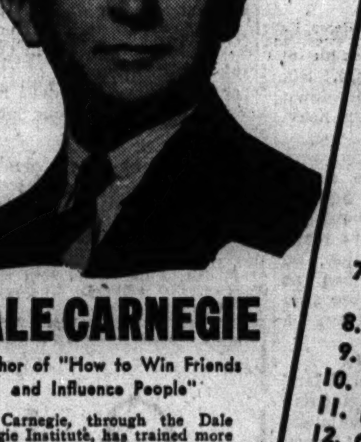
79 W. MADISON ST., between Dearborn and Clark
WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 26, at 8 P. M.



DALE CARNEGIE
Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

Dale Carnegie, through the Dale Carnegie Institute, has trained more business men and women to talk effectively than any other living man. During the past 32 years, more than 50,000 men and women have profited by Dale Carnegie courses in New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, Boston, London and Paris. Some of the most famous men in the nation have been trained by the Dale Carnegie Institute.

12 THINGS THIS TRAINING WILL HELP YOU DO . . .

1. PREPARE FOR LEADERSHIP in military and civil life.
2. THINK ON YOUR FEET and speak extemporaneously before business conferences, clubs, organizations, dinners.
3. DEVELOP COURAGE AND SELF-CONFIDENCE. Destroy fear. Cure an inferiority complex.
4. INCREASE YOUR POISE, polish and personal force both in business interviews and before groups.
5. "SELL" YOURSELF, YOUR SERVICES, your product, your enthusiasms.
6. WIN MORE FRIENDS by increasing your knowledge of practical psychology, your skill in human relations.
7. IMPROVE YOUR MEMORY, speak without notes and recall names and faces.
8. WRITE MORE EFFECTIVE LETTERS.
9. ENRICH YOUR COMMAND OF ENGLISH.
10. INSPIRE YOU WITH NEW IDEAS.
11. INCREASE YOUR INCOME.
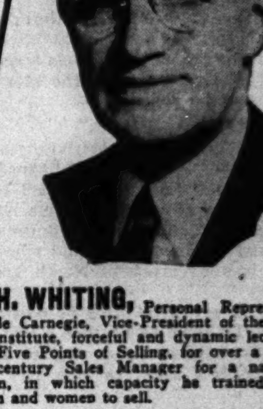
12. OUR ARMED FORCES. To a man going into the armed services this training is invaluable.



PERCY H. WHITING, Personal Representative of Dale Carnegie, Vice-President of the Dale Carnegie Institute, forceful and dynamic lecturer, author of Five Points of Selling, for over a quarter of a century Sales Manager for a national organization, in which capacity he trained over 72,000 men and women to sell.

HOW THIS COURSE IS CONDUCTED

You will meet one evening a week for sixteen weeks as one of a group of 40 business men and women.

These meetings will be held in private dining rooms of hotels or restaurants. Each group will be strictly limited to forty.

Your instructors will tell you what is right with your talk and what is wrong with it, and how to remedy and improve it. Every member of the class will write his suggestions for improving your talks; so when you finish, you will have the instructor's help and the comments of 39 of your fellow students. You will receive the helpful co-operation of your associates in the class.

As a result of this training you will soon develop courage and self-possession. You will learn to think on your feet. You will conquer fear; and "Fear," said Elbert Hubbard, "defeats more men than any other one thing in the world."

As the course progresses, you will be shown how to plan and prepare and construct your talks, how to illustrate your points, how to be clear, how to be entertaining, how to be impressive and convincing. You will be taught how to appear to advantage before a group, how to remember what you want to say, how to begin and how to end your talks.

If we described here all the things this training will do for you, it would sound like exaggeration. So we have prepared a booklet which outlines the benefits to be derived from this training, which will be given away at this meeting. In our files at 20 E. Jackson Blvd. are the names of hundreds of students who have taken this training. If you care to investigate, we will furnish you any or all of these names. You are invited to write or telephone them and discover for yourself precisely how they have profited by it.

MAKE YOURSELF QUICKLY AND FAVORABLY KNOWN

Theodore Alvy, Chief Engineer of La Cour Iron Works, attended monthly meetings of the American Association of Engineers for twelve years without being able to say a word. After completing this training, he arose at one of their meetings and spoke for twelve minutes.

"I made more friends," said Mr. Alvy, "and acquired more prestige by one twelve-minute talk than I had been able to do in a dozen years as a silent, inarticulate member."

Hundreds of other students have had similar experiences. So can you at meetings in your business or community.

YANK BAYONETS HALT NAZIS IN CASSINO BATTLE

Allies Push Ahead on New Rome Beachhead.

plies to American forces across the stream.

These troops, grappling at close range with the Germans entrenched in caves, pillboxes, and fortifications a few hundred yards from the river bank, fought desperately for hours until they ran out of ammunition. Then they were compelled to fall back across the river, and as they did so the Nazis opened a fierce counter-attack.

American rear guards, after spending their ammunition, held the charging Germans back at bayonet point while the greater part of the force withdrew to the east side of the Rapido. Reports from the front indicated that some of the grimmest fighting of the Italian campaign took place in this action.

British Hold to Positions.

In the coastal area the Germans waged other strong counter-attacks against bridgeheads the British have established across the Garigliano river, but failed to dislodge them. In the Sant' Elia sector some 25 miles inland the Nazis likewise smashed at the French, who, however, beat them back and made additional progress thru the mountains.

The allied command said these counter-attacks had cost the Nazis dearly and that heavy casualties continued to be inflicted.

The abandon with which the German command is flinging troops into the battle some 70 airline miles southeast of Rome is an indication of the high stakes of the game—and possibly of German desperation.

The allies likewise have taken a big gamble in landing in the Nettuno area, as there is a distance of perhaps 70 miles between the troops on the main front and those in the Nettuno region which must be taken before a junction can be established.

Fan Out from Beachhead.

Meanwhile, American and British troops south of Rome were taking full advantage of the absence of strong opposition there and were fanning out generally, adding to the length of their beachhead on both sides of Nettuno and penetrating farther inland.

The point where allied vanguards last were reported is only eight miles across flat land from the town of Cisterna, an important junction point of the Appian way and a lateral road running to Nettuno. A main railway line to Rome also runs thru Cisterna, which was one of the centers of the great Pontine marsh reclamation project carried out by the Fascists.

On the basis of official information here, allied troops are about 30 miles from the center of Rome. Since the start of the operation the allied command has shown reluctance in making any announcements concerning the position of landing troops. Much greater gains than those officially announced may have been made.

Move on German Rear.

A German broadcast heard here said allied forces were advancing from the Nettuno area toward Littoria. Such a push would take the allies directly away from Rome, but toward the rear of the Germans on the Cassino front.

[Italian patriots have at least temporarily cut the Rome-Cassino railroad, a Nazi supply line, near the scene of the new allied landings, the Bari [allied controled] radio said last night, adding that anti-Nazi patriots had intensified their activities since the allied forces seized the beachheads.]

The Nazi broadcast said no big battle had yet been joined in the landing region, but reported that in a minor clash an allied reconnaissance party bound toward Littoria was halted by a German detail and compelled to dig in.

Nettuno, apparent key point of the amphibious operation, is a small port of about 7,000 population, with an open anchorage off shore where deep draft vessels can be unloaded.

It has an airfield, but there yet was no indication whether allied planes had taken it over.

Harbor Facilities Intact.

Harbor installations were taken intact by the surprise allied landing, and supplies were reported pouring ashore both at the town and on the long stretches of beach on either side. Front line dispatches said another coastal town had been taken, but its name was not given.

The whole situation had developed into a race to see if the landing force could straddle both the Appian way and the Via Casilina, 10 miles farther inland, with sufficient strength to hold the Nazis when they lash back from the Cassino front.

It plainly was up to 5th army troops on the Cassino front not only to absorb the present Nazi assault, but to retain enough strength to prevent the Germans from disengaging entirely and throwing all their power against the allied beachhead.

[In London it was predicted that strong German counter-attacks against the bridgehead would be launched within a week by Nazi forces drawn both from the south and from northern Italy.]

Steady Pounding from Air.

Allied air forces kept up their steady pounding of enemy communications, while fighters and fighter bombers maintained a ceaseless patrol of the battle front. American flown Spitfires intercepted a force of 50 to 60 Junkers, Heinkels, and Messerschmitts as they attempted to bomb allied ships off the beaches and shot down six Nazi bombers.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Monday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin said:

"On the southern Italian [Cassino] front repeated strong enemy attacks launched over a wide front miscarried after heavy violent fighting. No major engagements have yet developed in the Nettuno beachhead.

"Enemy reconnaissance units were repelled. German aircraft attacked units of the enemy's landing fleet. One was destroyed and sunk for certain. Another probably was sunk.

"One cruiser and another small naval craft and a landing barge of 2,500 tons were hit. In the skies over Italy anti-aircraft and fighters brought down eight enemy planes."

How Allies Fare in Italian War

$30 WATCH STOLEN.

Three men who strong armed Henry Hall, 1536 West 67th street, at 62d street and Bishop avenue last night, robbed him of a watch valued at $30, he told police.

WOMAN GROCER ROBBED.

Mrs. Pauline Zolnerczuk, proprietor of a grocery at 1516 West 14th place, told police last night that two men robbed her of $65 in the grocery.

REPORT F. D. R. PLANE DESIGNED WITH ELEVATOR

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 24 [Special].—Elevator equipped and designed for comfortable traveling, a huge airplane now under construction at the Douglas plant is believed destined for the private use of President Roosevelt. Easy access to the passenger compartment is afforded by the elevator. A similar plane, but without the elevator, is being built for Navy Secretary Knox, it was reported.

YANKS BARGE IN BETWEEN NAZIS' CHANGE OF GUARD

BY DON WHITEHEAD.

[Associated Press Correspondent.]
[Representing the Combined U. S. Press.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY ON THE BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 25 (AP).—Italian civilians in a little town occupied by American troops said today the Germans never appeared much interested in this stretch of coast line and that those garrisoned in the town left last Tuesday.

[The town, unnamed in this dispatch, possibly is Nettuno, capture of which was announced yesterday.]

The civilians had another report that a battalion of the enemy was preparing to move in today, but the allied landing Saturday beat them to the punch.

Like Peace Time Maneuver.

This was my fourth trip on an amphibious operation, and I never saw anything equal the precision and ease with which the army and navy coördinated their efforts to put a strong force ashore and catch the enemy with no defenses prepared whatever.

German Field Marshal Albert Kesselring must be blushing tonight for his failure to plug the chinks in his coastal fortress. The landing was so smooth that an observer might have thought it was a peace time maneuver without even simulated opposition.

I landed with Bertram Brandt, photographer making his first amphibious landing. As we walked across the dunes, with enemy guns silent, he said:

"This is not right; I don't like it."

A doughboy turned and said, "It ain't right, all right, but I like it."

Chance to Save Many Lives.

We had expected strong opposition on landing, or, if not on the beaches, then from strong counter-attacks early in the morning, but neither of them developed.

This was in strong contrast to the grim expectancy of the men as we steamed over the calm sea on this mission to smash enemy resistance and speed allied entry into Rome.

Lt. Col. Lyle W. Bernard, commanding the unit to which I was attached, told his men that if they forced the Germans out by the landing "we'll save a great many lives, for the fighting around Cassino has been bloody business."

Apparently the allied moves were more cleverly concealed than any one had realized and the Germans had not anticipated an attack at this point.

FIRST COUNTER-ATTACK

BY HOMER BIGART.

[New York Herald Tribune correspondent representing the combined American press.]
[Distributed by the Associated Press.]

WITH THE 5TH ARMY ON A BEACHHEAD SOUTH OF ROME, Jan. 23 [Delayed]—(AP).—German reenforcements rushed down from Rome and counter-attacked positions along the southern bank of a canal late this morning in the first major resistance against the allied bridgehead below Rome.

They retook two bridges across the canal, including a bridge on the highway. They were driven from this important break at 1 p. m., but not before they had demolished the span. Late in the afternoon, the American forces attacked in an effort to regain the second bridge.

A few miles to the west, observation planes spotted a considerable force of Germans moving toward the canal. Enemy tanks appeared and at one point penetrated the bridgehead for almost a mile until artillery was rushed to the scene to drive them off.

The Germans had kept a few 75s a short distance north of Anzio and posted artillery observers on a hotel rooftop. The observers were asleep when landings began at the beaches. They cowered terrified in a hotel lobby until this afternoon, when they emerged and surrendered to British sailors.

No Further Advance.

At 6 p. m., hours after the landing, the beaches are still free from shellfire. Except in a small sector along the canal, the front remains quiet. There was no further advance by allied troops, altho one patrol went beyond the canal without contacting the enemy. The day passed with only one small air raid.

Light rain fell this afternoon, but the sea remained calm.

Brenda—Will You Step Out With Me Tonight?

I know I've been an awful grouch not taking you any place lately. But after standing all day at my new job, my feet darn near killed me with callouses and burning. Now I've reformed—or rather my feet have—thanks to the Ice-Mint you advised. Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast—and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money—so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

HEARING AIDS GIVE YOU GOOD HEARING UNDER ALL CONDITIONS
DON'T BE CONTENT WITH LIMITED RECEPTION

Of all the sound-transmission products in the world, the best known and the most widely used is surely the Bell Telephone. The two organizations which design and make it are Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric. So . . . WHO should know as much about SOUND and HEARING?

Through 61 years of intensive study of speech and hearing, these organizations have built up an unparalleled fund of highly specialized knowledge. Drawing upon their rich experience, they long ago created a fine instrument for testing hearing — the Western Electric Audiometer. More and more widely used the Western Electric Audiometers have pointed out hearing defects to many thousands.

Before you buy a hearing aid of any kind it is essential to have your hearing scientifically tested. No two ears are alike . . . and the proper hearing aid must be assembled to meet your individual requirements if you are to get the best hearing that's available to you.

Western Electric Hearing Aids will give you good hearing under all conditions. Don't be content with a hearing aid which merely amplifies sound.

PRESS SERVICE WRITER FLEES GERMAN PRISON

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—A smuggled dispatch received by International News Service today indicated that Lowell Bennett, 24 year old war correspondent, escaped from a German prison camp in December.

Lowell Bennett.

The dispatch, signed by Bennett, described his descent by parachute when the big British bombers which carried him on a raid against Berlin Dec. 2 was hit by anti-aircraft fire and burst into flames.

A letter received in London from Bennett last Friday disclosed he was alive and well but a prisoner of war. The letter was written Dec. 11. Twelve days later, apparently, Bennett wrote his dispatch and succeeded in having it sent to New York. It told of his escape from a prison camp near Berlin during a transfer and described him as hiding "somewhere inside Nazi Europe."

'80-PLUS' PLANE CARRIER TAKES FIRST DIP IN SEA

Quincy, Mass., Jan. 24 (AP).—The navy's newest aircraft carrier, the Hancock, slid down the ways today at the Fore river ship yard, from which her sister ships, the new flattops Lexington, Bunker Hill, and Wasp and other powerful warships have gone forth to war.

The original contract, let before the United States entered the war, called for completion of the Hancock in April, 1946. She was built on the same ways from which the Lexington was launched Sept. 26, 1942.

The carrier is listed by the navy as of the Essex class. She displaces more than 25,000 tons, and while her length, beam, and draft are secret, ships of the Essex type were listed as carrying "80-plus" aircraft.

CHILD'S SKULL FRACTURED.

Bernard Blake, 8 years old, 8517 Prairie avenue, suffered a skull fracture yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at 85th street and South Park avenue. The driver was Oscar Anderson, 424 West 100th place.

CANADA TO USE 5,000 GERMANS IN LUMBER CAMPS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WINNIPEG, Man., Jan. 24.—More than 5,000 German prisoners of war from the large internment camp near Lethbridge, Alta., have been assigned to work in lumbering camps of northern Alberta, Ontario, and Quebec, it was learned from reliable sources.

More than 1,000 German prisoners are now working in lumbering camps of northern Alberta, half of them near White Court and the others in the Lesser Slave lake area. They comprised the first working parties to be sent out.

About 400 more went to lumbering camps in the Thunder Bay regions north of Lake Superior Monday. The next movement will place 500 German captives in forests generally northeast of Quebec City. The prisoners are paid 50 cents for an eight hour day.

Edda Waits 2 Days to Cross Swiss Boundary

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CHIASSO, on the Swiss-Italian Frontier, Jan. 25 [Tuesday].—Countess Edda Ciano, whose husband, Count Galeazzo Ciano, son-in-law of Mussolini, was reported executed, entered Switzerland near Stabio, five miles west of Chiasso, on Jan. 9, it was revealed today. She waited two days at the frontier before finding an opportunity to cross the boundary. Countess Ciano came with her children from Varese.

FLYER SALUTES AIR COMRADE AS PLANE EXPLODES

U. S. LIBERATOR BASE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 24 (AP).—A squadron of Liberators, veterans of the raid on the Ploesti, Rumania, oil fields, ran into the fight of its career during Friday's attack on mystery targets in the Pas de Calais area of France.

Lt. Arthur R. Anderson.

This group encountered stiff opposition because it made five runs on the target to insure accurate bombing. Squadrons of Focke-Wulf 190s swooped in, time after time, knocking down six of the Liberators.

Lt. Arthur R. Anderson, Rockford, Ill., pilot of the "Heaven Can Wait," told how the pilot of another ship which was badly shot up saluted him. "It seemed as if he knew he was gone," Anderson said. "Just after he saluted me his plane exploded—I'll never forget it."

Among the gunners in the group was Sgt. George McAlester of Chili, Ind.

RUSSIANS SEVER GERMAN ESCAPE LINE TO ESTONIA

LONDON, Jan. 25 [Tuesday]—(AP).—Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's Russian troops slashed the Krasnogvardeisk-Narva railway today, blocking the only east-west escape line to Estonia for perhaps 250,000 Germans imperilled southeast of Leningrad, a Moscow war bulletin reported early today.

The smash apparently was made in the Smolkovo area, 40 miles southwest of Leningrad. Gen. Govorov's troops, advancing in three key sectors, captured more than 40 towns.

A special order of the day by Premier Stalin yesterday announced the fall of Pushkin [Tsarkoye Selo, former summer home of the czars], and Pavlovsk [Slutsk], twin rail hubs 14 and 18 miles south of Leningrad. The two junctions control at least 12 lines running into Russia's second largest city.

Near Two More Junctions.

Russian troops also drove to within two miles of Krasnogvardeisk [Gatchina] and, 28 miles to the east, were less than 5 miles from Tosno, the belt railway's junction with the Leningrad-Moscow trunk line. The remaining Nazi held section of the belt line apparently already was under soviet artillery fire.

Both Tosno and Krasnogvardeisk appeared likely to fall shortly, and it already was considered impossible for the Germans to escape with much of their heavy equipment, even if some of them manage to avoid annihilation or capture.

The entire 100 mile German front extending from Leningrad southward to Lake Ilmen's western shore appeared to be crumbling in one of the worst Nazi defeats since Stalingrad as the Russians drove forward astride rail lines leading to the Baltic states.

Push Out from Novgorod.

Soviet armies under Gen. K. A. Meretskov, swinging southwest and west from fallen Novgorod, raced to within 20 and 30 miles, respectively, of two rail junctions which would complete the closing of the trap on the Germans who have been besieging Leningrad since August, 1941. These armies also aim at smashing the German base at Staraya Russa on the south side of Lake Ilmen.

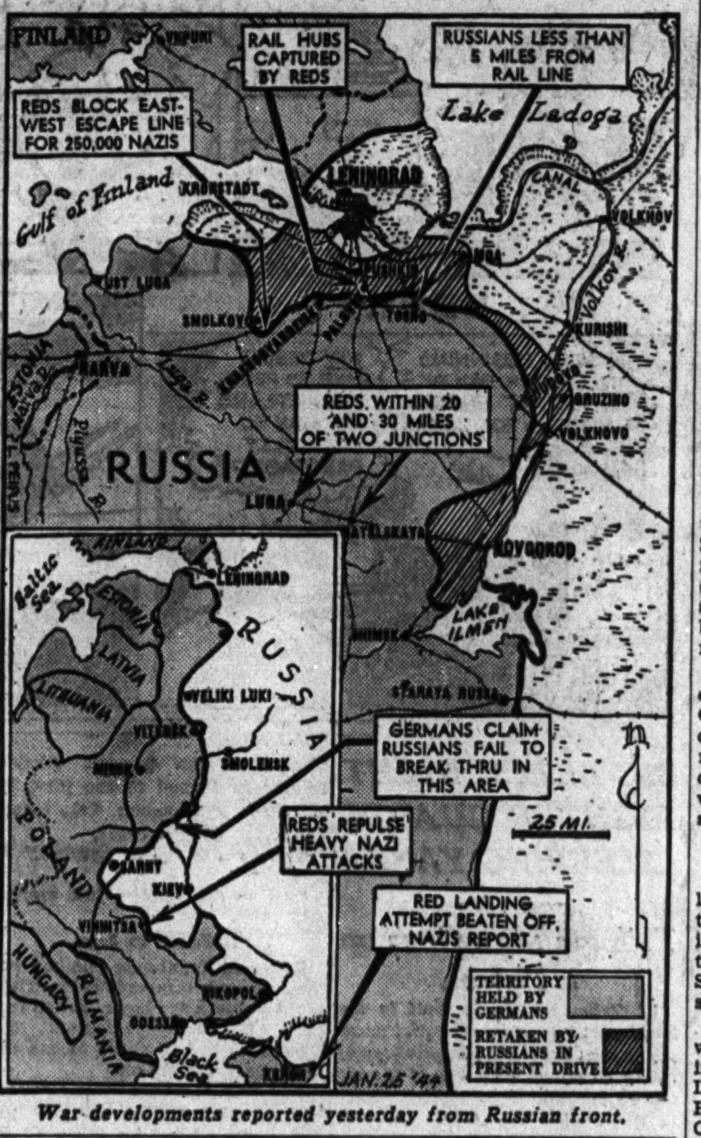
German troops still were counterattacking savagely in the lower Ukraine to stave off another debacle at that end of the long Russian front. The war bulletin said that soviet troops east of Vinnitsa, 20 miles from the Odessa-Warsaw line supplying German forces in the Dnieper bend, had repulsed heavy tank and infantry attacks.

That was the only other major action reported by Moscow after Sunday's disclosure that Gen. Konstantine Rokossovsky's lower White Russian army had stabbed thru the Pripet marshes to within 30 miles of the old Polish frontier.

Berlin broadcasts, however, acknowledged new German withdrawals in the face of heavy Russian attacks near Vitebsk, upper White Russian stronghold 320 miles south of Leningrad, and said the Russians in the Dnieper bend again were striking out northwest of Kirovograd.

Reds Block Germans' Escape Route

(Story in adjoining column.)



War developments reported yesterday from Russian front.

NAZI WAR BULLETIN

Monday's German war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin said:

"Near the Kerch straits [Crimea] the Russians again started strong attacks and at the same time tried to land new forces. They were repulsed amidst severe, bloody losses.

"At one dent violent fighting continues. Between the Pripet and the Berezina [rivers] all attempts of the soviets to break thru failed also yesterday [Sunday].

"North of Nevel repeated soviet attacks, supported by tanks, broke down in the face of German defensive fire.

"North of Lake Ilmen and southwest of Leningrad our troops are still locked in heavy defensive fighting. Our troops repelled strong enemy attacks which were launched with superior forces all thru the day.

"Southwest of Leningrad alone 57 soviet tanks were destroyed in the course of this fighting. At some points where the enemy contingents have broken thru bitter fighting still is in progress.

"Southeast of Leningrad German troops evacuated without enemy interference a protruding salient of the front line and took up new prepared positions."

BOMBERS POUND GERMANY, SLASH INVASION COAST

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—American heavy bombers returned to their old hunting grounds in western Germany today, bombing unspecified targets, while hundreds of medium and fighter bombers attacked the French invasion coast for the 23d time in 25 days.

Lt. Edw. L. Skoug.

The escort and the heavy bombers which attacked German targets destroyed 21 enemy planes, an official announcement said. The R. A. F. shot down three more off Holland. From all the day's operations two heavy bombers, one fighter-bomber, and 10 fighters are missing.

Lt. Edward L. Skoug, 26 years old, of 3246 North Normandy avenue, Chicago, told of how his formation, one of the Flying Fortress groups raiding western Germany, picked out and attacked its own target when its primary objective was obscured by clouds.

Sees Bombs Hit Target.

"I saw a cluster of my bombs land right in the middle of the target and other planes laying them in the same place," he said. By the time the Fortresses flew away, Skoug added, huge columns of smoke were drifting skyward.

Among American fighter pilots who shared in kills in air battles in today's raid on Germany were Lieutenants Charles W. Dinee of Park Ridge, Ill., and Raymond H. Gansberg of Downers Grove, Ill.

Flight Officer Edward J. Downey, 832 South Maple street, Oak Park, after evading an attacking German plane, was forced to fly so low over Belgium on his return flight that he could see people waving.

200 Marauders Raid France.

An assault against military objectives in northern France was begun an hour after sunrise by nearly 200 United States Marauders flying under escort. The Vichy radio located the bombing targets as a dozen localities in Normandie.

Among the Marauder pilots on this sweep was Lt. Sidney Peterson of Oak Park, Ill., a pilot.

The German radio reported allied raids on Sofia, Bulgaria, and "western Danubia." A Budapest dispatch to the Swedish newspaper Morgon Tidningen said that allied bombers flying toward Austria had dropped bombs on two places in western Hungary.

REPORT 900,000 IN GREECE DEAD OF STARVATION

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Joseph Besso, special envoy of the Greek government in exile, estimated today that 900,000 of his people have died as a result of "an imposed starvation." Of the 8,000,000 remaining, 2,000,000 suffer from malaria and more than 1,500,000 have contracted tuberculosis, he added. Besso is in this country to discuss Greek rehabilitation problems with American government officials.

Make Yourself A $2,000,000 HIGHBALL

Know how to make a correct highball? Lots of people don't, so we're giving you the recipe below! We call it a $2,000,000 "dream of a drink"—because that's what Fleischmann invested in grains, skill and research before we released one golden bottle of this rich, luxurious, straight bourbon whiskey. We make it in limited amounts. We have to—it's so good!

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND THEN DO THIS!

1 Place the ice cubes in an empty 6 or 8-oz. glass. Connoisseurs say the ice must go in first!

2 Then, add 1½ ounces of delicious Fleischmann's Bond. A good highball needs Fleischmann's smooth creaminess!

3 Fill with club soda or ginger ale. For a perfectly mixed drink, place ingredients in glass in the order given!

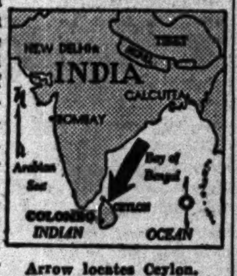
LITTLE CEYLON READY FOR ANY ATTACK BY JAPS

One Spot Where There Are No Yanks.

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH THE CEYLON COMMAND, Jan. 23 [Delayed].—If you look at a map you will notice this island—the size of West Virginia—hangs down into the Indian ocean like a pendant to the continental mass of India. Geographically its importance to the war in the far east is obvious.



Arrow locates Ceylon.

In peace time Ceylon's capital and the single great international port, Colombo, is at the ocean crossroads. It was the port of call for practically all steamers to and from the middle east and Europe on the one side and on the other Singapore, all Malay lands, China, Japan, and Australia. That gives you an idea of Ceylon's strategic value, and how disastrous its loss would have been.

It is natural to suppose Ceylon comes for war purposes under the control of India, but that's an error. It is a separate command with Adm. Geoffrey Layton at its head.

Ready for Attack.

There is a double side to all military activity here. First, there is the purely defensive aspect. Altho an attack by the Japanese is now considered highly improbable, this chance cannot be ruled out. A high official told me the island now can be considered ready for any such eventuality. This, of course, does not include sporadic air raids.

The second aspect of the activity in Ceylon is concerned with looking toward bigger events to come, for Ceylon is bound to figure in future strategic plans.

Ceylon's defense is taken care of by a medley of nationalities representing all forms of land, air, sea, and military activity. There are plenty of Britishers and Canadians. I even turned up one American in an out of the way jungle air field—Edward King of Los Angeles, who is in the royal Canadian air force.

The Indian troops here are mostly men from north central India. From east central and south central Africa have come settlers who are now in uniform and with them the colored natives from those parts, getting ready to do their part in getting the Burmese, Malayans, and others back into the British empire.

Ceylonese Are Intelligent.

Then there are the Ceylonese themselves, organized into the "Ceylon defense force"—infantry, coast guard artillery, anti-aircraft artillery, and even a miniature Ceylon navy. They look like and have a reputation for being soldiers unusual in intelligence.

Ceylon's tiny navy, its ships borrowed from the royal navy, does, as one of its officers put it, the "donkey work." That means they sweep for mines, help in escorting convoys, and look out for and pick up shipwrecked sailors. There is a considerable demand among the young Ceylonese to get into this force.

BIG BLACK NIGHT FIGHTER GUARDS SLEEPING YANKS

Tribune Man Goes on a Patrol.

[A Tribune correspondent in the Southwest Pacific was the first newspaper man accorded the privilege of riding on patrol with one of the air force's big new night fighter planes in the Pacific war zone. He tells about it in this dispatch.]

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD A NIGHT FIGHTER OVER NEW BRITAIN, Jan. 15 [Delayed.—When the first patches of light came into the eastern sky, this night fighter headed back to its base.

The night had been peaceful. Not one shot was fired. But the mission was a success, for the boys far down below slept peacefully and undisturbed. Despite all their anti-aircraft guns they never felt quite safe until they heard these night fighters buzzing overhead. Then they began sleeping well.

More powerful and faster than the fastest Jap bomber, the first night patrol took off before dusk. They were over New Britain before the day fighters left, turning the job of maintaining a constant vigil over to them. This plane, painted an ominous black and bristling with so many guns and gadgets that it looked like something out of Martian comics, left long after dark to relieve an earlier one.

Explains the Gadgets.

The navigator-radioman-rear gunner, Lt. Ray Duethman of Omaha, Neb., gave some final instructions.

"If we have to get out of here," he said, "you pull on that handle and open the hatch. It won't do any good to hesitate before jumping, because I'll push you. Pull this red gadget to open your chute and then this string to inflate your Mae West.

"But if we run into something to shoot at, this gun swings into position by releasing these gadgets. See how easily it swings back and forth?

"And, incidentally, that thing there is the trigger. Okay?" Duethman turned to the pilot, Lt. Bill Ross of Anaheim Cal., former guard for Oregon State.

"Looks like good weather," he said.

"Those are famous last words," said Ross.

Invisible to Japs.

Ross and Duethman climbed into their separate compartments. These night fighters are large, but so complete is their equipment that Duethman had to shove to one side to make room for me.

The airport lights flashed on and the big ship roared into the sky. The lights flicked off again as the plane turned to climb and headed out to sea.

"It would drive me nuts if I were a Jap to know we were lurking around ready to get on his tail," said Duethman. "He can't see us until we come under his tail. Then it is too late."

Only last night the patrol commander, Maj. C. C. Smith of Los Angeles, had demonstrated to a Jap bomber trying a nuisance raid that his technique was deadly.

So tonight the Jap was staying home. Once we went almost to a Jap base.

The full moon and scattered clouds made this pre-dawn morning perfect for bombing. The coastal outline made our bases easily identifiable.

Back at the airports, the day fighters were warming up. Our night fighter turned tail on the brilliant sunrise. Far below thousands of Americans were awakening. Thanks to the night fighters their sleep was undisturbed.

Col. Elliott Roosevelt Assigned to Spaatz Unit

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—Col. Elliott Roosevelt has arrived here for duty as photo reconnaissance officer at the strategic bombing headquarters of Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz.

Waist Gunners in Forts to Have Safety Windows

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—Several thousand Flying Fortress waist gunners now will be able to blaze away at Germans from behind shatterproof windows instead of thru open ports with gales and temperatures of 50 or 60 below zero often freezing their hands. Sealed windows have been developed thru which the guns can be operated with no sacrifice of maneuverability.

Why VICKS VapoRub Is So Good For Relieving Miseries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks VapoRub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving miseries of children's colds. And here is the reason . . .

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—and keeps on working for hours—to ease coughing spasms, help clear congestion in cold-clogged upper breathing passages, relieve muscular soreness or tightness. It promotes restful sleep. Often most of the misery of the cold is gone by morning! That's why VapoRub is so good to use when colds strike. Try it!

Can You Picture ILLINOIS without Police?

STOP
Greyhound

Today, we all owe a tremendous debt of gratitude to men and women in the uniforms of Uncle Sam's fighting forces. They're on duty today at the four corners of the earth and on all the seven seas—protecting our lives and our way of life.

And we musn't overlook the splendid job that other men in the uniform of our police forces are doing. Their "zone of operation" may be Illinois rather than Iran, it may be the highway to the next town rather than the airways across the Pacific, but their job is fundamentally the same — protecting us and ours.

We in Illinois can indeed be proud of our police organizations — city, county or state. Most of us have few occasions to call upon the service of our police forces—but that in itself is a tribute to their efficiency. They're on the job day and night whether we need them or not.

Some of us in the Greyhound organization, because of the nature of our work, have more frequent occasion to cooperate with the police than do many of our fellow citizens of Illinois. For instance, we are in a position to see clearly how much the police of this community, as well as those of neighboring communities, have contributed to the safety and convenience of bus transportation. The aid these men have given in arranging the most practical and satisfactory routes through towns and cities is typical of their skillful handling of all traffic problems.

Greyhound's most important job, as we see it, is to make near and good neighbors of all the communities that our buses serve in Illinois—and we feel that the able cooperation of police forces throughout the State has made it possible for us to do this job with greater efficiency.

POLICE PRESS FOR LIE TEST IN DRAKE MURDER

Shift in Lawyers Delays Final Decision.

Authorities yesterday renewed their request that lie detector tests be taken by witnesses or interested individuals in connection with their investigation of the mysterious shooting of Mrs. Adele Born Williams in her Drake hotel apartment last Wednesday night.

Her slayer, a gunwoman described as about 45 years old, gray haired, and wearing a black Persian lamb coat, with "something red" in her hair or hat, also fired at Mrs. Williams' daughter, Mrs. Patricia Goodbody. The shots missed Mrs. Goodbody. Mrs. Williams, wife of Frank Starr Williams, an attache of the state department in Washington, died 25 hours later. The murderess escaped.

Several on Police List.

Among the seven or eight persons who police hope will submit to the lie detector tests, which are not compulsory, are Mrs. Goodbody and her older sister, Miss Elizabeth Born. Mrs. Goodbody, 28 years old, is the wife of Lewis J. Goodbody, a broker now in Bombay, India; Miss Born, about 33, was married to and divorced from Albert M. Stein and Jerry Bernstein. Miss Born was at work at the time of the shooting. Some of the others mentioned are hotel employes.

Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, and John L. Sullivan, chief of detectives, who suggested the examinations, explained that the only purpose is to iron out several seeming contradictions arising from the many and varied stories given in connection with the killing. Such discrepancies, they added, are found in most murders and the use of the lie detector to examine witnesses has been almost routine. No person whose name has been mentioned, the authorities said, is under any suspicion.

Authorities and Lawyers Confer.

The request that Mrs. Goodbody and Miss Born, daughters of Mrs. Williams by her previous marriage to Edgar R. Born, chairman of M. Born & Co., wholesale tailors, take the tests was made at a forenoon conference among Crowley, Sullivan, Charles Wilson, director of the crime detection laboratory, where the tests are given; Supervising Capt. John Ryan, Capt. Frank Reynolds of the East Chicago avenue station, and Attorneys Frank D. Mayer and William J. Welsh of the law firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt.

It was announced at the meeting that Welsh and Mayer were stepping out of the case, and that the law firm of Floyd E. Thompson, president of the Chicago Bar association, and former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, had taken over. Welsh and Mayer had entered the case as friendly counselors only temporarily and informally, because Mrs. Williams' family was known to Mr. Mayer. Judge Thompson succeeded them because his firm had drawn Mrs. Williams' will.

Conference Held with Attorney.

Welsh and Mayer were requested to notify Thompson of the desire of police that Mrs. Goodbody and Miss Born submit to lie detector tests. This was done, and later in the day the two sisters, their father, Born, and their stepfather, Williams, met with Thompson in his office at 11 South La Salle street. The primary purpose, it was reported, was to discuss Mrs. Williams' estate; all else was incidental.

Thompson said that since the decision was his as to whether the young women would take the tests, he could not say what his attitude would be until he had talked with the state's attorneys' men and other investigators. Indications were that the women would not take the tests immediately. Thompson refused to confirm reports that "eventually they will submit to tests, if for no other reason than to stop being kicked around."

Reconstruction Plan Dropped.

The meeting also resulted in a decision by Crowley and the detective chief not to reconstruct the shooting in room 836, the Drake hotel scene of the murder. This reversal of plans was ascribed by Chief Sullivan to a wish not to subject Mrs. Goodbody, as the only eye witness of the crime, to an unnecessary ordeal.

"The reënactment would not serve any decisive purpose," said Sullivan. "There would be no resulting benefit. Furthermore, I doubt the young woman could stand the pressure, as she is now under a doctor's care."

Thus far police, except for picking out a number of inconsistencies in versions of the shooting, have been unable to point to any particular motive or likely suspect.

No Bitter Enemies Located.

The revenge theory, first advanced by Crowley, is still the favorite, yet no known enemies of Mrs. Williams have been found. Some individuals who might have been unfriendly, but not hostile to the extent of murder, have been suggested, these largely because at one time or other they had received a severe tongue lashing from Mrs. Williams, and did not relish it.

In that connection police for a time dwelt on a characteristic of Mrs. Williams—that she was somewhat domineering, and not unwilling or afraid to tell people in blunt, frank language, what she thought of them. It is on that characteristic, built upon the conclusion that it "made enemies," that the inference of revenge has been drawn.

Much of yesterday's inquiry was spent reviewing previous stories of the crime, particularly the time elements. In that connection, Asst. State's Atty. Joseph A. Pope questioned Mrs. Eva Fritz, night attendant on the eighth floor of the Drake, where the shooting occurred.

Heard Talking in Victim's Room.

Mrs. Fritz said that she paused outside Mrs. Williams' room at 4:40 or 4:45 p. m. the day of the shooting, in her customary inspection of guest rooms on the eighth floor. She said she heard a woman she is sure was Mrs. Williams talking on the telephone.

Mrs. Fritz remained on the floor another hour, during which time, she said, she did not see any one leave or enter the apartment. However, she added, she was not always in a position to observe Mrs. Williams' room. From 5:45 p. m. to 7 p. m. Mrs. Fritz was at dinner or on other duties off the eighth floor.

Time Schedule Corroborated.

The prime value of her story was to place Mrs. Williams in her room as late as 4:45 p. m. This further corroborated Mrs. Goodbody's story that she met her mother some 15 minutes later at a hairdresser's salon across the street. Mrs. Goodbody's story was that she and her mother shopped a little, then returned to the latter's apartment at 6 p. m.

The mysterious gunwoman, according to all accounts, was already in the room, but was not discovered for 20 minutes. She opened fire immediately, then fled. Two business men saw her running down the hall.

Some police from the first have held the killer was a hotel prowler, well dressed so she could pass for a guest. This theory was repeated last night by a high police official, who at the same time admitted prowlers are seldom known to carry arms.

Another Box to Be Opened.

This prowler theory will be tested at 10 a. m. today when another safety deposit box, rented by Mrs. Williams, is to be opened by Coroner A. L. Brodie in the Northern Trust company bank. Particularly sought will be a small jewelry box owned by Mrs. Williams, which is missing. Another safety box opened Saturday yielded more than $30,000 worth of gems. If this small jewelry container is not found, more police attention will be given to the prowler angle.

Police, meanwhile, are still trying to trace the murder gun. It was made more than 33 years ago, and no written record of its original sale exists. Lt. Tim O'Connell has wired 15 major cities, giving its serial number, D-37449, Iver-Johnson, in hopes of finding a former owner.

Estate Subject of Study.

Police also were still interested in Mrs. Williams' estate, which has been valued at more than $100,000, exclusive of jewelry. Her husband said last night that $58,000 was a direct inheritance from her uncle, Joseph S. Rosenfield, vice president of the Sunny Brook distillery, who died in 1931. It was mostly in whisky stock and "has increased greatly in value," said Williams.

Some other money came from her father, Isadore Swabaker. Williams said that Mrs. Williams had no trust fund, and left "not one dollar of insurance." She did not come to Chicago to change her will, as some reports have intimated, he said, and this statement was confirmed by Atty. Thompson.

U. S. FUND TO AID DOCTORS' SHIFT TO DANGER AREAS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Communities whose health is endangered by the loss of medical men taken by the military services may draw upon a $200,000 federal fund to finance the importation of new doctors and dentists, the United States public health service announced today.

The service reported more than 200 communities in the country are critically short of doctors and dentists and will need 600 practitioners by the end of this year. Among these communities are 23 in Illinois, 11 in Michigan, six in Indiana, and one in Iowa. They were not further identified.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the service, said the fund was appropriated by congress in December, 1943, and is now available for the relocation of doctors and dentists in areas where they are needed. He explained the service will help by paying the practitioner $250 a month for the first three months, and by defraying the moving and transportation costs for himself and his family. The community is to repay the health service one-fourth of the relocation costs under the plan.

OPA TO INCREASE GAS RATIONS FOR HARDSHIP USES

Boards to Set Up Own Driver Lists.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Broad powers to issue special gasoline rations to motorists for necessary driving in hardship cases will be granted to local rationing boards, it was learned at the office of price administration today.

Under an amendment to the gasoline rationing regulation being prepared for issuance late this week, motorists will be permitted to apply to local boards for extra rations, declaring the specific reasons for its use and the hardships they would undergo if denied the gasoline.

Boards Given Discretion.

The new authority gives local boards discretion to determine whether a motorist is entitled to the gasoline. The only limitation on the boards will be a quota of gasoline allotted each board for such special rations.

Rationing officials said that under present rules motorists are unable to obtain extra gasoline for driving in other than occupational pursuits unless it is for a specific purpose for which special rations are provided.

Hardship Factor Cited.

They asserted meritorious requests for extra gasoline have been received which are not covered by the regulation, and hardship would result if the requests were denied.

Local boards will have full discretion on the special rations because it would be difficult to draw up a comprehensive list of all possible hardship cases, OPA officials said.

Motorists will not be permitted to appeal from local boards which deny special rations, it was said.

Cardinal and Protestant Leader Hit Race Hatred

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 24 (AP).—William Cardinal O'Connell, dean of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States, and Bishop G. JUSTICE BEATS TRAIN TO RIGHT WRONG, IF ANY

A writ of habeas corpus overtook a speeding train 90 miles from Chicago yesterday to snatch back a prisoner before he left the jurisdiction of the federal court for the northern district of Illinois.

The prisoner is Richard Henry Lane, 56 years old, of Ithaca, N. Y. Several days ago he was arrested in New Jersey on an eight year old warrant charging larceny, issued in Ventura, Cal. Gov. Edison granted extradition, and Lane arrived in Chicago yesterday morning in custody of a Ventura officer, Arthur Waite.

Gets Tip from Prisoners.

Waite placed Lane in County jail for safekeeping until the departure time of the Chicago and North Western train on which they were to continue their journey west.

Lane told other prisoners in the jail that he had already served eight months for the crime charged in the warrant, and that he felt he was being wrongfully detained. They told him the man to see was Federal Judge John P. Barnes, outspoken champion of the right of habeas corpus.

Lane got in touch with Charles Liebman, an attorney, who appeared before Judge Barnes with an application for a writ of habeas corpus, which the judge granted, together with a restraining order enjoining Waite from taking Lane out of the jurisdiction of the court until he had been given a hearing on the writ.

But when a deputy United States marshal reached County jail to serve the order, Lane was gone. Waite, unaware of the issuance of the writ, had taken Lane from the jail and boarded a train for California.

Halt Pair at Mississippi.

Joseph E. Tobin, chief deputy United States marshal, wired Sheriff Charles Westendorf of Whiteside county, at Morrison, to serve a copy of the writ on Waite before the train crossed the Mississippi river, a boundary of the Illinois court's jurisdiction.

When the train stopped at Morrison yesterday Sheriff Westendorf served the writ. Waite and Lane got off and later boarded another train for Chicago, where Lane will appear before Judge Barnes today.

Attorneys say that had the train carrying Waite and Lane crossed the Mississippi river before the writ caught up with them, the writ and restraining order would have been ineffective.

4 Women Burn to Death in Boarding House Blaze

Kansas City, Kas., Jan. 24 (AP).—Four women burned to death today in a fire that destroyed a two story boarding home for elderly persons. They were Mrs. Myrtle Hunt, 59 years old, manager of the home, and three boarders, Mrs. Dena Wallace, 77; Mrs. Wilmetta Doak, 77, and Miss Margaret Andres, 79.

Chicagoans Given a Look at Valentine Corsages

Members of the Allied Florists' association yesterday showed what Chicagoans may expect in a war time Valentine corsage. The selection was ample, and included a series that began with the orchid and the camellia, and ended with tulips and violets. Hubert J. Wolfe, executive secretary of the society, said that in lieu of the metallic valentine novelties occasionally offered by florists there would be a large assortment of center pieces.

Bartender Examines Gun for Sale and Gets Shot

Stanley Bartnick, 60 years old, 1531 North Maplewood avenue, bartender in a tavern at 2202 North avenue, was shot in the groin last night while examining a gun that a friend had offered to sell to him, he told North Avenue police. Bartnick said Anthony Kachel, a carpenter, 2122 Concord place, was showing him the gun when it was discharged twice. Kachel fled. Police took Bartnick to North Avenue hospital.

FOUR SOUTH SIDE HOSPITALS FIND WATER IS UNFIT

Three south side hospitals have installed their own water filtering plants because of the condition of water served the area thru the Dunne intake crib. A fourth hospital provides bottled water for patients who complain of the taste of city water.

Dr. Andrew V. Dahlberg Sr., president of the South Shore hospital at 8015 Luella avenue, said yesterday that all drinking water at the hospital is filtered in the plant installed five years ago when it became apparent that city water, heavily dosed with chlorine to kill bacteria, was distasteful to patients.

All Time Winter High.

At the Dunne crib Jan. 3, the coliform bacteria count reached 5,400 per 100 cubic centimeters of water, an all time winter high. Water containing an average of 50 a day for 30 days is considered unsafe for drinking, the United States public health service has pronounced. The count at 8 a. m. Saturday was 2.

Jackson Park hospital, 7531 Stony Island avenue, installed a filter three years ago because of city drinking water conditions and the results it might have on patients, said Lucius W. Hilton, hospital superintendent.

Says City Water Unfit.

Hilton termed city water unfit for drinking. A complete water softener program is maintained at the hospital's laundry as hard lake water does not lend itself to hospital needs, Hilton said.

South Chicago hospital, 2320 East 93d street, has no filter plant for its drinking water and is forced to rely on bottled water for many of its patients, said Miss Clara D. Schafer, superintendent. The delivery and operating rooms and pharmacy have small filters, but these serve exclusively in these departments, she said.

"When a patient complains of the taste of city water we give him bottled water," she said. "This costs a lot of money and we are unable to serve all patients. Completion of the city filtration plant at 78th street and the lake would be a great help to us."

Doubled Size of Plant.

Illinois Central hospital, 5800 Stony Island avenue, was forced to double the size of its filtration plant several years ago because of water conditions, said John Vanerio, assistant administrative officer.

Northern Indiana city sewage deposits into the lake are responsible for water pollution, experts agree. Completion of the filtration plant and additional water diversion into the Calumet river would remedy the conditions, they say. A diversion bill now is pending in congress.

U. S. TAKES OVER 2 FACTORIES OF YORK SAFE CO.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—President Roosevelt today directed the navy to take over and operate the York Safe and Lock company war plants in York county, Pa.

The Presidential order stated only that the step was deemed essential in order that the plants "may be effectively operated in the manufacture of war materials" and that government possession will end within 60 days after it is determined the plants will be operated privately "in a manner consistent with the war effort."

The navy said the action stemmed from "unsatisfactory management conditions," and that the navy had "formulated certain conditions which, if met, will result in return of the plant to private management."

No labor trouble is involved, the navy said.

Flyer's Dog Safe

Mrs. William G. Roberts, flyer's mother, who said she wrote President Roosevelt, asking his intercession, seen here with her dog. British officials later said Roy Boy would be spared.

THEATER OF AIR PLANS TO HOLD WAR BOND NIGHT

Next Saturday evening will be War Bond night at the Chicago Theater of the Air. The presentation of Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta" that evening will be dedicated to the 4th war loan drive. All tickets to the program to be broadcast from Medinah temple, Wabash at Ohio street, will be given out in exchange for war bond purchases.

The program will star Marion Claire, W-G-N's prima donna; Morton Bowe, tenor; Ruth Slater, contralto, and John Macdonald, bass.

The broadcast portion of the program, running from 8 to 9 p. m., will be presented thru W-G-N.

The Illinois war savings staff of the treasury department has taken charge of ticket distribution, W-G-N has announced. Tickets may be obtained by bond purchasers at the following places: A. W. V. S. booths in most loop buildings; the treasury center, Commonwealth Edison building, and from the treasury department's community chairman in 63 communities in Chicago and suburbs.

Names of the community chairmen may be obtained by calling the community department of the treasury department at State 2940.

2 CHICAGOLAND FLYERS TALK ON RADIO TONIGHT

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Two United States marine corps flyers from the Chicago area are expected to be heard speaking from Munda in the Solomons via shortwave radio on the new show, Everything for the Boys, over WMAQ-NBC at 10:30 tonight. The heroes are 1st Lt. John L. [Bob] Donnellan, son of Mrs. Margaret Donnellan, 7809 Emerald avenue, and 2d Lt. John T. Sowle, 1306 Vernon street, Rockford. They will speak to Ronald Colman and Irene Dunne in Hollywood.

Donnellan, who is 24 years old and was a lawyer in civilian life, was attacked by 70 dive bombers over Rabaul, eluded them and completed his bombing attack on Jap ships. Lt. Sowle, 23, crash-landed after being wounded and floated for 51 hours in enemy waters before being rescued. Lt. Sowle sent word that he hopes to exchange "hellos" with his sweetheart, Shirley Flanagan of Kenilworth.

◆

It turns out now—if we can believe in the findings of the radio division of the office of research of the College of the City of New York—that "Pistol Packin' Mama" wasn't the hit tune of 1943 after all. The gun toting lady came in 18th, according to this survey.

Dr. John G. Peatman, director of the survey, has disclosed that the No. 1 song was "People Will Say We're in Love." Frank Sinatra's qualified promise of "Sunday, Monday or Always" came in sixth. The others, in order, from second to 20th were: "You'll Never Know," "Brazil," "That Old Black Magic," "As Time Goes By" [an old tune revived during the year], "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home To," "I've Heard That Song Before," "Don't Get Around Much Any More," "It Can't Be Wrong," "Comin' In On a Wing and a Prayer," "Paper Dolly," "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey," "Taking a Chance on Love," "In the Blue of Evening," "My Heart Tells Me," "Let's Get Lost," "I Heard You Cried Last Night," and "How Sweet You Are."

The poll results were not based on the number of performances but on the estimated number of persons who heard the selections on various programs.

◆

Off a live mike: Hildegarde has agreed to do a Broadway musical show after she finishes her radio and night club engagements here. . . . John Barclay, veteran radio actor and singer, frequently heard on the Theater of the Air, has joined W-G-N's production staff.

NEW JET PLANE SMOOTH RIDING DESPITE SPEED

Simple to Operate, Test Pilot Asserts.

BY FRANK STURDY.

Simplicity of operation and smoothness of power despite its tremendous speed are features of the army's new jet-propulsion fighter plane. A description of a flight in the "rocket" type aircraft was released yesterday by the air forces.

Frank H. Kelley, an assistant to the president of the Bell Aircraft company, builder of the plane, and a pilot of long experience, flew the ship many times during the testing program. On his first ride he was nervous, he said, as any pilot accustomed to conventional aircraft would be in his first experience with this radically new means of power, but soon felt perfectly secure.

Simpler to Operate.

"It is the smoothest ride I've ever experienced in any plane," Kelley said. "My nervousness persisted while I started the engines, and until I taxied across the field for the take-off, when it dawned on me that this plane was simpler to operate than a primary trainer.

"I flew it thru all maneuvers I wanted for 20 minutes, and then landed and taxied up to the line. I wanted to check the fuel before resuming flight so before turning on the main switch to read the electrical fuel gauges, I stuck my head out of the cockpit and shouted to warn the mechanics to stay clear of the propeller, completely forgetting that I didn't have any propellers."

"Prop" Worry Eliminated.

The absence of propellers is the starting point of the simplicity of the jet-propulsion craft. In all conventional aircraft of high power, the propellers have controlable pitch blades requiring the pilot's attention for adjustment in the cockpit, in conjunction with a throttle for each engine. In the two engined jet airplane, the pilot is concerned only with throttles, and is also relieved of worry over the possibility of enemy fire damaging the highly vulnerable and complicated propeller mechanism.

The whole story of the jet plane, when the army permits its telling, probably will be one of the most colorful and important of the war. Altho the original engine was designed by Wing Comdr. Frank Whittle of the R. A. F., who experimented with it for 10 years or more, the engines in use have large contributions from the General Electric company and the materiel command of the army air forces.

Wide Range of Fuels.

In general, the advantages of the jet-propulsion engine are summed up in simplicity of operation, great power for small size and weight, small number of moving parts, and adaptability to a wide range of fuels, including alcohol and the cheaper petroleum products such as kerosene.

The chief difficulty preventing commercial use of such motors heretofore has been in finding metals that will stand up to the tremendous operating speeds and temperatures of turbines, perhaps as much as 25,000 revolutions a minute at temperatures up to 3,000 degrees.

General Motors whipped this problem in developing the turbo-supercharger for the gasoline engines installed on the Flying Fortress and other conventional planes.

BRIGHTER LIGHTS SOUGHT AGAIN IN TROLLEY ZONES

The city council committee on traffic and public safety yesterday decided to renew its plea to the state department of public works for permission to use motor fuel tax funds to purchase sodium vapor lights for street car loading zones. The committee instructed Leslie Sorenson, city traffic engineer, to seek the permission after he and other traffic experts said many automobile deaths and injuries attributed to the fast driving of war workers could be prevented by better lighting.

Sorenson said the state has turned down previous requests for lighting funds, but that in view of a recent Illinois Supreme court ruling that taxes may be used for lights on state aid and arterial highways, there is a chance permission may be granted now.

The committee members recalled that Lloyd E. Johnson, commissioner of streets and electricity, has drawn up plans for replacing the present incandescent lights on the city's 1,500 concrete loading zone abutments with the orange sodium vapor lamps. Since no tax funds have been earmarked for this purpose, only broken and worn out lights are being replaced. There have been 43 such replacements in the last six months.

THE QUESTION.

Did you ever teach your child something and then have it boomerang?

WHERE ASKED.

30 North Michigan building.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Arthur E. Gay, housewife, 168 West Chicago avenue—Modesty was a good thing to teach my daughter even at an early age, I thought. I told her it wasn't proper to wear short dresses. Now when her supply of dresses runs low, nothing will induce her to wear one she considers immodest.

Mrs. M. L. Marks, housewife, 5207 Winthrop avenue—I wanted my 5 year old daughter to learn to keep a secret. We bought a Father's day gift and I told her that we would not mention it. She kept the secret, but I gave it away, in her presence, two days before Father's day.

Mrs. Barney Posner, housewife, 1637 Pratt boulevard—My daughter is only 2½ years old but she figures out plenty of things for herself. I told her it was bad for her to crawl into an open window or to get near things that would burn. When I do the things I've told her not to do she calls me "a bad mommie."

Mrs. Gaylord Robinson, housewife, 8107 Drexel avenue—My baby daughter has been impressed by the meticulous habits I've taught her, especially when it comes to putting her clothes away. If I'm in a hurry and don't put my things where they belong, she calls my attention to it.

George Traxel, mail carrier, 5848 Markham avenue—I told my son that he could keep his toys in the garage if he'd take as good care of the keys as I did. He always put them back where they belonged. Once I was going to toss the keys to my wife as I drove by. They fell down the drain pipe, and my son never forgot it.

Mrs. Connie Boyte, milliner, 6338 Parnell avenue—Whenever I'd notice my daughter reading under a light that I didn't think was bright enough I'd give her a lecture on ruining her eyes. Each time I have her convinced she catches me reading in a dark corner and asks me if I no longer value my eyesight.

HEARING BEGUN ON WAR JOB LET TO EX-GERMAN

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—The house military committee began hearings behind closed doors today in its investigation of war contracts granted to Hans Wilhelm Rohl, Los Angeles contractor, who was naturalized several years ago.

The only witness heard before the hearing was recessed until Thursday was Robert Hoffman, Honolulu engineer.

Army officers who attended the session said the investigation was ordered to determine whether there was laxity in the issuance of contracts containing secret military information to a former German resident. The contracts involved construction work on the west coast, in Alaska, and in Pacific islands.

'I'LL PROVE NEW DEAL PLOT,' VOW OF MRS. DILLING

Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, Chicago authoress and lecturer, announced yesterday that she will go to Washington Feb. 7 to plead not guilty to the indictment charging her with "conspiring to overthrow the United States, set up a Nazi government, and to undermine the morale of the armed forces."

"If there has been a conspiracy," Mrs. Dilling said, "it has been on the other side—a conspiracy of a set of desperate New Dealers who want to silence everybody that opposes their political schemes. I hope to prove that if this case ever comes to trial."

At the department of justice in Washington, D. C., it has been announced that trial of the case probably will be held in March. The indictment is the third in which the Chicago woman is named with 29 others.

Former Indictments Dismissed.

The two former indictments were dismissed by the government and some of those named in them were not named in the third.

A demurrer attacking the latest indictment as "vague" will be filed by Mrs. Dilling's attorney, Bellmore Lessard of Portland, Ore., Jan. 29, she said. She explained she employed Lessard because he has offered to defend her if she pays only his expenses.

"I didn't want to employ any lawyer on such a basis, but I was compelled to do it," she said. "This case the New Deal administration has trumped up against me is costing me a great deal and it's getting so I just can't afford it.

Points to Added Cost.

"In addition to everything else, the court insists I must employ a Washington attorney. I don't know why. That is going to cost money, too. None of my friends has been able to get any Washington lawyer to take my case.

"They seem to be afraid to go up against the department of justice. I can't imagine why. I'll lay bare everything I've ever said or written."

WAR BOND SALES NEAR 50 MILLION IN CHICAGO AREA

War bond sales to individuals in Chicago and Cook county totaled nearly 50 million dollars late Saturday, Frank McNair, chairman of the 4th war loan drive, said yesterday as the campaign entered its second week. The drive closes Feb. 15. On Friday and Saturday bonds totaling $10,235,000 and $5,395,000, respectively, were added to previous accumulations for a total of $49,725,000.

Today the crew of the famous "Doodlebug," a Liberator bomber which carried out 87 missions from a base in China and returned home intact, will team with Jinx Falkenburg and John Garfield at four bond rallies.

Today is also War Bond day in more than 300 movie theaters in Chicago and suburbs, and in 600 theaters downstate. Persons buying war bonds will be admitted free. A total of 25 million dollars in bonds is expected to be sold in theaters thruout the state. The Milwaukee road added $2,400,000 to the 4th war loan in Cook county, the area's share of the road's 20 million dollar investment in government securities.

16% of Goal Reached.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Individual bond sales in the 4th war loan hit $863,000,000 in today's treasury report, a gain of $81,000,000 over Saturday's total. The drive thus was nearing the 16 per cent mark of the $5,500,000,000 goal set for individual sales.

What You Should Know About the $50,000 Pabst Post-War Employment Awards

1 THE REASON: The Pabst Awards have been established by the Pabst Brewing Company, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Peoria, Ill., in observance of the 100th Anniversary of the founding of its business.

2 THE AWARDS: The Pabst Awards total $50,000, divided as follows:

A First Award of $25,000
A Second Award of $10,000
Fifteen Additional Awards of $1,000 each

All Awards are payable in United States War Bonds at current purchase prices.

3 THE REQUIREMENTS: The Awards are offered for the plans which, in the opinion of the Board of Judges, present the best and most practical solutions to the broad problems of post-war employment in the United States. Plans must be stated in not more than 2,000 words, but the contestant may submit any supplementary material he desires.

4 THE JUDGES: Members of the Board of Judges are:

CLARENCE DYKSTRA, President, University of Wisconsin
WESLEY C. MITCHELL, Professor of Economics, Columbia University
BEARDSLEY RUML, Treasurer, R. H. Macy & Company, and Chairman, Federal Reserve Bank of New York
A. F. WHITNEY, President, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen

Members of the faculty of the Economics Department of Columbia University will serve as consultants to the judges, and will also assist the judges in supervising preliminary judging to select those entries which merit consideration by the Board of Judges.

5 THE RESPONSE: The Pabst Awards were announced on December 1, 1943. Since then, thousands of post-war plans have been received from men and women in every walk of life . . . war workers, economists, business men, government employees, members of the armed services and others. The Pabst Awards are making a real contribution to a better post-war America, by developing a large and valuable cross-section of American thinking in regard to post-war employment problems.

6 THE WINNING PLANS: At the close of the Competition, copies of the winning plans will be turned over to responsible officials of the Government. In addition, copies will be made available for study by any other agency—public or private which concerns itself with the problems of Post-War Employment; and may be published, in booklet or other form, for distribution to the public.

7 THE CLOSING DATE: The Competition closes on February 7, 1944. Entries must be postmarked not later than midnight of that date, and must be received not later than March 27, 1944. The winners of the Awards will be announced as soon as possible after the close of the Competition.

8 THE RULES: If you believe you have a worthwhile plan for post-war employment, you can obtain full information about the Pabst Awards by writing the Pabst Post-War Employment Awards, 551 Fifth Avenue, New York 17, New York. Details of the Competition will be air-mailed to you immediately, together with a copy of the rules by which all contestants will be bound.

THE DEMOCRATS CHOOSE A LEADER.

The new chairman of the Democratic national committee, hand picked for the job by Mr. Roosevelt, is Mr. Robert E. Hannegan of St. Louis. A more appropriate selection to lead the New Deal party could not have been made.

Mr. Hannegan stands out as a humanitarian idealist even in the Democratic national committee, where he faces the competition of such effulgent humanitarians as Mr. Crump of Tennessee and Mr. Hague of New Jersey, not to mention such flaming idealists as Mr. Kelly of Illinois and Mr. McHale of Indiana. A good many of Mr. Roosevelt's colleagues of the committee have nothing to learn from him about bribing voters with patronage and doles or even about counting the ballots, but it is Mr. Hannegan's distinction to have led the way in attempting to steal an office after losing an election.

That incident occurred some three years ago when the voters of Missouri in the election of a governor expressed a preference for the Republican candidate, Mr. Forrest C. Donnell, over Mr. Hannegan's candidate, Lawrence McDaniel of St. Louis. Mr. Hannegan's faith in the democratic process was so intense that he immediately proceeded to organize the Democratic majority in the Missouri legislature to prevent the winner from being seated. Obediently, the legislators refused to certify Mr. Donnell's election and therefore there was no governor elect.

The retiring governor, Mr. Lloyd C. Stark, was obliged to remain in office for lack of a successor. To his great credit, he put a stop to this outrageous business by vetoing an appropriation for a legislative investigation of the election and about the same time Mr. Donnell, who had taken his case to the courts, was upheld by the state's Supreme court. Only then did Mr. Hannegan surrender, and he did so not because he wanted to but because he had been licked and there wasn't anything else for him to do.

The voters of St. Louis remembered the incident and in the municipal election the following year routed Hannegan's candidate for mayor. Hannegan himself had been so thoroly repudiated that he was obliged to resign his chairmanship of the Democratic city committee, but the New Dealers in Washington, grateful to him for his many services, promptly rewarded him with the post of collector of internal revenue for the eastern district of Missouri and, a year and a half later, made him commissioner of internal revenue with surveillance over everybody's income taxes.

This is the heroic figure who has been chosen to direct the Democratic party nationally. His chief qualification is that he has had more experience than any one else in his party with stealing an office after losing it in an election. It is impossible to escape the conclusion that Mr. Roosevelt chose him on account of that fact. Evidently Mr. Roosevelt foresees some difficulties about the fourth term.

NO ROYALTY AND NO HANDOUTS.

The Corean government in exile is staging a meeting in the city of Ashland, O., to the mild surprise of the residents of that community.

Most newspaper readers probably date governments in exile from 1939 or thereabouts. The Corean government in exile is 25 years old. It claims an army of 30,000 men in the field in China, fighting the Japs. The Nipponese have placed a price of $380,000 on the head of its leader, Dr. Syngman Rhee.

Most governments in exile have headquarters in London or Washington, or both, where they are close to the lend-lease bread line. We do not know where the Corean exiles maintain theirs, but it raises a nice question: How much lend-lease money has this pioneer of all governments in exile, this government that was the first to become a victim of Japanese aggression and is supporting its own avenging army, obtained? We'll bet it won't match the price on Dr. Syngman Rhee's head.

And if any one bothers to search out the reason for this he probably will find it in the fact that the Coreans have no fashionable royalty.

GANGSTER STUFF.

Army officers and enlisted men seized the cameras of two newspaper photographers at Birmingham, Ala., after they had made pictures of an army bomber which, in crashing, killed nine men. The army eventually handed back the cameras, but the films were confiscated. The accident occurred a mile from the local army air base.

The Birmingham News and Age Herald is preparing to protest this unwarranted seizure of civilian property by the army off a military reservation. This case is only one of many that have occurred from time to time as newspaper men attempt to get news and pictures of domestic happenings in which the military is in some way involved.

Not long ago camera men were similarly manhandled at the scene of an Atlantic Coast Line railroad wreck where there was no better excuse for military interference than the presence on the trains of a number of soldiers.

The office of censorship, which is the only agency endowed by the government with the power of suppressing news or pictures, has issued clear directives covering news photos which every one except the army and navy seems inclined to follow.

Newspaper photographers are permitted to make pictures of any happening which does not occur directly on army, navy, or government property, providing the ordinary laws of trespass are obeyed. The publishers or editors know what can be printed and what can't. Where there is any doubt, the picture or the story is cleared thru the office of censorship or thru the army or navy commander whose station may be involved. Generally, this is done anyhow.

It is absolutely illegal and unwarranted for any army or navy man to prevent camera men from making pictures of a plane crash or a train wreck or any other event which does not occur on government property. Unless army and navy authorities begin to curb the overzealous military men who assault civilians and seize their property, the civilians will have to be given recourse in the courts.

WHAT IS A MILK BOTTLE?

The long and scandalous attempt to bar paper milk containers from the Chicago market reached another climax last week when the Illinois Supreme court ruled that the Chicago milk ordinance, in specifying that milk must be delivered in "standard milk bottles," does not sanction the use of paper containers.

The paper container question has been fought all over the legislative and judicial field. It has been taken to the United States Supreme court, which decided, properly, that the question is not a federal one. It has been brought before the state legislature, which in the state pasteurization law approved paper containers, and before the city council, which has consistently gone along with the city administration in its policy of procrastination and obstruction.

The question got to the state Supreme court on a permanent injunction forbidding the city to interfere with sales in paper containers. The court, having decided over the dissent of two of its members, that the term "standard milk bottle" does not mean a paper container, was right in refusing to legislate by judicial opinion when the duty lies upon the city council to legislate by ordinance.

There can be no doubt that it is wrong to obstruct the use of the paper containers, nor that the wrong lies at the door of the council and the city administration. Objections against paper containers, on the ground of health, were demolished long ago. The question of economy is no concern of public authorities. That can be settled in the field of competition.

It has, in fact, already been settled. While the Dean Milk company, a relatively small distributor in the Chicago market, pioneered the use of the containers, every major milk distributor in the Chicago market has taken advantage of the injunction that the Dean company obtained to sell milk in paper. The city's largest distributor says that 70 per cent of its quart store sales are now in paper containers.

Any attempt to wipe out the paper container now will cripple the delivery operations of all Chicago distributors. The same delivery truck can handle more milk in paper than it can in glass. Also, it handles the paper containers but once, but has to pick up the glass bottles and return them to the bottling plant. If distributors are compelled to return to the use of glass alone, they will use more gasoline and more tires to make their deliveries. Even worse, they will be unable to handle deliveries with their present fleets of trucks, and they can't buy more trucks.

It is the obvious duty of the city council to amend the milk ordinance without delay to permit the use of paper containers.

RECOGNITION WITHHELD.

J. Walter Christie died the other day still attempting to get recognition and a $40,000 license fee from the war department for the development of the modern tank. Mr. Christie's attorney said that he was virtually penniless after having spent more than 2 million dollars of his own and borrowed money in developing the prototype of the tanks now used by the United States army and the allies.

Christie's experience parallels that of John L. Bogert, a naval architect, who is seeking from the navy only the recognition that he was the designer of the first "baby flattop." Mr. Bogert likewise has met with no success, altho his claim seems to be well authenticated.

Some 50 years ago Louis Gathmann developed the first gun that would pierce armor plate. His discovery is the basis of the modern use of explosives, yet the only recognition he has received in this country has come from civilian scientists, students of the methods of warfare, and newspapers.

The army and navy would follow a far wiser course if they allowed civilians who have contributed great inventions to the art of war the credit and the rewards they deserve.

DELINQUENCY IS OLD FASHIONED.

[Lawrence County News, Lawrenceville, Ill.]

Social welfare specialists met in Washington recently and charted a plan to attack the mounting volume of war time delinquency and urged the federal government to join with the state and local officials in an energetic program of correction and cure.

It is no wonder that the youngsters need salvation —the adults themselves evidently have forgotten how to depend upon themselves. It's downright silly to call on federal and state government to take over a responsibility we should shoulder ourselves. If the parents can't solve this problem of juvenile delinquency, why not put it up to the youngsters themselves.

Children are people and you might be surprised to learn how fine and decent they are and how quickly they respond to the self-government code. It is common knowledge that youngsters of high school age dislike the parties and dances of middle age people because of the immoral behavior often present. Youngsters are born clean and will remain so if given half a chance, and that chance is absolutely in the hands of the parents.

After all, delinquency is as ancient as time itself and a condition that has needed to be fought since the birth of man. In these modern times it's smart to be decent and respectable—and the sooner we put that across to the youngsters, as well as the middle agers—the better off we'll all be.

Test Your Horse Sense

By Dr. George W. Crane

Select the answers which you consider best. The last problem counts five points. Then look for the correct answers on page 14.

1. Which one of these fruits does not grow in clusters?
   Lemons Cherries Oranges Grapefruit.
2. How many reindeer does Santa Claus use on his sleigh? 2 4 6 8.
3. Which one of these is a wooden shoe used in Europe? Sandal Sabot Brogue Pump.
4. The word "sabotage" is derived from the act of throwing which one of the following into the machinery to stop production?
   Monkey wrench Brick Wooden shoe Bomb.
5. Kapok is a product of which one of these original sources?
   Isinglass Tree Asbestos Animal.
6. In this problem you are to try to match the five berries listed in the left hand column below with their usual height above the ground. You are entitled to one point for each correct matching.

[a] Cranberry [v] Highest above ground.
[b] Blackberry [w] Next to highest.
[c] Strawberry [x] Third highest
[d] Gooseberry [y] Next to lowest.
[e] Mulberry [z] Lowest.

Score yourself as follows: 0-2, poor; 3-6, average; 7-8, superior; 9-10, very superior. [Note—The last question counts five points.]

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

THE NEW FRONT.

The landing of American troops in Italy in the rear of the stubborn German front puts the war on the home grounds of the earliest Romans. This region is the ancient Latium, from which the word "Latin" comes, and its meaning was "the level land." The coast and its hinterland offered a soft spot in the rugged Italian topography, and one may assume that our soldiers went ashore saying, "Whoopee! No more mountains, for a while, anyway." For after Tunisia, Sicily, Salerno, and the stalemated front north of Naples, it is likely that the boys are bored with lofty scenery.

• • •

From the mouth of the Tiber to the first beachheads established at Anzio and Nettuno, that coast is a low, sandy plain. Close to the sea are sandy hillocks and hummocks that will remind soldiers from the Chicago region of the Indiana dunes. Back of these dunes, as in Indiana, there are, or were before Mussolini went in for drainage, stretches of marsh. This open coast line, a veritable soft underbelly for a seaborne invasion, extends about 30 miles from the Tiber to Anzio, and about 24 more miles to the line of German defense.

• • •

Anzio and Nettuno, where the barges first went ashore, are close together in a low, rocky promontory. The former is the ancient Latin seashore resort of Antium, birthplace of the emperor Nero. Many Roman patricians had villas there, and excavation of these sites brought to light, in 1485, a masterpiece of Greek art—the statue called Apollo Belvedere, now in the Vatican museum. It has been reproduced in casts oftener, perhaps, than any other relic of the classical world. The marble statue in the Vatican is itself a copy of a lost original in bronze.

FORM 1040.

Ah, emperor of illusion!
Ambassador of confusion!
It's up to me to take a hand
At trying hard to understand
What lies behind those question marks,
Designed by seasoned legal sharks;
I'll need some pencils (say, a score),
And fifteen pens (or maybe more),
And paper, well, at least a ton
Will bite the dust before I'm done.
Well, that is all I'll need, I guess;
What's that you say? Speak louder!
You say that I shall need—O, yes,
A potent headache powder.

W. L. Hudson.

When, As and If.

Vehicles and people move over a dead, brown earth. Days are dreary and humdrum. Everything is fog gray, or one of its components. Familiar objects blend into the background and lose their outlines. One imagines himself the only moving thing in a hibernating world.

Then comes a morning when, rising as usual in the dark, one goes to the window and draws up a blind. Suddenly there is a rush of emotion as the first snow is revealed, clean and unmarred by footsteps or wheels. The drab city is erased, memories crowd out the present, and a beautiful morning in the Laurentians comes back tantalizingly.

One remembers a rosy sunrise at Lake Louise that made snow-capped Victoria look like a pink birthday cake, and that January morning so long ago when an ice encrusted ship came into New York harbor and passed Liberty holding aloft a huge ice cream cone! Childhood days in Wisconsin come to life again and one hears gay shouts as huge drifts are discovered around the barns, sealing their doors. Snow is sticking in lumps on the long, black, woolen stockings grandma knitted for a pair of spindly, little-girl legs.

There is a thud downstairs as the newsboy throws the morning paper against the door, recalling the present. But before the reverie fades and disappears there is another picture that looms up in a vision. It is forged by the imagination, and a pile of letters, of a soldier who once shared first snows and spring's buds or autumn's gypsy hues from this same window. A soldier whose summers are distinguished from winter by the calendar rather than the absence of snow, whose beacon is the North Star, whose world lies calm and still around his hut, and whose companions are brown-clad figures like himself and the little furry folk of the Alaskan forest.

O, white blanket of beauty and enchantment, do not fade too soon. Lie here a little while until we tire of dreaming! Frieda K. Zimmerman.

SWAN SONG.

So you would have me end my dreams
And set my ways to practiced schemes?
Then ask my body's breath to cease,
For dreaming is my only lease
On living in this turmoiled world,
For all my being is entwirled
And bound with threads of fantasy—
A dreamer I was born to be!

If I were burdened with some ill,
Would you not hold and love me still?
If I should steal a coin perchance,
You'd show forgiving sufferance;
Odd whims, afflictions, even sin,
Each of these would come within
The bounty of your pity's grace—
And yet for dreaming there's no place!

Then fret you not, for I shall change
And strive my life to rearrange,
Setting every dream apart
To languish in my aching heart!

Cherida.

Tabloid bedtime story: Two kittens sat on the sidelines of a tennis match, and their little heads went from left to right and right to left as they watched the ball fly back and forth. Finally one kitten mewed to the other, "I hope the tall man wins, because our father is in that racket."

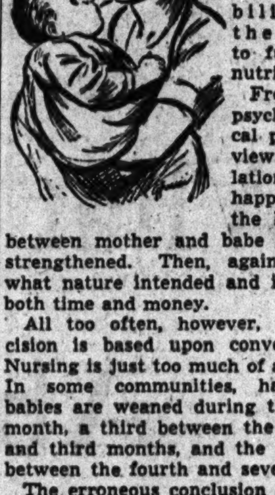
BREAST FEEDING: A BETTER START FOR THE BABY.

THE best and easiest way to make certain that every infant will develop normally is to plan for breast feeding. If the mother is well, it is the wisest decision to make. Her milk constitutes a complete food. No manmade formula can possibly equal this substance for digestibility and the power to furnish nutriment.



From the psychological point of view the relationship is happy and the bonds between mother and babe will be strengthened. Then, again, it is what nature intended and it saves both time and money.

All too often, however, the decision is based upon convenience. Nursing is just too much of a chore. In some communities, half the babies are weaned during the first month, a third between the second and third months, and the balance between the fourth and seventh.

The erroneous conclusion may be reached that the glands will not produce an adequate amount. Furthermore, there may be some difficulty in starting the process. Even if extra feedings have to be supplied, the fact that the little one is receiving even a few ounces of mother's milk daily is far better than none at all. The old notion that it is injurious to maternal health is all wrong. Of course, one who is poorly nourished or who is suffering from a chronic malady should not be called upon.

The first week will be the critical period and much practice may be required. But, with careful attention to the nipples, and relieving the tiny stomach of air—success will come. If the tot is hungry and empties the breast, that is the best stimulus to its refilling. If the nipples exhibit cracks the disorder is usually easy to overcome with proper treatment and the use of the breast pump.

No one need be disturbed if the child spits up curds occasionally. If the situation tends to become chronic, however, more frequent interruption of the procedure may be demanded. Resting the baby over the shoulder for a few minutes will usually be followed by "burping" of swallowed air.

Whenever the output begins to decrease, it means that the mammary apparatus is returning to normal. But, as a rule, there will be more than enough. A baby whose appetite is unsatisfied will always fuss and then is the time to consider supplemental mixtures. Sometimes the quantity is far in excess of the need. In such circumstances the stools will be large and yellow to yellow-green. In addition restlessness will be observed. Correction is accomplished merely by reducing the number or the duration of feedings.

Many young mothers will have acquired bad habits about taking fluids and there is no better assistant to her own milk producing machinery than plenty of liquids, particularly cow's milk. Alcohol has no value and the diet should be nonirritating but complete, including at least six ounces of meat daily.

It should not be necessary to urge that the infant be given every chance for a good start. The intelligent mother will look forward to the interval and the physician will be only too willing to coöperate in preparing for it.

TWITCHING MUSCLES.

R. E. H. writes: Once in a while just before I get to sleep every muscle seems to contract suddenly, causing me to "jump." What does this mean?

REPLY.

This is a common experience and typifies overfatigue. More rest will abate the symptom.

NUMB TONGUE.

B. G. writes: Every so often my tongue feels as if it were frozen. Is there anything you can suggest?

REPLY.

Look to the state of the blood and have the cranial nerves checked. In certain instances, the manifestation is emotional.

WELDING VS. HEALTH.

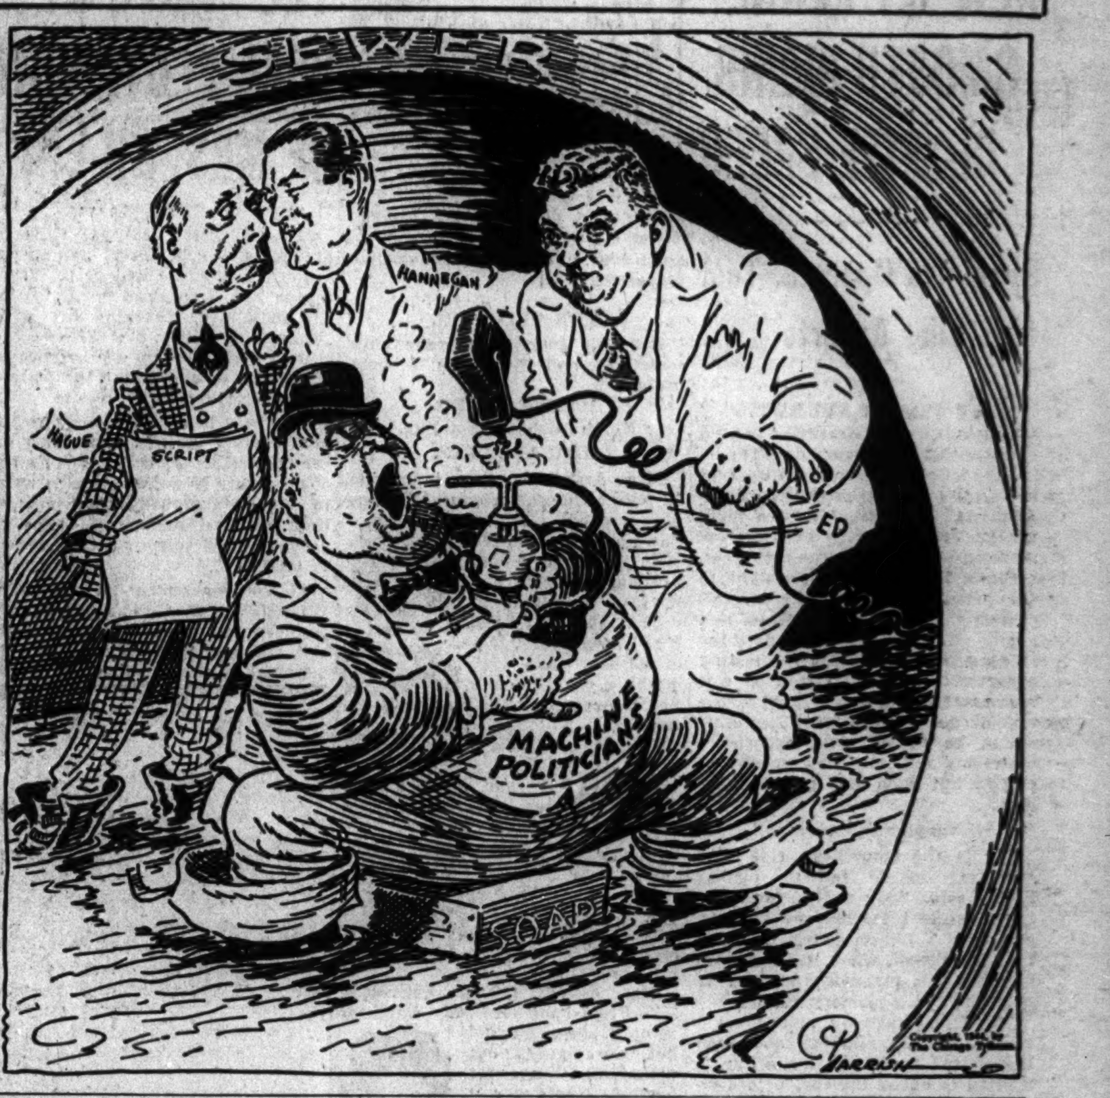
GETTING "THE PEOPLE'S CALL" IN GOOD VOICE AGAIN



Front Views & Profiles

By MARCIA WINN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

No Help Here.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—The great Williams murder mystery is arresting thought here as well as in Chicago. The headlines about it are not quite as large, for Washington newspapers throw headlines and large type about so indiscriminately that the casual reader has difficulty even on routine days in deciding which is a headline, which is a news story, but solution of the murder is an absorbing bar and tea table conversational topic.

After several days of agreement, the consensus is that certain persons should be immediately ruled out as suspects. One is Alfred de Marigny. Local mystery fans do not believe he had a thing to do with it. Another is Wayne Lonergan of New York. He is neither plump nor middle aged, as the vanishing suspect was said to have been, and would look fearsome in a red flowered hat. A third is Harold L. Ickes. Mr. Ickes has been too busy here denying that he is the villain in a mysterious letter matter, now in the hands of federal authorities, to be shooting in Chicago. He also has been busy getting his private telephone number changed after a friendly columnist published it 10 days ago. Until it was changed, he was busy answering it, for hundreds of well-wishers, who had never before dreamed of telephoning Mr. Ickes, took that opportunity to do so. At the moment Mrs. Williams was shot, Mr. Ickes, so we understand, was answering his telephone with the evasive: "Schmootz bakery!" Too, his shooting arm is in a sling to nurse a collar bone broken when he stumbled out of bed one morning.

In the interests of pure journalism, we went thru the telephone directory and called a few of the more important citizenry who don't mind having their telephone numbers in print. Their opinions are here given objectively. With no semblance of the passion in which they were uttered:

J. Edgar Bloover, a gentleman sleuth:

"I cannot believe it the work of the Capone mob. They never wear Persian lamb."

Ambassador Joseph H. Brew, a gentleman cognizant of the quirks of the Japanese mind:

"I do not think the mikado did it. It would have necessitated a long, fatiguing trip and would have violated The Hague conventions."

Brenda Starr, girl reporter:

"I don't think the murderer wore a red hat at all. It would have been too conspicuous. I am about to go to work on this."

Lord Holdfast, a tall Briton:

"I think it a mistake to make an international incident of this. The British embassy washes its hands."

Col. O. C. Wobbly, head of a uniformed ladies' corps:

"I have no authority to speak. You will have to ask the war department. However, I am confident no uniformed lady was in the Drake hotel the afternoon of the shooting."

Marfa, a tall Scandinavian princess living on a nearby estate, Boob's hill:

"It couldn't have been suicide, could it? No one in Chicago, that den of gangsters, ever has a chance to commit suicide."

Mrs. Helenor Goesabout, a lady sometimes in the White House, sometimes 20,000 leagues over the sea:

"That is an interesting question. Mmmmmm . . . I think you will find the answer to it in the next election returns. Mmmmmm . . . too, we are ignoring our youth. It is our responsibility to do something about our youth. Mmmmmm . . ."

Mr. C. Slewmansky, a Russian who lives in a white marble embassy:

"Any one who tries to say the soviet government inspired this murder is a Trotzky-ite. Read Pravda for our reply."

Mr. O. T. Willard, descendant of Frances Willard, who did not found a hotel:

"I think the press has been misinformed. I know the Drake hotel well. There could never be a murder in the Drake hotel."

ASSUME YOU'RE A COMMUNIST.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—I believe that all Americans who wish to preserve the united nations as a bulwark for post-war peace would do well to assume a reversal of the present situation before passing judgment on Russia's current publication of a rumor of a German-British meeting to discuss termination of the war.

Assume that the United States had been expending 80 per cent of the casualties of the common war, and 90 per cent of the property destruction for 2½ years. Assume that meanwhile a substantial anti-American press within our allied countries had kept up continuous propaganda designed to undermine confidence in us. Assume also that a question of our post-war boundaries with a certain country had arisen and that our chief allies were now offering to mediate as to whether we give up territory populated largely by Americans which had been under the American flag for centuries and had been taken from us by force at the end of the last war. To make the picture more realistic, assume our country to be several times more powerful now than at any previous period in our history.

Under such circumstances, would the rest of the world be warranted in assuming that we had abandoned all desire for collaboration if our press published as rumor a report from "usually reliable sources" that high personages from an allied country had had secret peace feeler meetings with an enemy official? Would world public opinion be warranted in assuming our perfidy to the common cause if we used such a report as prod or pressure on allies to be more considerate of our historic and ethnic rights in boundary questions, and/or to speed up their participation in the blood cost of emancipation from Nazi oppression?

I believe that the answer is plain—that the press of the United States might actually be less moderate than Pravda in the handling of such a report under such circumstances.

Harland H. Allen,
Acting chairman,
Chicago Council of Amer.-Soviet Friendship.

ANOTHER WHITE ELEPHANT?

Batavia, Ill., Jan. 12.—In his message to congress, President Roosevelt said: "There are millions of American men and women who are not in this war at all. It is not because they do not want to be in it. But they want to know where they can best do their share."

United States employment offices are sprinkled all over this country. I thought they were established for the specific purpose of letting people know where best they could serve in the war. Is the President confessing that another of his agencies is just a white elephant, and the food it eats is not hay?

Mrs. J. T. Morton.

POOR RICHARD'S NAMESAKES.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—Just a line to express our appreciation of the World's Greatest Newspaper's recognition of Franklin's birthday with one of Joe Parrish's excellent cartoons on the first page, a clever one by Carl Somdal on the editorial page, and a mention with a fine small picture in the Wake of the News.

Benjamin Franklin Affleck,
Chairman, The Benjamin Franklins.

THE ARMY BIBLE FOREWORD.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—These are some excerpts from a letter I wrote to Rep. Johnson, who accused the President of furnishing the foreword in Bibles and Testaments used by the army and navy as propaganda for a fourth term.

"I am a member of the executive committee of the Gideons and the letter to which you alluded was written for the Gideons, at our request, three years ago. After the writing of this letter for the Gideon Testaments, which are furnished free of charge to the army, other organizations asked the President for a similar letter, to which he complied.

"We believe, in all fairness to our President, that you should know these facts." Robert C. Van Kampen, International Treasurer, The Gideons.

THEORY.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Your colored map history of the partitions of Poland thru the centuries, and the story of the miniature riot on a street car because the conductor called Crawford avenue instead of Pulaski road, are really related.

Thousands of Chicagoans deeply resent the political subserviency of the city council and mayor in authorizing the change in name and take it out in lack of sympathy for the troubles of the Poles in the European homeland.

W. V.

FEATHERED FRIENDS.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—You don't know what a treat it was to me to find the bird pictures on your back page this morning. I have had all these birds in my garden at different times and enjoy feeding them, which I think every one should do at this time of the year. There is still plenty of bread going to waste and it takes such a few minutes to break it up and throw it out to them. I have cut out the picture to frame. Gussie B. Ward.

DID THEY LEND-LEASE THE TREES?

Chicago, Jan. 21.—What ever became of that tree planting plan that the administration spent so much money on in the dust bowl to prevent just such a drouth as is again confronting us?

Marshall Beymer.

JURY SERVICE.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—[Legal Friend of the People].—A friend contends that when one receives written notice of jury duty, the summons specifies [1] the type of jury on which one is to serve, such as grand jury, etc. I do not agree. 2. I should like to know, also, whether an employer is required to pay his employe for the time the latter serves on a jury. K. S.

1. He is right, as far as the distinction between grand jury and petty jury are concerned; also as far as the distinctions between federal and state are concerned.

2. Rights of an employe against his employer depend on the contract of employment. For example, if he is employed by the day he will get no pay for days that he is off. If he is employed by the year, he probably will get pay from both sources.

EX-HIGHWAY COP TAKES STAND IN GAMBLING TRIAL

Equipment Smashing Told by Prosecutor.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

Philip Schwartz, former county highway policeman, took the witness stand in his own defense late yesterday in the gambling conspiracy trial that resulted from a raid last Sept. 8 on The Dome, a big money gambling resort at 7466 Irving Park road. Schwartz and former Lt. Myles McDonough are the defendants held responsible for the dissapearance of seven roulette wheels valued at $3,000 each.

Meanwhile State's Atty. Courtney won a victory in one of his gambling prosecutions of two years ago when the conviction of George C. Blameuser, president of the village of Skokie, was upheld by the Appellate court. Courtney's men also were assisting in a civil service hearing in the first of the trials of nine police captains suspended in the grand jury investigation that followed the raid on The Dome.

Earlier, Wilbur F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, testified in the trial, which is before Judge Rudolph Desort in the Criminal court. Crowley said he questioned McDonough and Schwartz in his office Sept. 15, after the roulette wheels were found to be missing.

Denies Smashing Equipment.

"McDonough told me he smashed six dice tables with a sledgehammer and helped Schwartz and Policeman Nudelman break up five roulette wheels," Crowley said.

"I questioned Schwartz and he told me he hadn't smashed any of the equipment."

Crowley said he first learned that The Dome was a gambling place July 19. After he finished and the defense attorneys made a motion for a directed verdict of not guilty for the two policeman, Assistant State's Atty. Richard Austin argued that McDonough and Schwartz knew The Dome was a gambling house from and after the same date, and did nothing to close it.

Schwartz made a sort of raid on the place July 19, it was shown. When the place finally was raided by state's attorney's police, Sept. 8, the equipment seized was turned over to McDonough to be held as evidence. McDonough later said he had destroyed it.

Blameuser Silent.

The Blameuser decision was written by Justice David F. Matchett and concurred in by Justices John M. O'Connor and Grover C. Niemeyer. When told of it Blameuser said he had no comment.

In the trial there was a stipulation that there were slot machines in 42 taverns and restaurants in Skokie in 1941 and that police officers under Blameuser took no action against them. It was stipulated that the police had no orders to remove them.

His appeal from his conviction was based on the claim that the indictment was faulty. Justice Matchett said the indictment was sufficiently clear so that Blameuser knew with what he was charged.

Sought Information.

At the civil service hearing of charges against Capt. Walter Healy of the Hyde Park station, who was suspended along with eight other captains after the Dome case had led to a grand jury investigation, the state's attorney's records of 20 addresses in Hyde Park were introduced into evidence.

Edward M. Scholer, an investigator for State's Atty. Courtney, spent all day on the witness stand. He said he hired investigators who were not on the county pay roll but who were paid by him with money obtained from Courtney's contingent fund.

Scholer said his men visited many places listed in the charges against Capt. Healy. Sometimes they were closed, he said. His records showed 13 visits by his investigators to one of the addresses, 3979 Cottage Grove avenue. It was closed on all of these occasions, he said.

FUEL OIL RULES ARE RELAXED IN HARDSHIP CASES

A rationing official said yesterday that local boards and suppliers have been notified to honor immediately all period 4 and 5 coupons for fuel oil in hardship cases. He added, however, that no official notice to that effect will be made public by the office of price administration. Its officials, he said, fear that any announcement would at once "make people careless and burn more oil than necessary."

Asked how Prof. Joel Dean, chief of fuel oil rationing for OPA, expects several thousand families who have run out of oil to know they may now have it, the official replied:

"I don't know. Washington won't allow any of the area or regional officers to comment or give out any information. I guess those who need oil bad enough will find out all right."

Period 4 coupons normally become valid Feb. 8 and the 5's on March 13.

Friend of the Yanks' Kin

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

R. D. writes: "Some time ago I read in your column that recordings made by relatives may not be sent to service men overseas. My mother is planning to make a record for my brother whom she has not seen for two years. I would like to know if this ruling is still in force. Since commercial records are permitted, I cannot see any reason for restricting home-made recordings. If letters are good for morale, wouldn't records be even better?"

ANSWER: There has been no change in the restriction which forbids the transmitting of individually made recordings overseas. Commercial records are permitted, since their exact contents is known, but individual recordings would have to be censored individually and might present an excellent opportunity for our enemies to transmit information.

Mrs. R. R. writes: I have been notified by the war department that my husband, who is in the army air corps, has been interned in Sweden. They have promised to send further information when it is available, but I am interested in knowing whether it would be possible for me to communicate with him."

ANSWER: Men who are interned in Sweden are cared for by their Department of National Defense, and they may also have the assistance of the American Legation in that country. Communications to such internees may be addressed to the Military Intelligence service, Room 1-C-774, Pentagon building, Washington, D. C. Letters sent to that address will be forwarded.

Mrs. N. H. writes: "Under what conditions may the former wife of a service man divorced obtain an allowance for herself?"

ANSWER: A former wife divorced is entitled to a family allowance only if she has a court order for support or alimony.

Mrs. O. M. writes: "If an American service man stationed in a foreign country married a woman who is a citizen of that country in which he is serving, will the wife be eligible for the benefits paid wives in this country?"

ANSWER: Yes, the legal wife of any American soldier in the enlisted grades is entitled to a family allowance, regardless of her whereabouts or citizenship.

Mrs. A. R. asks: "I would like to know how we can help my sister whose husband deserted her and joined the Seabees. She has not heard from him and has not received any financial help. A letter to the Adjutant General's office has brought no reply. This man's wife is just recovering from an operation and has no means of support."

ANSWER: The Adjutant General's office could not advise your sister concerning a man in the navy. The woman in question should address her inquiry to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy department, Washington, D. C. She should supply complete identifying information concerning her husband and also proof of her marriage. That office will then give her any required information or assistance.

TEAMSTERS' TWO FACTIONS HOLD PEACE PARLEY

Leaders of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters [AFL] and the independent Chicago Truck Drivers' union, local 705, met last night to open negotiations for settlement of a membership feud that had caused some labor observers to fear violence and a tieup of freight transportation.

Lt. George Barnes of the police labor detail, it was reported, stepped into the breach between the two unions when federal agencies failed to act, and arranged for the conference. Barnes said he expected the differences to be settled "in a day or two."

Barnes Predicts Labor Miracle.

"It will be a miracle, seeing teamsters get together peacefully, when we remember what used to happen 25 years ago," he said.

The current dispute developed last week when each side accused the other of "raiding" its members. The IBT spokesman charged the officers of the independent with becoming too ambitious because of salary increases. They also said the independents had derived free benefits from contracts made by the IBT with cartage associations, and from labor legislation for which the IBT worked.

Brotherhood Puts Out Pickets.

Officers of the independent local said the IBT was trying to "gobble up" their members. The IBT has 80,000 members in Chicago and the independent 5,800. IBT business agents began picketing several cartage companies last week to win over independent drivers.

The worst teamster strike in Chicago's history occurred in the summer of 1905 when the late Cornelius P. Shea was head of the international brotherhood. It lasted 105 days, with 4,620 men out. Twenty-one men were killed and 416 injured. In the more recent years of the Nitti-Ricca-Campagna interference in teamsters' union affairs four labor leaders have been assassinated.

OFFICIAL OF FINANCE FIRM PLEADS GUILTY AT GRAFT HEARING

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 24 [Special].—With one plea of guilty entered, the arraignment of legislators, former legislators, and finance company officials on grand jury charges of graft conspiracy was progressing today before Judge Leland W. Carr, Ingham county jurist who ordered the arrests.

A warrant for 26 persons accused of participating in a conspiracy to control small loan legislation during the 1939 session was issued Saturday.

Leading the parade before Judge Carr was Ernest J. Prew, 49 years old, vice president of the General Finance corporation of Detroit, who waived examination and entered a plea of guilty. He was released under $2,500 bond, pending a sentence at a future date.

Three other finance company officials, two state senators, two former senators, six representatives, and a former representative all demanded hearings, which were set for Feb. 2. Bond for each was fixed at $2,500.

AFL SHUTS DOOR ON LEWIS, BUT DOESN'T LOCK IT

BY GEORGE HARTMANN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami, Fla., Jan. 24.—John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers cannot return to the American Federation of Labor unless Lewis agrees to give up the membership of district 50, the AFL executive council decided today.

After considering the UMW application for readmittance in a "sympathetic way," the council voted that more meetings should be held between its committee and the UMW committee for the purpose of "clarifying all questions that have not been settled." It proposed "that the UMW return to the AFL with the jurisdiction it had when it left the AFL."

President William Green of the AFL, at a press conference following the meeting, explained that this action was taken because a "great number" of jurisdictional complaints have been received from AFL unions that claim workers who now are members of district 50.

Lewis Offers Compromise

Lewis, it was learned, offered to give up approximately 2,500 members of district 50 who are railroad workers and building tradesmen, but refused to give up chemical workers and others because there are no international AFL unions for them.

Green explained that when the UMW left the AFL in 1936 to form the CIO, it was paying per capita taxes to the AFL on 400,000 members who were working in coal mines and operating coke ovens. Since then district 50 has been formed by Lewis with jurisdiction over workers in industries having coal derivities. The UMW now claims a membership of over 500,000.

Chemical Workers Apply.

A new complication to the UMW's reaffiliation developed today when representatives of the AFL National Chemical Workers' union applied for an AFL charter as an international union. Green said the applicants claimed 45,000 members.

If the charter is granted to the chemical workers, they will be in a position to claim the chemical workers in district 50. Green said that the council would rule on the application before the end of its present meeting.

EDDIE STURCH LOSES APPEAL ON JAIL TERM

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday upheld the three months county jail sentence and $200 fine imposed upon Eddie Sturch, ex-convict and minor 42d ward Democratic politician. He was sentenced Feb. 5, 1943, after a Criminal court jury found him guilty of malicious mischief for smashing whisky bottles, firing a couple of aimless shots, and terrorizing patrons in a tavern at 701 North Clark street, Dec. 2, 1942.

He has been at liberty on a $2,500 bond since his attorney filed a writ of error with the appeals court asking that the jury verdict and Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski's sentence be set aside.

Sturch's appeal from conviction was based upon his contention that he was part owner of the tavern.

F. D. R. PARDONS GENERAL CITED IN HAWAII CASE

Richardson Is Cleared of Contempt Charge.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Stepping into a struggle between the United States army and civil authorities in Hawaii, President Roosevelt has pardoned Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson Jr., who was fined for contempt because he refused to obey a habeas corpus writ.

Gen. Richardson.

The President's action was disclosed by the justice department today. Richardson, commanding general of the army's Hawaiian department, was cited last year by Federal Judge Delbert E. Metzger in Honolulu, bringing to a head a dispute over the question whether the right of habeas corpus prevails under partial martial law.

Richardson refused to produce two prisoners held incommunicado by the army, contending that despite a limited restoration of civil rights the army still had the privilege of holding prisoners without trial.

Balks Court Test.

The justice department's announcement of the President's action, which heads off proposed court tests of the conflict, came on the last day on which an appeal could be filed.

Judge Metzger originally levied a $5,000 fine on Richardson who promptly retaliated by issuing an order forbidding any trials of habeas corpus writs and calling for a $5,000 fine on any judge that violated the order. The war department backed up its general.

The justice department intervened to break the stalemate. Judge Metzger subsequently reduced the contempt fine to $100 and Richardson withdrew his order.

Prisoners Since Released.

The two prisoners involved were naturalized citizens of German ancestry, Edwin R. Seifert and Walter Glockman. Seifert said he was charged with anti-Semitism and Glockman reported he was accused of giving a Hitler salute in 1938 and inviting friends onto a German ship. Both have since been released.

Martial law was imposed in Hawaii shortly after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Protests from territorial officials brought a restoration of 18 powers to civil authorities in 1943. However, habeas corpus was still suspended.

Judge Metzger contended that if the civil courts regained part of their jurisdiction, all of their powers must be restored, including the right to issue a writ of habeas corpus.

DRIVER OF MAIL TRUCK FATALLY HURT IN CRASH

Clarence Johnson, 45 years old, 5713 Calumet avenue, a Negro mail truck driver, died last night in Holy Cross hospital of injuries received when his truck overturned after colliding with an automobile yesterday at 59th street and Pulaski road. William D. Gorson, 34, of 4824 South Park way, also a Negro, driver of the automobile, was taken to Bridewell hospital by Chicago Lawn police. He suffered a back injury.

Frank Cech, 72, of 4525 Keystone avenue, was injured fatally last night when he was struck by a Chicago Surface lines bus at 75th street and Pulaski road. He was pronounced dead at Holy Cross hospital. Elvin Eger, 34, of 8820 Elizabeth street, bus driver, told police he did not see Cech, but felt a bump when the bus struck him. He was not held.

CHAMPAIGN MEN ADMIT GUILT IN WHITE SLAVERY

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 24 [Special].—Guilty pleas to white slave charges were entered before United States Commissioner Robert C. Enlow here today by William Wilbur Smith, 32 years old, and Henry Ellis Mayberry, 29, both of Champaign, Ill. They were held in the Vanderburgh county jail under $2,500 bonds pending grand jury action.

D. S. Hostetter, special agent in charge of the federal bureau of investigation in Indiana, said the two men transported Mildred Roberts, 19, and Lyda Hufty, 21, tavern waitresses, from Champaign to Princeton, Ind., on Jan. 19.

Smith recently received a medical discharge from the army, and Mayberry was recently released from the Illinois state penitentiary after serving 8 years of a 14 year sentence on a murder charge, FBI agents said.

BLAST KILLS 5 AND INJURES 11 IN STEEL PLANT

Five men were killed and 11 men and women were injured yesterday when a stand by steam turbine exploded in the No. 3 power station of the big South Chicago plant of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation. The turbine was being tested before being put into service. A company spokesman said, "We doubt very much that there was sabotage."

John Minford.

The turbine, which generated 8,000 kilowatts of electric energy, let go with terrific force. Pieces of steel whipped about the big room like shrapnel. A section was blown out in one brick wall. The roar was heard over a wide area. Officials said production would not be affected.

The five killed were foremen or engineers who were checking the performance of the turbine and were working near it. They were E. E. Stricklen, 29 years old, 7342 Kingston avenue; John Minford, 33, of 7726 Jeffery avenue; Harry Branch, 56, of 8830 Indiana avenue, Joseph Hlinka, 40, of 9331 Kimbark avenue, and Bernard Nawrocki, 41, of 8346 Brandon avenue.

William Wisnowski of 231 West 104th street suffered a fractured collar bone but the other 10 persons suffered only slight injuries.

PROBE OF 2 U. S. JUDGES ASKED BY HOUSE GROUP

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Rep. Sumners [D., Tex.], chairman of the house judiciary committee, today introduced two resolutions to authorize a congressional investigation of Federal Judges Albert W. Johnson and Albert L. Watson of the middle district of Pennsylvania.

Judge Watson.

The resolutions would authorize the judiciary committee "to determine whether the judges or either of them have been guilty of any high crime or misdemeanor" and would allow $2,500 for expenses of the investigation.

The resolution did not mention specific charges, and Sumners was not immediately available for comment. Rep. Kefauver [D., Tenn.], a member of the committee appointed by Sumners to study the cases, said the investigation, if authorized, would concern "bankruptcy proceedings and the general administration of justice" by the two judges.

GRANDMOTHER TO CHRISTEN SHIP NAMED FOR HERO

Mrs. Delia Mulheran, 7915 Morgan street, will christen the U. S. S. Joseph M. Auman, a destroyer escort vessel named in honor of her grandson, a marine private who was killed in action on Guadalcanal Nov. 12, 1942, when it is launched in Pittsburgh, Pa., Saturday.

Auman was killed while covering a temporary withdrawal of his company. He had taken part in landing assaults against strongly defended Jap positions on Tulagi, Gavutu, Tanembogo, Florida, and Guadalcanal in the Solomons. He was posthumously awarded the navy cross, the Purple Heart, and a copy of the Presidential unit citation for the first marine division.

The citation for the navy cross stated that Pvt. Altman, "with utter disregard for his own personal safety, manned a machine gun and covered the forced retirement of his company." He continued to fire the machine gun until he was killed by the enemy.

Evanston Council Backs $50,000 War Memorial

The Evanston city council last night approved recommendations by the Evanston Citizens Advisory Committee for Post-War Planning and the Evanston War Memorial committee to remove the fountain from Fountain square and erect a suitable war memorial in its place. The council approved a campaign to raise $50,000 for the purpose by popular subscription.

Fire Victims

Mrs. Winifred Haak, 20, and her brother, Benny Strahs, 16.

Three persons who burned to death in their home at Pembine, Wis., Sunday after a stove explosion and fire were identified yesterday as former residents of Homewood and Bellwood. The dead are Miss Anna Marcellis, 49 years old, a former housekeeper in the rectory of St. Joseph's church, Homewood; her mother, Mrs. Nathalie Marcellis, 73, a bedridden invalid, and Benny Strahs, 16, a grandson of Mrs. Marcellis, who formerly lived in Bellwood. The boy's sister, Mrs. Winifred Haak, 20, of 610 South 24th avenue, Bellwood, was burned critically while assisting in the removal of her grandmother and brother.

GROUP DEFENDS CLUB, PAPER AT HYDE PARK HIGH

Ira Latimer, secretary of the Chicago Civil Liberties committee, affiliated with the American Civil Liberties union, said last night the committee will oppose any infringement of civil rights of Hyde Park High school students, some of whom have met opposition in connection with a Student Forum club and publication of a newspaper, Student Opinion.

Latimer and others of the Civil Liberties committee were to appear tonight at a mass meeting, which was postponed after a conference yesterday of students, parents, and Philip Wain, co-chairman of the Civil Liberties committee, with Principal Joseph F. Gonnelly.

Gonnelly said he would consider requests for reinstatement of the Student Forum, which was dissolved last fall, with dues returned to members, and for permitting students more freedom in selecting student activity sponsors. William Hugle, former president of the Student Forum, resigned last fall because of reported school opposition to his connection with Student Opinion.

The newspaper is published by Hyde Park High school students, but is not a high school sponsored paper. It appears every two weeks and is printed and published away from the high school.

ECLIPSE OF SUN TODAY VISIBLE IN THREE AREAS

Dr. Oliver J. Lee, director of Northwestern university's Dearborn observatory, said yesterday that today's total eclipse of the sun may be seen only in parts of Peru, Brazil, and West Africa, altho a partial eclipse will be visible in Arizona, New Mexico, Puerto Rico, Central America, western Europe, and northwest Africa. Today's eclipse will be the sole total one for 1944.

WURTH—Annie [Adna] Wurth, nee Binder, Jan. 22, beloved wife of the late Gottlieb J., dear mother of Clara, Walter, Edna Rayberg, Clarence, and Laura, grandmother of Sgt. Gail and Sgt. Robert, U. S. A., great-grandmother of Richard, sister of Ida and Rose Kruse, William Binder of Swedberg, Mo., Lottie Witt, and the late Henry Binder and Emma Weber. Funeral Wednesday, Jan. 26 at 2:30 p. m. at late residence, 5846 N. Campbell avenue. Interment Ridgewood.

New President of St. Luke's Board Chosen

BY JUDITH CASS.

MRS. WALTER B. WOLF, who has served for many years as vice president of the woman's board of St. Luke's hospital, was elected yesterday as the board's president. After 17 years' service in that office Mrs. John W. Gary resigned because of the strain on her health. Mrs. Gary was made honorary president at yesterday's meeting, which was held at the hospital.

Mrs. I. Newton Perry was elected to fill the first vice presidency, and others elected were: Mrs. Selim W. McArthur, second vice president; Mrs. Joseph P. Ryerson, third vice president; Mrs. Harold C. Smith, recording secretary; Mrs. Paul Hollinger, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Charles F. Glore, treasurer; Mrs. W. Press Hodgkins, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Eric Oldberg, assistant secretary.

Wedding News.

Immediately after she and John L. Cochran were divorced Friday Mrs. Brush Cochran left for the east, and at noon today she and Edward A. Cudahy Jr. are being married in the home of his sister, Mrs. John N. Stearns Jr. of Glen Head, Long Island, N. Y. The quiet ceremony will be attended by members of the family and some of Mrs. Cochran's close friends who have gone east for the wedding. The bride's daughters, Mrs. Louis Lee Hemingway Jr. and Miss Nancy Cochran, will be present, as will Mr. Cudahy's three children, Mrs. Giorgio Pellegrini of New York and Anthony and Edward A. Cudahy Jr.

Another of Mr. Cudahy's sisters, Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm, has gone east for the ceremony, as have Mr. Wilhelm, Gerald Cudahy, Mrs. Cyrus Hill, Mrs. George F. McLaughlin, and Mrs. Press Hodgkins. After a wedding trip to Arizona, Mr. Cudahy and his bride will be at home about the middle of February at 2430 Lake View avenue. Mr. Cudahy's first wife was the late Margaret Carry Cudahy.

On Today's Calendar.

Members of the Woman's Athletic club and their guests will hear Seymour Korman, Tribune war correspondent, talk on "Italy Is Tough" at 11:30 a. m. today. Hostess at the speaker's table at luncheon following will be Mrs. John N. Ott. Among those she has invited to sit with Mr. Korman are Mrs. Bruce MacLeish, Mrs. Mark W. Trude, Mrs. John C. Slade, Mrs. Jay C. McCord, Mrs. Arthur Wakeley, Mrs. Rawleigh Warner, Mrs. Joseph Moller, and Mrs. Karl Gleiss. Some of those with reservations for luncheon following the lecture are Mrs. Robert Peacock, Mrs. John Bremner, Mrs. Charles Ward Seabury, and Mrs. Earl Reeve.

Perry Dunlap Smith, headmaster of the North Shore Country Day school, will be the guest speaker at the 60th annual meeting of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society at noon today in the La Salle hotel.

Lt. [j. g.] Hamlin Dunlap Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, is convalescing at the Great Lakes hospital from wounds received in action in the Southwest Pacific. He was skipper on a P-T boat.

The guest artist at a concert to be given in Ross auditorium at Great Lakes tonight to welcome Rear Adm. Arthur S. Carpender, new commandant of the 9th naval district, will be Miss Josephine Antoine, Metropolitan Opera star. It will be Miss Antoine's third appearance at the station within a year. She will be a guest at supper later of Capt. R. M. Emmett, commanding officer of Great Lakes.

Engagement News.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hopkins Hollingsworth, formerly of Chicago, have sent word from Lakewood, O., of the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Elizabeth, to Robert Gregory Feil of the coast guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Leonard Feil of Elmhurst. Miss Hollingsworth, who attended Miami university, is attending the school of nursing at Fairview hospital in Cleveland. She is a niece of Mrs. John Sharpless Fox, former president of the Woman's City club, and Mr. Fox of Dorchester avenue. Mr. Feil, who attended the University

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

My Income Tax.

Of course, it's been explained to me
In terms quite scientific.
The explanation, as you know,
Is clear as hieroglyphic.
The second explanation
[I listened mild and meek]
Is nothing much to comprehend—
In fact, it's simply Greek.
A third one sounds like Latin,
A fourth like Sanskrit—wild—
[I've just about concluded
That I'm a problem child.]

Now, if some explanation
Of explanations be—
Why, then I'll find my income tax
As plain as A B C!

In regard to loyalty as an office essential: I have left a perfectly good position because of the appalling lack of loyalty among those closest to our employer, a fine person. In that office employing about 100 girls there were only a few who were deliberately malicious but those few spoiled the whole working atmosphere. The crowning touch was upon meeting one of the nicer girls who immediately murmured consolingly: "We miss you but we knew that you just had to leave because you didn't like the boss!"

Worse and Worse.

After reading Mr. Curtis' explanation I realized we defined the "oblique" character differently. The difference between a virgule and a solidus is substantially the same as the difference between a macron and a vinculum. In both instances the former is employed with words and the latter with figures or mathematical expressions.

And while on the subject of what every WCG should know, how does she pronounce "viz." when she is requested to read this combination of three letters?

Fear Hoarding of Ration Chips in OPA Setup

The office of price administration yesterday changed its rules again on the use of tokens as ration coupon change, and increased the privately expressed fears of regional and local OPA officials that their use will create new headaches rather that banish existing ones.

In announcing that green stamps K, L, and M in ration book 4 will become valid Feb. 1 thru March 20 for processed foods, the OPA in Washington said retailers will be permitted to give tokens as change for these coupons, contrary to a previous statement that they would not.

Three Chicago officials, who asked that their names not be used, said they feared wholesale conversion of stamps into tokens which will be hoarded for future use by homes that do not ordinarily use all their coupons.

◆

In the past, they said, hundreds of millions of coupons of each validity series have not been used, becoming worthless to consumers after their expiration dates.

Now, they said, unused coupons may be converted into tokens by offering larger denominations when buying food and getting tokens as change. The green stamps which become valid next week will be the last green ones to be used for processed foods in book 4, the OPA announcement said.

This, the three OPA chiefs said, will allow consumers to convert a large share of them between Feb. 27, when the tokens go into use, and March 20, when the green stamps expire. Then, when the blue stamps, each worth 10 points, become valid, the hoarding of tokens will be much easier, because there will be no 1, 2, 5, and 8 point stamps and nearly all purchases will require token change.

◆

Comparatively low point values of pork and some other meats, as well as certain processed fruits and vegetables, which are currently in abundant supply, will permit many families to get along on fewer points than they have, it was pointed out, providing an incentive to save tokens for a time when supplies may be less and point value higher.

Here Are Recipes for Some of Items on Current Menus

Following are recipes for some of the dishes included on Mary Meade's ration budget menus this week:

Sausage Corn Casserole—Use 1 lb. bulk pork sausage and form four patties from part of it. Brown rest of sausage a few minutes. Make a white sauce of 3 tablespoons sausage drippings, 3 tablespoons flour, and 1½ cups milk. Mix 1 cup coarse cracker crumbs with a little sausage fat. Arrange crumbs, a No. 2 can whole kernel corn, browned sausage, and sauce in layers. Top with crumbs. Place the sausage patties on top. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees.

Fig Delight: Simmer ¾ cup figs in boiling water to cover for 10 to 15 minutes until tender. Drain, clip off stems, and cut into coarse pieces. Add ½ cup boiling water to 1 package lemon flavored gelatin, stir until dissolved, add ½ cup honey, and cool. Add 1 tall can evaporated milk and chill until dessert begins to thicken. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Fold in ¼ cup coarsely chopped nuts and the figs. Spread ¾ cup vanilla wafer crumbs in an 8 inch square pan, pour gelatin over them, sprinkle with ¾ cup crumbs, and chill until firm.

Other recipes will be given with Mary Meade's daily menus.

Remade Outfit Wins Prize

Mrs. Waldo Logan, whose hat, dicky, and purse made from her husband's pajamas, won first prize in a made-over clothes contest at the Key club yesterday.

A pair of gaudy red, white, and blue striped men's pajamas converted into a hat, dicky, and purse walked away with first prize [a war bond] in a contest of made-over clothes which was held during luncheon yesterday at the Key club. Mrs. Waldo Logan was the winning seamstress, and her husband the unwilling participant, for the pajamas, imported and several years old, were his favorite. The double rosette effect of the turban was made by starching the pants' legs and shirring them. Because so little material was left to make the purse, the breast pocket, intact, became a part of it and turned out to be a clever touch.

Mrs. Abner J. Stilwell and Mrs. William A. Callison wore suits remade from ones their husbands had discarded. Topping her dark suit, Mrs. Callison wore a scarlet wool coat lined with an old black Persian lamb coat. Little Rodney Davis, escorted during the show by her aunt, Mrs. George P. Braun Jr., wore a pinafore made out of old gingham kitchen curtains. As the club was filled with friends of the contestants, Mrs. Ole Olsen was drafted as an impartial observer to count the ballots.

Women in War Work

By Kate Massee

The WOWs [woman ordnance workers], "the girls behind the men behind the guns," have announced a new panel of national officers to serve in 1944. All are Chicagoland women.

Mrs. Delilah Giertz of Elgin, an inspector of secret timing devices for the Elgin National Watch company, is president. She is the founder of WOW posts 4, 13, and 30.

Miss Margaret Reed of Harvey, supervisor of process inspection at the Ammunition Container corporation, is national vice president and president of post 7.

Another national vice president is Miss Gwen Desplenter of Chicago, assistant advertising manager of the Mills Industries, Inc., and president of post 12.

Miss Mary Flannigan of Oak Park, supervisor of process inspection at the Borg-Warner corporation, Bellwood, is national corresponding secretary and president of post 17.

Miss Pauline Repta of Chicago, inspector of radio engineering products at the Stewart Warner corporation, is national recording secretary and past president of post 25.

◆

The WOWs were founded at the Hurley Machine company in Cicero Sept. 24, 1942, and now have a membership of more than 100,000 among women employed in war plants thruout the country. Their aim, in which they have succeeded, is to reduce absenteeism and encourage women to enter war work. WOWs also have been active in behalf of Red Cross blood donations.

Because the WOWs are a nonprofit organization, they have no treasurer. WOW membership is free.

Mrs. Caroline W. Budinger, executive secretary of the national organization, met with presidents of WOW posts in the Chicago area at 8 o'clock last night at the national headquarters, 31 North State street.

The conductor of this department is proud to have been appointed the first woman on the national advisory staff of WOW, effective this week.

Private 1st class Dorothy Graves of the marine corps women's reserve is temporarily assigned to the procurement office in the Board of Trade building while she is representing the marine corps in the annual meet of the Norge Ski club of Chicago, being held in Wrigley field.

She is the only woman contestant and has been awarded a trophy by Mrs. Edward J. Kelly, wife of the mayor, for being an outstanding skier in the service of the nation.

Pvt. Graves is the possessor of many trophies won as a member of the Brattleboro [Vt.] Ski club. Her home is in Greenfield, Mass., where she attended high school and held a job as war plant inspector before enlisting in the marines.

Pvt. Graves, who will compete in the ski meet again next Sunday, completed basic training at the marine corps station at Camp Lejeune, New River, N. C., last Dec. 12. She first served on mess duty in Washington, D. C., and after her assignment in Chicago she will be transferred to marine corps schools at Quantico, Va.

The first meeting of the WAC Mothers' club of Chicago will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the little theater of the Vogue School of Design, 116 South Michigan avenue. All Chicago mothers of WACs are invited to join the organization and participate in its formation.

Reservations for the meeting may be made with Capt. Elizabeth C. Graham, senior WAC recruiting officer in Chicago, at Wabash 6792. Her office is in room A-913, 175 West Jackson boulevard.

After the club has been fully organized, it will be autonomous, without supervision of the WAC.

Short Topcoat Is Becoming to Every Woman

BY REA SEEGER.

The new very short topcoats are getting a terrific rush. Every one wants one, the young and not so young, for the snap and swank of the three-quarter length is universally becoming. There are three distinctive silhouettes, the coolie, the boxy little boy coat, and the many versions of the officer's short coat with or without a belt. Practically every imaginable color and material is available—white and creamy ivory tones for down south traffic, clear strong reds, bright blues, gold and vivid greens, and the swanky winter navy and blacks.

◆

Flannel, fleece, tweeds, and even gleaming satins are used for officer models. The satin affairs are to be worn with party clothes and for summer wardrobes. These shiny satin beauties have a very generous wrap over section in front. The belt changes the silhouette. Without the belt such a short coat flares dramatically at the back. With the belt cinched in smartly around the waist, an entirely different coat is managed, hence the rapidly rising popularity of such a charmer.

◆

The snappiest short coats are the checked wool affairs, smoothies for spring, in navy blue and white and the smart black and white patterns. The huge checks are especially striking, but the small pin checks are ideal for the larger figure and the conservative woman. There's an inimitable verve and snap to checks, they bob up blithely every spring and work magic with high colors as well as street shades in slim one piece dresses and suits. Later they will serve as the all purpose spring coat for cotton and linen and all late spring and summer clothes. It's the slick youthful brevity and simplicity of these coats that gives them all the shopping popularity.

Art Institute Pledged to Uphold Standards, Governors Are Told

At the annual luncheon meeting of governing members of the Art institute of Chicago, held yesterday in gallery 45 of the institute, Chauncey McCormick, vice president presiding, declared that the board of trustees is resolved "not to break faith with the people of Chicago by lowering our great standards or by curtailing our significant services, now more important than ever."

In summing up the outstanding happenings at the institute in the last year, Daniel Catton Rich spoke of the loan of 51 French paintings from the collection of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Dale as the most notable event. Titian's "Education of Cupid," presented by Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Worcester, was named the most important single gift of the year, while a collection of 24 medieval articles for the Lucy Maud Buckingham memorial was termed the most important purchase. Mr. Rich said the institute hopes to expand geographically thruout Chicago by branches and circulating exhibits.

Tomorrow the board of trustees will meet to elect a successor to Potter Palmer, its late president.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 24.—Now that academy awards are in order, I know our people will be too smart to pass up recognition for actors and actresses who gave performances under fire and in foxholes. When the roll call comes around, I believe you'll find that Joe E. Brown, who has passed the half century mark, has played to more boys and traveled farther than any of the others. He left New York Nov. 10 and returns Feb. 15, having done Africa, Tunisia, Italy, India, China, Alaska, the Aleutians, Attu, and all islands in the South seas. This is his second tour, and he started out against his doctor's orders. Joe has given three sons to the air forces. One lost his life. . . . Letters are pouring in from all over about Joe. Recently one came from China. He flew 800 miles to cheer 80 boys, and while the show was going on, the Japs came over. Three Jap planes were shot down, then the show went on. I don't know what kind of an award we can give a man like Joe, but, by golly, he and all the rest deserve the thanks of the entire industry—yes, and of the country, too.

With the Younger Set.

I ran into Mrs. Joe E. Brown the other day, and what do you think her daughter Joan and Russell Birdwell's daughter have done? They've been pals for six years, and are roommates at Merrymount school. They saved up $12 and bought a sweater for Frank Sinatra. "And," says Mrs. Brown, "it's all we can do to keep one comedian clothed!" The other night she met Sinatra at Chasen's and asked for a return of those 12 bucks. He said, "Gosh! That Miss Brown—does she belong to you?" The crooner had already written a note thanking the kids and asking where he could get more sweaters like theirs — and he'll add another one for Joe E. Brown! . . . The Pied Pipers, who left Tommy Dorsey to join Bob Crosby, are in "Sweet and Lowdown" with Benny Goodman. I'm told by those who should know that Sinatra didn't even know that his manager and publicity agent had hired a claque—that has been a custom of the New York bands for many years. It was started by Goodman.

What's Really Serious.

Gladys George caught her heel in the hem of her dress, which threw her to her knees and injured her back. But the only thing she griped about was her new pair of nylon hose! . . . Marion Bell, Bob Leonard's protegee, had her first fan letter from Marion Bell of New York, who wrote that she's a singer, too, and asked for a picture to see if they looked alike. . . . Rosemary De Camp is again in Pittsburgh, Cal., visiting her husband, Sgt. John Shidler. . . . Lois Collier loves the sound of the local wolves howling when she spends her Saturday nights at the Masquers club for the wounded. . . . Having laundry trouble? Bing Crosby doesn't. He's been getting good service for years from Sam Wong. Sam just loves washing those rainbow wrecking outboard affairs the groaner favors.

A New Contender.

Eddie Sherman, who's been Abbott and Costello's manager, goes into production in February with a story called "A WAVE, a WAC, and a SPAR," to be directed by Phil Karlstein. President of the company is Costello's father. He used to be an insurance salesman, who almost burst a blood vessel when his son headed for Hollywood. Now he's eating his words and cooing about the place. . . . Now that Metro has canceled "The Pirates," Pandro Berman would like to make it as a musical, with Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire. . . . The George Gershwin estate has turned down $350,000 for film rights to "Porgy and Bess."

Good News at Last.

It worked—my campaign for a revival of "Snow White." Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio has issued a proclamation setting aside Feb. 24 to March 2 as "Snow White week." Governors of Kentucky, West Virginia, and Indiana are following suit. They're not doing "Snow White" as a reissue, but as a 50 city premiere. Meantime, Adrianna Cassalotti, Snow White's voice, has taken off for Cincinnati. Clarence Nash [Donald Duck], Pinto Colvig [Grumpy and Goofy], and Don Graham, who trained many of the artists that worked on the picture, also will go to Cincinnati where station WLW puts on a big ballyhoo for the premiere.

The Women's Advertising club of Chicago will hear Elmo Roper, market research consultant and assistant professor of journalism in the graduate school of Columbia university, discuss "What People Want" at a 6:15 o'clock dinner gathering tonight at the Chicago Bar association. Members may bring guests. Miss Esther Latzke will preside.

Cagney Is Cast in a New Kind of Screen Role

"JOHNNY COME LATELY."

A United Artists picture, directed by William K. Howard, starring James Cagney, with Grace George and Marjorie Main, and presented at the Chicago.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"Johnny Come Lately," adapted from Louis Bromfield's book, "McLeod's Folly," has the distinction of introducing the veteran actress, Grace George, to the screen. . . . It also presents James Cagney in a "different" and quieter role than usually falls to his lot—albeit permitting the smiling little Irishman to deliver a few telling socks on jaws that call for same.

Miss George plays Mrs. Vinnie McLeod, gallant widow of a wealthy publisher, who, since his death, has run the newspaper he started and continued to live in the huge old fashioned house he had built. . . . In her newspaper columns she comes right out and says what she thinks about the town's corrupt politics and bosses. . . . In her basement she feeds tramps, who, without her aid, would be arrested as vagrants and put to work on road gangs. . . .

Into her life—as a tramp—comes Tom Richards, dubbed "Johnny Come Lately" by the village boss. . . . In reality he's a lover of the open road and a newspaper man—when he chooses to work. . . . Mrs. McLeod saves him from jail, engages him to manage her paper. . . . Briefly the two of them put the powers of evil to route. . . .

All of which is not as simple as the foregoing reads. . . . The story is full of incident, interesting, but sometimes rather hackneyed.

Time is 1906. Costumes and sets are picturesque.

Miss George is a quaint and brittle old lady in her flowing skirts, old fashioned hat, and little cape, and you feel very sorry for her as she goes about keeping her chin up and pawning the old family silver. . . . She has much poise but little warmth. . . . Mr. Cagney, as always, has both—and you'll like him a lot.

Hattie McDaniel, as Mrs. McLeod's housekeeper who gets misery of the spirit and spoils the food if she thinks secrets are being kept from her, is amusing. Ed McNamara as the crooked contractor, Dougherty, is believable, and the audience enjoyed Marjorie Main as a dance hall owner.

The action rings in some romance and a little good old fashioned melodrama.

See you tomorrow.

INSTALMENT XIV.

AUNT GRACE QUESTIONED.

Elliot laughed.

"That, my dear Brenda, is why Albert was waiting for me. He said with perfect frankness that the family would try and put it on him, and he wanted an alibi. So he clung to me till well after midnight. But I'm in a position to say that he never got a chance of going anywhere near the study until after the accident must have happened."

"But no one knows when it happened—not exactly. How can they?" said Dicky.

"Well, as a matter of fact they can, because it began to rain just after 12, and the ground under the body was dry. The superintendent says it was coming down hard. Albert and I were having drinks in the dining room about then. It was nearly 10 past 12 when we got back to my room and said good-night. So I'm afraid it's no good picking on Albert for the family skeleton."

Brenda said, "Pity———" and with that the door opened and Albert Pearson came in.

"The superintendent would like to see Miss Paradine."

"Perhaps I had better see him here. What do you think?"

Elliot said,

"Shut that door, Albert! Look here, we've agreed that it's no use saying anything about what happened at dinner last night."

"O, quite—let sleeping dogs lie and all that. But it's not going to be so easy—is it?"

For the first time, Mark Paradine turned around, and Elliot was conscious of some degree of shock. The dark skin had a greenish tinge. There was a tension of every muscle. He said harshly,

"What do you mean?"

"They're not satisfied about its being an accident."

"What else could it be?" said Grace Paradine in deep indignant tones.

Albert turned to answer her.

"Well, they haven't said, Miss Paradine, but it's plain enough that they're not any too satisfied. You see, there are a lot of scratches and abrasions which must have been due to his striking the parapet. Dr. Horton says he must have come up against it hard, and they don't seem to think he'd have done that if he'd turned giddy. I'm afraid it's going to be awkward."

Supt. Vyner came in with something of the air of a docile bull in the traditional china shop. He was, as a matter of fact, uncomfortably conscious that the whole situation was, as Mr. Pearson had put it, awkward. He found it in his heart to wish that Dr. Frith, the police surgeon, was less positive about those cuts and bruises. Dr. Horton, now, he was all for making things easy for the family—hadn't been their doctor best part of 20 years for nothing.

The plain English of it was that it looked uncommon like Mr. Paradine had been pushed over that parapet, and the next thing after that was—who pushed him?

With these thoughts occupying his mind, he advanced into the room, and was aware of Miss Paradine, tall and dignified in a plain black dress. She inclined her head, bade him good-morning, and asked him to be seated. Looking about for a chair, he selected the one upon which Brenda Ambrose had been sitting, and wished the interview well over. The family had been dismissed. Miss Paradine was alone and gravely at her ease.

"This is a very sad accident, superintendent," she said.

He sat up straight in the Queen Anne chair, and he looked at the lady.

"Dr. Frith doesn't think it was an accident."

She had a handkerchief in her hand. She might have been crying, or she might not.

"Dr. Frith? What do you mean? Dr. Horton was my brother's doctor."

"Dr. Frith is the police surgeon. It's his opinion that it was no accident." He told her why.

She listened with increasing distress.

"But, superintendent—I can't believe it. You mean you think—no, Dr. Frith thinks—that my brother was pushed?"

"That's what he makes of the evidence, and I'm bound to say that's how it looks to me."

"But who—there's no one—it's too dreadful———"

"That's what we've got to find out. I take it you will give us all the assistance you can."

"Of course."

"Then perhaps you won't mind answering a few questions."

"O, no."

"I would like to ask whether there is any one you might suspect."

"Indeed there isn't."

"No one with a motive—no one who might have wanted him out of the way? No quarrels? No threats or threatening letters?"

"None that I knew about."

"No difference of opinion in the business—or in the family?"

Miss Paradine's tone was very cold as she replied, "Certainly not."

Vyner said with a shade of apology in his voice, "You mustn't mind my asking you these questions, they have to be answered. Now you had a family party here last night. These are the names as your butler gave them to me. Staying in the house, besides yourself and Mr. Paradine, there were Mr. and Mrs. Wray and Mr. Pearson. Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose, Miss Ambrose, and Miss Pennington, Mr. Mark Paradine, and Mr. Richard Paradine dined here. Is that correct?"

"Quite."

"At what time did you dine?"

"Eight o'clock is our dinner hour, but we were a few minutes late. Mr. Wray's visit was on business. We were not expecting him, and the meal was delayed."

"I see. Can you tell me when you left the dining room?"

"At about 9 o'clock, I suppose—I didn't notice particularly."

"The party broke up rather early, didn't it?"

"Mrs. Ambrose was anxious about her little girl. They left at about half-past 9."

"And Mr. Mark and Mr. Richard?"

"Soon afterwards."

The Child Can Be Cured of His 'No' Habit

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

When I take the tiny word "no" and put it in capitals and then talk about it as if it were important, well, that may sound like much ado about nothing. As a matter of fact it isn't. "NO" from baby lips trips up mothers more often than many a mightier word.

I'm sure lots of mothers feel as if some black magic had been worked over their cherubic small child of 2 or 3 when, suddenly, "No" comes popping out upon almost every occasion. Sometimes it's just a bland, quiet little "No"; sometimes it's an emphatic "No," and sometimes it's a stubborn or defiant "No." But whichever kind it is, it's a sort of red-rag-to-a-bull to many mothers.

It really shouldn't be. Mothers take it too seriously at first. In fact, it's only wrong management at the beginning of the "No" habit which turns it eventually into stubbornness or defiance; whereas if those first negatives were quietly ignored, the phase [for it is quite definitely a phase] would pass.

You'll realize, if you're a keen observer, that this "no" isn't a serious sort of negativism [to use a psychologist's word], because sometimes your little child will actually do the thing you suggest while he's saying "No."

Still, altho it isn't serious, we can't say that the "No" has no meaning. It is a sort of protest. Perhaps it's the child's first assertion of his will. He has widening interests, increasing desires and powers, and yet he's required to do many, many things at the request of some one else. Also he's often expected to do these things on the instant, whether he's busy [and his business is important to him], or whether he's lost in a pleasant haze of just being. His instinctive response then is "No." He may mean "I don't want to," but the chances are that he means, "I will, but wait a minute."

If you'll ignore the "No" as not being final; if you'll use patience and tact; if you'll be reasonable and sometimes explain; if you'll not give a lot of unnecessary commands, you'll find that this habit will quickly melt away.

Organ Recital by Nita Akin Is Spectacular

BY ALBERT GOLDBERG.

The organ as a concert instrument is a caviar taste that American audiences have not much cultivated. Looking at the console of such an instrument as that in Kimball hall, scarcely less complicated than the control panel of a B-24 bomber, our own reaction is that the wonder is not that any one plays the organ well, but that it can be played at all.

Yet Nita Akin, making her Chicago debut last night, subdued this massive monster with the same ease, and nonchalance as the lady who enters the lion's cage at the circus, and ends by making her charges turn somersaults, jump thru hoops, and then passively sit on a pedestal as if it were all a mere nothing.

Leo Sowerby, a Chicago composer with sometimes Puckish tendencies, may have had some idea like this in mind when he wrote his "Pageant." At any rate, it is not conventional organ music, and with it Miss Akin induced her instrument to do almost everything but roll over on its back, including a display of pedal technic that left us, at least, gaping. Earlier she had achieved some unusual effects in pieces by Garth Edmundson, and followed the Sowerby work with an imposing reconstruction of Cesar Franck's Chorale in A minor.

At Curtiss hall a young violinist, Claire Wellman, began her debut recital with Gabriel Fauré's first sonata, assisted at the piano sturdily and efficiently, but without much perceptiveness, by Vierlyn Clough Duerr. Nor was Miss Wellman's playing, in spite of her enthusiasm and her obviously good schooling, much inclined to sensitiveness, tonal suavity, or that foremost requirement of French music, style.

Voters League Members Will Have Training Class

Mrs. Marc A. Law of Highland Park will conduct a training class for Illinois League Voters members from 10 to 3 o'clock today in state headquarters at 225 North Michigan avenue preparatory to opening a campaign by the organization for a state constitutional convention.

On the Aisle

Marian Anderson.

Marian Anderson will sing her second recital of the Civic Opera house season Sunday afternoon, March 26, and tickets are on sale by mail order. However, there are no tickets left in any order for next Sunday afternoon when Artur Rubinstein appears with the Minneapolis symphony and Dimitri Mitropoulos. A locust tribe of customers has swept thru the house, devouring the orchestra pit as well as those extra rows installed by Olsen and Johnson.

Lily Pons and André Kostelanetz, meanwhile, have moved their Civic Opera date from April 30 to April 5, and Jan Kiepura, who was to have appeared in recital March 5, has canceled. No doubt this is because of the lingering New York success of "The Merry Widow," from which Marta Eggerth [Mrs. Kiepura] has said she must withdraw in five or six weeks. Kiepura was checking on his own contract at that time, probably having had enough of waltzing Prince Danilo, at least for this season.

Nothing definite has come in on a replacement for Guiomar Novaës in the Musical Arts Piano series March 21, altho Percy Grainger, Josef Lhevinne, and Jésus Maria Sanroma have been suggested. And a far away glimmer is the May 14 booking of 12 year old Genevieve Simms, who will go from Bach to boogie woogie at Orchestra hall. Her uncle is Dorothy Donegan's teacher.

Balletic Interlude.

Three of Ballet Theater's more important figures were at Mia Slavenska's Sunday afternoon recital—S. Hurok, the impresario; Alicia Markova, the ballerina, and Agnes de Mille, the choreographer. Mr. Hurok was taking Markova to join the troupe in San Francisco, and Miss de Mille was going along to work on her ballet called "Tally-ho!" They confirmed the rumor that Igor Youskevitch is a sailor now.

Rosy Figures.

"Oklahoma!" will play its 100th performance at the Erlanger next Monday night. It has not had a vacant seat at any performance, and all seats thru that night have been sold. This means about $344,560 poured into the box office by about 134,000 people.

Perils of Success.

Charging that Billy Rose and Oscar Hammerstein II. stole his "Hunks-a-dory" in staging "Carmen Jones," one Robert P. Steele has filed suit against them for literary piracy. Mr. Steele says he has traveled 20,000 miles and spent more than $15,000 trying to get 'Hunks-a dory" staged and that "Carmen Jones" is a deliberate and slavish copy. Is this Bizet or bizarre?

Notes.

Theater gossip now has "Good Night Ladies" deserting the Blackstone for Detroit about the middle of March, perhaps with a company of "The Voice of the Turtle" to follow. . . . Both "Kiss and Tell" and "Tomorrow the World" have just been tightened up by visiting stage directors. . . . Chic Johnson left the cast of "Sons o' Fun" to go to California yesterday, with Steve [Ole Bull] Olsen replacing him as usual. Ole Olsen will remain in the show until further notice.

Dearborn D. A. R. Chapter Will Hear Talk by Soldier

A meeting of the General Henry Dearborn chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at 1 p. m. today in the Cordon club will bring as guest speaker Sgt. Edward M. Green of Evanston, a 24 year old veteran of the present war. Sgt. Green, who has been a marine for six years, has seen service in New Caledonia, New Zealand, and Guadalcanal. At a preliminary session, delegates to both the forthcoming state conference and national congress will be elected.

The engagement of Miss Marilynne Jean Copping to Pvt. James Carr Olendorf was announced at a tea Sunday in the home of Miss Copping's aunt, Mrs. Lynn Ransom Leigh of Evanston. Miss Copping is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gale Edward Copping of Hartford, Mich., formerly of Oak Park. Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Olendorf of Decatur, Ill., attended Beloit college and now is a senior at the Northwestern university dental college.

Future Events.

The American Opera society will present a "Gala Ballet" Monday, Feb. 14, at the Racquet club, under the direction of Gladys Hight. "Fables of the Stars," a ballet in three episodes, will comprise the program.

The junior division of the British War Relief society will meet at the Art institute Saturday morning to hear Mrs. Walter S. Brewster talk on English gardens in peace time and to see movies of war time gardens in England. The junior division has charge of gathering and shipping seeds to England, and its members and any other young persons interested in the program are invited to come to Saturday's program and bring with them seeds to be shipped abroad. The youngsters supplied toys for children in England at Christmas time and meet on Saturdays and to sew for English children.

Birth News.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mueller [Jacqueline Aagaard] are being congratulated on the birth of a son, Michael IV., Friday in Passavant hospital. The baby is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Aagaard of Lake Shore drive and of the Nicholas G. Muellers of North State parkway. Young Michael's father is stationed in Chicago as a 3d class petty officer in the navy.

Thru the Looking Glass

With the weather making a perfect monkey out of the calendar as it has been doing lately, the yen for spring touches has become most unbearable. Our clothes-crazy feminine friends tell us that their sales resistance to silly hats and mad, mad prints has never been lower, and there was plenty of larceny in our own heart the other morning when the woman next to us on the bus flaunted a corsage of snowy carnations with purple violets in the center.

Perhaps a better way, especially right now when there are war bonds to buy, is to treat yourself to a spring fancy that will last you all thru the dreary months to come and give pleasure every day. Our own substitute for a frippery that would satisfy for the moment but not give much real service was a huge jar of foam bath. A spoonful a day will keep the midwinter blues at bay for months.

This lovely stuff, a fluffy white powder in an enchanting fragrance, is made up especially for one of the smart shops. It comes only in five pound jars, and owning one makes you feel a shade richer than Croesus.

It's in only one scent, and that one is nameless—a delightful flower blend, very gardenish and fresh. A handful tossed into the tub just before you turn on the hot water tap—which you should turn on with force—will scent the water wonderfully and make it billow with millions of shiny, soft bubbles. It's the right stuff for a good start in the morning, and it makes the kind of a bath that at night helps you draw a fragrant veil of forgetfulness over the irritations and fatigues of the day.

The jar is simple and handsome, with a tidy black and white label. Its contents are five full pounds of spring, in powdered form, into which you can dip daily from now until April. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Parent and Teacher Congress to Confer on Juvenile Problem

Mrs. William Hastings, president of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will come from Madison, Wis., to present a personal message at the special war time conference on juvenile protection being sponsored by the Illinois congress today in the Stevens hotel. "Protection of Youth on the Home Front" is the theme of the meeting, to be opened at 10 a. m. in the Grand ballroom by the state president, Mrs. Theodore Gleichman of Moline.

Dr. Howard Y. McCluskey, professor at the University of Michigan, and Dr. Charles E. Howell, juvenile protection chairman of the Illinois congress, will speak at the afternoon session, when Mrs. Hastings' talk also will be given. Speakers for the morning include Edward H. Stullken, president of the Illinois Education association, and Clifford R. Shaw, superintendent of the department of public welfare.

Four sectional meetings at 7:30 p. m. on the home, health, child labor, and the protective agencies will have representatives of state and federal government agencies, as well as educators, as participants.

Following the conference, a two day business session is scheduled by the state board of managers.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1944: By Ely Culbertson.]

The proper way to defend is to keep one eye on the tricks declarer already has taken and the other eye on the tricks he may be able to collect. Using that logical system, you can often devise a plan that will wipe out one of his "possibles." For example:

North, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♥ A Q 8 6 3
♦ 10 7 5 4
♣ K

WEST
♠ Q
♥ K 9 7 2
♦ Q J 8 6
♣ J 10 4 3

EAST
♠ K 7 4 3
♥ 10 5
♦ K 9

SOUTH
♠ J 10 9 6 2
♥ J 4
♦ A 3 2
♣ A Q 8

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 heart	Pass	1 spade	Pass
2 hearts	Pass	3 no trump [final bid]

The bidding was bad, and so, naturally, was the contract. North should have supported spades, and South should have bid only two no trump on the second round. Nevertheless, the actual three no trump contract should have been brought home without difficulty.

West led the diamond eight, and South made his first mistake when he permitted East's king to win the trick. [Considering dummy's diamonds, there was not much to fear in that direction.] Declarer won the diamond return and led the spade jack. The ace captured West's blank queen, but on a second spade lead East cagily refused to part with his king. At this juncture declarer could have put the contract on ice by continuing with spades until East played the king, then overtaking his own club king, cashing his other club trick and fifth spade, and finally finessing against the heart king. Declarer, however, was obviously obsessed with the thought that the heart finesse was off side. So, leaving one spade in dummy, he cashed the club king and then led another spade. East won this trick and did not make the return that South expected. East could count that a club return would give the enemy at least two club tricks, four spades, one diamond, and the two heart tricks that East knew were there for the taking. Very deliberately, East led the heart 10, right up to dummy's tenace. Declarer covered with the jack, West with the king, and dummy with the ace. Declarer threw West in with a diamond and made him surrender tricks to the queen and eight of hearts, but these were not sufficient for the contract.

Federation of Labor Contributes $5,000 to Paralysis Fight

A gift of $5,000 from the Chicago Federation of Labor topped contributions received yesterday in the $500,000 fund raising campaign of the Cook county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. This year's goal is twice that of 1943. The additional funds are needed, according to Britton I. Budd and Col. A. A. Sprague, cochairmen of the drive, to meet the deficit caused by the epidemic of last year.

Stars of radio, cafes, and movies will appear in a benefit for the foundation at the Palace theater at midnight Thursday, under sponsorship of the Progressive Democratic league.

Hadassah's National Head to Address Chapter Here

Mrs. Moses P. Epstein, national president of Hadassah, will come from New York to address the Chicago chapter of her organization at a meeting this afternoon in the Morrison hotel. The gathering marks a city-wide launching of the society's annual money raising activities on behalf of its war emergency health program in Palestine. Mrs. Benjamin Lavin, who is directing the campaign in Chicago for the second successive year, is being assisted by Mrs. Frank P. Burman, Mrs. Amos Bowman, Mrs. John Rocklin, and Mrs. Martin Maremont.

HERE'S HOW WAC HELPS ARMY DO ITS JOB IN WAR

Women Now Serve at 270 Posts in U. S.

[WACs move in companies and live in barracks], and have to salute their superiors.

Few have a front row war seat such as Corp. Geraldine Horne, who went into Naples with Gen. Mark Clark as his confidential secretary. Few have the change of scene of the WACs stationed at the headquarters of the southeast Asia command in New Dehli, most of whom are typists.

The satisfaction derived from being a WAC typist, a job that would pay higher financial returns in civilian life, is purely one of patriotism. Define it any way you please, it narrows down to the knowledge that this is a woman's war as well as a man's and that by donning a uniform a woman has, in most instances, taken the place of a man in uniform.

Some Handle Mail.

Not all of the 33,000 are typists. Some are mail clerks, including many of the 1,789 WACs in Africa. Here in continental United States, where WACs are stationed at 270 army posts, they sort and distribute most of the mail, preside at message centers, serve as librarians in book and film libraries, compile and analyze code, keep books, operate the addressographs that punch out dog tags [identification disks], and run teletypwriters.

Included among the 33,000 are the WACs taking over as instructors' assistants at the Fort Knox armored school, the WAC lawyers who serve under the judge advocate and the inspector general, and the 64 WACs who have been graduated from the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas.

The first 16 of these 64 broke a 62 year precedent when they entered this tough, masculine school on Feb. 6, 1943. No women had attended it before. Here, studying alongside men, they were trained in military organization, basic staff principles, staff functions at home and in operational theaters, and installations.

Chicagoans Among Graduates.

One graduate, Maj. Emily Claire Davis, is WAC director on the staff of Lt. Gen. Leslie S. McNair, commanding general of the army ground forces. Another, Capt. Elizabeth Lutze of Sheboygan, Wis., is WAC staff director in New Delhi. Capt. Anna M. Danovsky of Chicago is working with the administrative committee of the chiefs of staff, which correlates British-American legal procedure. Capt. Ruth Spivak of Chicago is assistant operations officer of the air transport command at Gravelly Point, Va.

Thirteen per cent of the WAC strength, or about 8,200 women, is classified as technical and professional. This includes 87 of the 239 jobs, ranging from public relations to veterinary captain. [A WAC captain, formerly a Texas bank cashier, now is replacing a male captain as public relations officer at an air field in California.]

Here would be listed the WACs serving as interpreters in North Africa, those microfilming V-mail here and abroad, meteorologists, photographers, and draftsmen, those who interpret aerial reconnaissance photographs at air bases here and in Africa, Sicily, and England, those who work with the wounded at ports of debarkation in the United States, and those who work as dental, medical, and surgical laboratory technicians, checking blood plasma, taking blood counts, operating oxygen tents, sterilizing rooms, and giving X-ray treatments. Two hospital companies are assigned to Fort Devens, Mass., alone.

Work With Vehicles.

Ten per cent, or around 6,300, work with motor vehicles and love it. They drive army cars, test vehicles on obstacle courses, drive tugs on air fields, operate and repair light trucks, tractors, and tanks, and drive ambulances both at ports of embarkation and at army hospitals.

Here in Washington they drive ambulances for Walter Reed hospital and last week frightened a masculine major who, when being taken to Walter Reed with pneumonia, was confronted by an enlisted man and three WACs at the corners of his stretcher. "Put it down!" he ordered. "I'll walk in!" But he didn't.

Eight per cent, or about 5,050, are in the cooks' and bakers' division. This seems disproportionately high, as the WACs do not cook for men in the army, but for each other. It averages a cook for every 12 WACs, including officers. The average WAC cook, however, is proud of her culinary output, and WACs as a whole grumble much less than men about what goes into their stomachs.

Seven per cent, or 4,400, are in supply and stocks. This includes practically everything in the housekeeping department, from WACs who issue clothing to WACs to those who issue clothing to army air cadets, WACs working at post exchanges and post ration boards, and WACs who list guns and captured enemy equipment at the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground.

Hold Down Trade Jobs.

Five per cent, or 3,150, have mechanical or trade jobs. Here are welders, machinist's helpers, armorers, airplane and engine mechanics, riveters, lathe operators, and sheet metal workers.

Under this heading, too, are such miscellaneous jobs as auto and sign painters, printers, tailors, dog trainers [WACs train the dogs who guard installations for the 4th air force in California], military police, provost sergeants, artificers [jills-of-all-trades who are able to repair everything from a broken water main to a spluttering stove], and pigeoneers, who man the pigeon lofts and record pigeon progress for the signal corps at Camp Crowder, Mo. Here also may be found the heretofore nonmilitary job of beauty operator.

The smallest group, 4 per cent or 2,500, is in radio and electrical work and communications. Here are the 232 WACs who are bilingual telephone operators in Naples, many of the 1,143 WACs with the 8th air force in England, the WACs who repair radios on bombers in flight at training fields here, the plane dispatchers and Link trainer instructors, and the six WACs who work in the hangars at the National airport in Washington.

Let's Look at Turner Field.

To visualize more graphically the variety of jobs WACs fill at a single post, take an imaginary trip to Turner field, Ga., an army air corps tactical training school. WACs are stationed at about 200 air bases in this country, 20,000 of them being attached to the air forces. The largest contingent is 600 at Orlando, Fla., but at Turner field WACs engage in more diversified activities than at any other.

An air cadet, long before taking to the air, is trained in a model cockpit known as a Link trainer. Imaginary altitude, wind, cloud formations, and storms are created on his instruments by concealed operators, who are WACs.

WACs also operate a synthetic directional finder from a crow's nest, make visual aid maps and charts, test the cadets periodically for depth perception, vision, visual angle of convergence, vertigo, and hearing.

Checked by WACs.

When the cadet actually takes to the air a WAC checks his flight, his log, and his orders, and issues aerial clothing. His plane, its radio and instruments repaired by WACs is dispatched by a WAC, who signals his take-off from the control tower, gives the "hold your position" signal from a biscuit gun, charts winds aloft, gives weather reports, and brings him in. Even the bombsight that the bombardier uses is repaired by a WAC.

On the ground WACs' service and wash planes, inspect propellor pitch adjustment, armor the planes, weld them, enlarge, print, finish, and trim aerial photographs for assembly into photo mosiacs, and correct aeronautical charts. They also do most of the office work, from making up squadron pay rolls to making reports on prisoners.

Work in Ballistics.

It might be interesting, too, to take a mental trip to the Aberdeen proving grounds. Here WACs work in ballistics, check ammunition, analyze bomb fragments, test, weigh, and man the M-T director controls, assemble and disassemble shells, check captured German tanks and figure out the steel content and grade, analyze gas, collect data on burning powders, operate gauges and testing machines, work on the aerodynamics range, and observe the firing accuracy of mortars.

That is what they do at two of the 270 posts where they are stationed in continental United States. They do everything from inoculating guinea pigs for tuberculosis at Camp Edwards, Miss., to taking pilots' identification pictures at Dow field, Me.

Of the WAC strength, about 60,000 now are on active duty. Army commanders say they could use six times as many as are now enrolled. If the WAC could sell itself to the women of America as thoroly as it has sold itself to the army, it could work as hopefully, quietly, and efficiently as the army of which it is a part.

PAMPHLET SALE STARTS AGAIN IN LIBRARY TODAY

The sale of pamphlets will be resumed today by the Chicago public library after uncontested acceptance by the library board yesterday of a report of the corporation counsel of Chicago ruling such sale legal. Sale was suspended three weeks ago after a taxpayer questioned the library's right in the matter. A committee report accepted by the board yesterday recommended that "publications of governmental departments and agencies, and of organizations and institutions with recognized authority in their respective fields, and dealing with subjects of current public interest be considered as of principal value and importance."

TROLLEY CONDUCTOR ROBBED.

Arthur Hanrahan, 6118 West 61st street, conductor on a 63d street car, reported to police yesterday that two Negroes robbed him of an undetermined amount of cash after they boarded the car at South Park way.

FLYNN'S TRIAL ON BANKRUPTCY CHARGES OPENS

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 24 [Special].—Trial of Mortimer B. Flynn, former millionaire Chicago coal dealer and candidate for mayor in the 1935 Republican primary, and two other defendants on charges of violating the federal bankruptcy statutes got under way late today before Federal Judge J. Leroy Adair in United States District court here.

Flynn, who now lives in Knox, Ind., is accused of concealing $70,000 in assets when he was declared bankrupt in federal court here in 1940. Frank De Young, 42 years old, president of the De Young Fuel corporation of Chicago, and Charles J. Tressler, 64, an attorney, of 4756 Drexel boulevard, Chicago, are accused of conspiring with him by aiding him to hide his assets.

Deny Hiding Assets.

Attorneys for the defendants told the court in preliminary statements that property alleged by the government to have been concealed consists of real estate at 9019 South Halsted street and 2108 South Ashland avenue, Chicago. They denied that its ownership by Flynn at the time of the bankruptcy had been concealed and said the bankruptcy petition set forth that it was covered by a trust agreement entered into by Flynn in 1938.

Trusts Explained.

Pursuant to this agreement, the attorneys said, Flynn had issued nine trust receipts, of which seven went to Tressler and two to De Young as collateral for moneys allegedly owed them by Flynn. Attorneys defended action of Tressler in filing a claim against the estate for $25,540 in attorney's fees asserting that over a 15 year period Tressler represented Flynn in 54 lawsuits.

M. Edward Doran, representing Flynn, attacked the initiation of the case by the government and said the "true motivation" of the prosecution would be unfolded as the trial progressed.

FORMER ASYLUM INMATE IS HELD ON 8 CHARGES

Benjamin Crouter, 20 years old, of 3037 Montrose avenue, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Mason S. Sullivan in Boys' court on six charges of robbery, one of contributing to the delinquency of a minor and one of a crime against a child. Bond was fixed at $2,000 on each charge. Police said Crouter was released from a state asylum last fall. He was arrested last week by North Damen avenue police who said he confessed molesting a 6 year old girl after following her into her home while her mother was absent.

... or how to relax on leave

What more friendly way to welcome a soldier to a family gathering than the three short words: Have a "Coke". It says, We're happy you're here. And there's no better way to show it than to be sure you have Coca-Cola in your icebox ready to offer its refreshing hospitality. From "down under" to back in the U. S. A., Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—has become the symbol of friendly folks the world over.

★ CROMBIE KASHAAN

Distance was not spared in the process of gathering together rare wools and matchless workmanship— where lies the opulence of this coat

Yes, it was when trading was still guarded by free seas that the Men's Store procured this coating. The Crombie mills of Aberdeen, Scotland, sent their representatives to the Chinese port of Tientsin to purchase the fleece that Chinese caravans had toted all the way from mountainous Tibet—where a rare specie of goat breeds and thrives on the sky scraping plateaus. It's the Persian Kashaan goat that possesses one of the softest, warmest, finest fleeces known to man. The inerrant weaving of Crombie, the deft tailoring of Malcolm Kenneth assuredly merits this fine wool. It's an overcoat well worth possessing. 135.00

GREAT LAKES BEATS N. U., 46-36; OHIO WINS

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

JIM JORDAN, son of Fibber McGee and Molly, the popular radio team, is a full-fledged movie actor at the R. K. O. studio in Hollywood. . . . Young Jim played football at Chicago's Loyola academy. . . . His work in Pat O'Brien's "The Iron Major" attracted the attention of studio scouts and won him a contract. . . . Jimmy Dykes says Pasadena, Cal., is the best training site he ever has found and Dykes, as player and manager, has done his conditioning work in Florida and Texas, as well as California. . . . You needn't be surprised if Bronko Nagurski and Bill Kuusisto, also a former Minnesota football star turned wrestler, meet in a finish match in Minneapolis. . . . Tentative plans for the ballyhoo already have been made. . . . Kuusisto is undefeated on the mat. . . . When the war ends, the American league's fancy service plaque, which already bears the names of nearly 200 players, will be donated to baseball's museum in Cooperstown, N. Y. . . . Speaking of improvement, consider the case of Elmer Ray Riddle of the Cincinnati Reds, who pitched only seven victories in 1942 as a warm-up for his 21 triumph performance of last season. . . . The short right field fences had nothing to do with it, of course, but 101 home runs were hit in Yankee stadium in 1942 and 98 in the St. Louis ball park by American league sluggers in 1943. . . . On June 7, 1889, a National league baseball game was called by the umpires in the fourth inning because of snow. . . . Earl Mann, president of the Atlanta club of the Southern association, is touring Cuba in a search for diamond talent. . . . Clark Griffith apparently has started something. . . . Lt. Rudy Eskar, a native of Chisholm, Minn., who played end for the Gophers in 1930, has been promoted from the rank of lieutenant [j. g.]. . . . Rudy has just returned from a seven month tour of duty as commander of a navy gun crew aboard a merchant ship which took him to Egypt and England.

Cinderella.

You were my Cinderella long ago
Before our hearts had grown so worldly wise,
Your brow was whiter than the drifting snow
And morning's softest blue was in your eyes;
You called me your Prince Charming and you said
That we must climb life's hillside arm in arm,
And I vowed by the stars when we were wed
To shield you, like a loyal knight, from harm.

O, that was make-believe, and yet it seems
More real than any love my heart has known
And I have often wondered in my dreams
Into what realm my wonder girl has flown,
And if she ever sighs or seems to care
Because her gay Prince Charming is not there.

To John J.

Well, son, your chance has come
To fight our country's foe,
And, tho you're barely past 18,
We're proud to have you go.

It's kids like you from every state,
Like branches of a tree,
Who weld yourselves in one great force
To keep your country free.

The road is long; the road is tough,
And sometimes there is sorrow.
But in the end, the dawn breaks clear
Upon a new tomorrow.

So, as you start, son, look to Him
And keep your eyes above,
For when it's over you'll come home
To peace, to faith, and love.

BUCKEYES BURY CHICAGO UNDER 83 TO 44 SCORE

Armstrong Runs Up 26 Sailors' Points.

The Great Lakes Bluejackets' basketball team defeated Northwestern, 46 to 36, last night at Great Lakes, with Paul Armstrong pitching in 26 points. This avenged one of the sailors' two defeats this season.

The Wildcats beat the Bluejackets, 54 to 36, New Year's eve in Evanston but the Navy played that game without the services of Armstrong, a former Indiana university star who was out because of an injury.

Armstrong last night made five field goals on long shots, six more on dribble-in and lay-up shots and added four free throws for 26 points.

Nearly matching Armstrong's play, but in a defensive role for the sailors, was Center Jack Coleman, formerly of Duke university. He held the Wildcats' vaunted basket maker, Otto Graham, scoreless.

Sailors Increase Lead.

Northwestern's tired team showed the effects of a strenuous week-end during which they won by narrow margins over Notre Dame and Ohio State. They stayed in the game for the first 13 minutes, holding the score to 18 to 16 in favor of Great Lakes up to that time. The sailors spurted away to a 26 to 13 lead at half time, however.

It was the 10th straight triumph for the Bluejackets and their 17th victory in 19 starts. Their last loss was to Northwestern, shortly after the University of Illinois had beaten them last month.

For Northwestern, current coleader of the Big Ten, the defeat marked the end of a seven game winning streak which started after the Wildcats lost their season opener to Western Michigan.

Led by Forwards Don Grate and Jack Dugger, Ohio State's basketball team put on a display of power on the Midway last night that submerged the University of Chicago quintet, 83 to 44. Grate scored 10 field goals and five free throws to give him a Big Ten game total of 85 points, while Dugger compiled 10 field goals and one free throw.

The Maroons gave a good account of themselves in the first period and trailed at the intermission 37 to 23. However, the Buckeyes seemingly scored at will with the opening of the second half. The first half of the game resolved itself into a scoring duel between the rival centers, Chicago's Lou Deitelbaum counting six field goals and Arnold Risen, Ohio State's 6 foot 8½ inch entry, countering with five.

READY FOR A BIT OF SCRAPPING ON THE SIDE

SOUTH SIDE'S BOXERS AWAIT GOLDEN GLOVES

Ninety-six amateur boxers now have passed their physical examinations and are eligible for Chicago's south side sectional Golden Gloves tournament which opens next Monday night in the St. Sabina gymnasium, 78th street and Racine avenue. The majority of these boys were included in the 127 boxers who reported last night at the Catholic Youth gymnasium for their Golden Gloves physical tests.

The final qualifying examinations for the 17th annual tournaments sponsored by The Chicago Tribune Charities will be held Thursday night in the C. Y. O. Entries closed yesterday, but any boxer who has received a parental consent card is eligible for the Thursday examination.

The majority of contestants now must enter the north side sectional which will open Feb. 2 in the Loyola university gymnasium. The winners of the two Chicago sectionals in both the Novice and Open divisions will meet for city championships in the Marigold gardens Feb. 14. The eight Chicago Open champions, each of whom will be awarded a golden glove, will represent the city in the Tournament of Champions in the Stadium.

25 Per Cent in Open Division.

Twenty-five per cent of last night's entrants will fight in the Open division of Golden Gloves and seek city titles which will admit them to the Tournament of Champions to compete against the title holders from the midwest, from Texas, Louisiana, and from California.

Louis Kick, Libertyville, Ill., Boys' club, who won the Chicago Golden Gloves novice featherweight title last year, registered last night for the Open division in this class. Kick will fight at Loyola and he is one of the experienced boxers highly favored for a city championship.

Teams reported from the Savoy Athletic club, Coast Guard anchorage, and the Madison Athletic club. In the latter group was Charles Kucharz, hard hitting light heavyweight, who returned yesterday from Clinton, Ia., where he appeared Sunday in a Golden Gloves program for the benefit of the soldiers in Schick General hospital.

Savoy A. C. Has Full Team.

Coach Eddie Nichols of the Savoy A. C. brought in a full squad last night which will defend the city team championship won a year ago. Coach Sid W. Franklin of the Coast Guard anchorage entered, among others, Dick Hoffman of Menasha, Wis. Hoffman has been in service 10 months. He is a novice heavyweight.

Lambert Advocates Three Changes in Basketball Rules

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Ward Lambert, Purdue basketball coach whose team meets De Paul in the second game of the Stadium double header Saturday night, continued the recent discussion of rules yesterday noon at the Basketball Writers' association luncheon in the Morrison hotel. Altho the rules committee has agreed not to change the code during the war, Lambert went on record as favoring an assistant timer and also gave his views on the 10 second and 3 second rules restraining the attacking quintet.

"In four of our games this year," Lambert told the writers, "the gun was sounded ending play when under the rules time should have been stopped for free throws. This occurs because the timer must look at his watch and not the action on the floor in the closing seconds. He doesn't know when the whistle sounds if it is for a foul and time out or a jump ball or out of bounds during which time continues. An assistant timer would eliminate these errors."

Opposes 10 Second Rule.

Lambert always has been opposed to the 10 second rule, he said, because it was directed at the offense in ordering it to advance the ball in this time past the center of the floor.

"This rule and the 3 second rule for possession on the foul line between the lanes are opposed to the theory of penalties in sports. Rules should be made for the defensive players."

"If you'll write a different rule," Harold Olson, Ohio State coach, told Lambert, "the committee will adopt it. No one has been able to speed up basketball action any other way than force the attacking team to advance the ball."

Lambert Discusses Rules.

"The present 10 second rule merely cuts the playing space in half," Lambert said in rebuttal. "It still permits the defense to present a massed defense such as the zone. The rule does not eliminate stalling, as it was intended to do, for the defense still may permit stalling by refusing to come out to the ball handlers."

The Purdue coach then gave the example of the recent La Porte-South Bend high school game and its 5 to 4 score. "I don't like restraining lines, but why not have a line to which the defenders must advance and try to take the ball away from the offense?" Lambert said in conclusion.

Lt. [j. g.] Bob Harris of the Iowa Seahawks, who meet Northwestern in the opening game in the Stadium Saturday night, reviewed the navy personnel for the writers.

NEW YORK LIFTS NIGHT GAME BAN

La Guardia Announces End of Dim-Out.

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Night time, out-of-door sports returned to the metropolitan area today with Mayor La Guardia announcing the lifting of the city's dim-out regulations which made after-dark athletic contests impossible for the last 18 months.

Mayor La Guardia, making his announcement after conferring with President Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Vice President Leo Bondy of the New York Giants, said his decision was subject to change at any time by military officials.

It is believed that Newark and Jersey City, both members of the International league and forced to play afternoon games last summer by the bans, also would return to night games this summer.

Mike Jacobs, Twentieth Century sporting club promoter, said that if adequate matches developed he would hold major boxing programs in the ball parks this summer. At the same time it was learned that the Old Country Trotting association, which uses the Roosevelt raceway oval near Mitchel field, also is planning a night program.

Only the Dodger and Giant parks have lights in New York and both have agreed to play the National league limit of 14 games on the after-supper shift.

SERVICES GIVE BACK 19 PLAYERS TO CUBS AND SOX

Four of Group Rank High in Dykes' Plans.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Little wonder that the Cubs and White Sox officials appear on the smug side when mention is made of the major leagues' man power problem. While various of the other 14 National and American league clubs profess to be sitting up nights worrying as to how much ivory will remain in their respective stocks by next midsummer or even the next day, the two Chicago clubs have that comfortable feeling as the result of their accumulation of lads either rejected or discharged by the army.

The Sox have on their present roster no fewer than eight athletes who were labeled 4-F by army doctors and three who were honorably discharged. The Cubs own six fellows unable to meet Uncle Sam's physical specifications and two who enjoyed a brief fling in service before drawing medical releases. All these constitute only a handful compared to the almost 200 each major league has given to the services, but it helps.

Four Important Sox Cogs.

At least four of the Sox who will be back only because of defects, most of which are the results of baseball injuries, are highly important in Mgr. James Dykes' plans. He'll have ample need for the pitching of Orval Grove and Joe Haynes, and the catching of Vince Castino, all of whom failed to pass their examination. And Myril Hoag, after months in the army air corps, will be around to assist in case there is trouble in the fly chasing department.

Others on the Sox rejected list are Infielder Roy Schalk, previously with Little Rock, who has a medical discharge; Pitcher Tony Annoreno, also a 1-C; Pitcher Edmund Lopat, who won 19 games for Little Rock; Pitcher Bob Mistele, formerly of the St. Paul club; First Baseman Floyd Rightenberger, a Detroit semi-pro; Catcher William Thaxton, Shreveport semi-pro, and Pitcher Albert Wittmer, a free agent.

Hanyzewski Back in 1944.

The Cubs also have some important items among those who either had a taste of army life or couldn't get past the examining doctors. Ed Hanyzewski and Paul Erickson, both of whom were turned back at the threshold of induction, are figured as good possibilities for Jim Wilson's currently shaky pitching staff. Ed Stankey, another of the 4-F's, wasn't exactly a whirlwind at second base last season but will be considered the regular at that spot until a better article is uncovered. Stankey may find the competition tough.

The two Cubs who had a taste of army chow are Third Baseman Pete Elko and Catcher Albert Kreitner. Both were obtained from Nashville and their records last season indicate they have a chance to carve a niche for themselves during the spring training gymnastics at French Lick. The three other members of the 4-F club are Catcher Ed Sauer from Nashville, Flychaser Andy Pafko from Los Angeles and John Ostrowski from the same team. John can operate either in the outfield or at third base.

NOTRE DAME AND DARTMOUTH SIGN FOOTBALL PACT

Notre Dame, Ind., Jan. 24 [Special].—Frank W. Leahy, director of athletics of the University of Notre Dame, announced today that Notre Dame and Dartmouth college had signed a two year football contract, wit hthe first game to be played in Boston on Oct. 14, 1944, and the second at Notre Dame in October of 1945.

The new contract will find the two teams meeting on the gridiron for the first time. Athletic relations between the institutions were established back in 1908, when the baseball teams met.

The coach of the Dartmouth team is Earl M. Brown, who was an end at Notre Dame in 1938. Brown also was captain of the Irish basketball team in his senior year.

WARRIORS AND VALPARAISO TO PLAY FEB. 22

Camp Grant, Ill., Jan. 24 [Special]. Camp Grant's basketball game with Valparaiso university scheduled in Rockford next Friday evening, has been postponed until Feb. 22, Lt. Col. Frank A. Bush, special service officer, said today. The Warriors have a return encounter with the Hoosiers, who recently halted De Paul university's winning streak at 13, in Valparaiso Feb. 28.

SOUTH SIDE'S BOXERS AWAIT GOLDEN GLOVES

Sectional Tournament to Open Monday.

tered for the Loyola tournament is Eugene Kaiden, a Schurz High school senior. Kaiden lives at 5229 Hutchinson street. He competed in the recent C. Y. O. novice tournament and has had athletic experience on the Schurz football and track teams.

BADGERS START TONIGHT.

Milwaukee, Wis., Jan. 24 [Special].—One of the most likely looking Golden Gloves tournaments in the Wisconsin history of the event will get under way in the Milwaukee auditorium tomorrow night.

Competitors will start punching then in quest of the eight open division championships and the privilege of representing the Badger state in the Tribune's tournament of champions in Chicago, Feb. 28, Feb. 29, and March 1.

Three Military Posts Entered.

Because of the predominance of novices, the beginner lightweights, welterweights, and middleweights are scheduled for opening competition. Bouts will continue thru Jan. 28, Feb. 8, and Feb. 11.

At least three military centers in Wisconsin will have representation. They include teams from the 76th division, an eastern outfit now encamped at Camp McCoy, from McCoy's permanent post personnel, and from Truax field, Madison.

The Truax field contingent, all members of the army air forces, will be under the supervision of Savior Canadeo, one of the greatest Golden Gloves welterweights ever developed in the central states.

No Open Champions Back.

Teams also will be on hand from the Leathem D. Smith Shipbuilding yards in Sturgeon Bay, Racine Recreation, Manitowoc Recreation, the United States coast guard from Milwaukee, and amateur club organizations.

None of last year's open division champions will be back, and only two novice winners from a year ago are entered, Johnny Kaiser in the 160 pound class, and Leonard Love in the 135 pound class.

Woods Wins by Knockout at Marigold

Sgt. Lou Woods, 152, of Camp Grant scored a knockout over Isadore Miner, 150½, of Chicago in one minute and 44 seconds of the sixth round of a scheduled 10 round match last night in the Marigold Gardens. A capacity crowd of 1,508 paid a gross of $2,603 to see the bouts.

Woods started to weaken his opponent in the third round when he used a left hook to the body and then scored with a right to the jaw. He staggered Miner with both punches. The sergeant used the same punches to floor Miner for a nine count and for the final 10 count.

Alex Jimeneze, 128½, of Detroit, and Willie Moon, 130, of Chicago fought a six round draw in the semiwindup. Both boys scored with hard rights thruout the match. Jimeneze turned southpaw several times but failed to confuse Moon.

HOPPE, COCHRAN EACH WIN BLOCK IN CUE MATCH

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Willie Hoppe of New York and Welker Cochran of San Francisco divided today the first two blocks played in New York in their 2,150 point nontitle cross-country three cushion billiard match.

After Hoppe won the afternoon block, 50 to 16 in 29 innings, Cochran took the night encounter, 70 to 50 in 52 innings, winning the game within the block, 50 to 31 in 32 innings.

Hoppe, who now leads 1,950 points to 1,743, had a high run of 10 in the afternoon and six tonight. Cochran's high in the afternoon was five and 10 tonight.

St. Mary's Wins, 35 to 14, in Visitation Tournament

First round games in the Visitation Grammar school basketball tournament, played yesterday on the Visitation floor, resulted as follows: St. Mary's of Perpetual Help, 35, St. Raphael, 14; St. Alphonsus, 11, St. Frances De Paula, 4; Our Lady of Peace, 23, St. Carthage, 7; St. Bonaventure, 14, St. Bernard, 16; St. George, 2, St. Mel, 0 [forfeit].

Near Deadline in De Vito's Bowling Event

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The entry lists for Dominick De Vito's second annual individual bowling classic, to be held at the Park Manor Bowling Center, 100 East 75th street, from next Saturday thru Feb. 6, will close at midnight tomorrow night. The fee is $20, with a prize list headed by cash awards of $1,000, $750, and $500. The veteran De Vito, one of the sport's all-time greats, is the only bowler ever to have won the Petersen Classic three times, scoring in 1922, 1923, and 1927. In the last named year, rolling with an injured thumb, Dom fired a 1,924 that still stands as the Petersen record.

Don Taylor, manager of the Bowlium, Sheridan road and Montrose avenue, yesterday announced in a press luncheon that the field in the third annual Bowlium five man classic will include a Chicago Cub Alumni team. The quintet, who attended the luncheon, will include Gabby Hartnett, Bob O'Farrell, Jimmy Archer, Tony Kaufman, and Pap Pieper. The tourney, which already has enlisted 55 teams of its required 60, will be held on Feb. 26, with squads at 7 and 10 p. m. The purse will be $3,000, with a first prize of $750.

A new rule will be in effect in Barney Hochstadter's fourth annual original junior individual classic, to be held from April 15 thru May 21 at the Archer-35th Recreation. The tournament, open to bowlers with an average under 186, will be restricted to those who have maintained that pace over the last three years. Last year's Junior Classic was won by John Ermi of Milwaukee, Hank Marino's partner. It attracted 2,240 entries, who bowled eight games over 16 lanes. The prize list of 600 awards is headed by first money of $1,000.

Leaders to date in the major division of the 40th annual tournament of the Chicago Bowling association at the Garden Recreation, 4074 Milwaukee avenue, follow:

Two-man—Henry Lorenz-William Berg, 1,296. Individuals—Gil Zook, 675. All events—Jack Reckase, 1,865.

Leaders in the handicap division:

Two-man—Henry Porsche-George Newhart, 1,277. Individuals—Fred Reichert, 697. All events—Edward Bilek, 1,912.

War Dog Hero Is Entered in Sunday Show

BY BOB BECKER.

Count, a Dobermann Pinscher which spent 8 month overseas as a U. S. army war dog and recently received a medical discharge because of a wound received in battle, will be in the obedience trial to be held Sunday at the Midland hotel, 172 West Adams street.

This canine war veteran is owned by Dr. Clarence Folkers, 12952 South Western avenue, Blue Island. Dr. Folkers said yesterday that Count got his medical discharge because he had a toe shot off. The dog had won its companion dog title in obedience before it was accepted by Dogs for Defense and sent to an army training center. Altho Count's travels and battle experiences since he went into service are not known, it's believed he saw service on the African and Italian fronts.

The obedience trial in which this Dobermann will take part Sunday is sponsored by the North Shore Dog Training Club, Inc. With more than 64 dogs already entered in the various classes and more last minute enteries expected last night, officers of the club anticipate the largest number of trained canines to compete that the club ever has seen in one trial.

All proceeds of this event will be given to Dogs for Defense to help that organization carry on its work of recruiting canines for the army and other branches of the service. Judging will start at 10 a. m. Sunday and continue thru the day. More than $500 in cash prizes and trophies will be awarded to the dogs winning in the various classes and their owners. Three well known judges will score the competing dogs on their response to various commands.

LOUIS REFEREES IN BALTIMORE; JEFFRA WINS

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 24 (AP).—Harry Jeffra, former world featherweight and bantamweight champion, won a unanimous 10 round decision over Frankie Rubino of New York in the Coliseum tonight to keep his comeback record intact.

Sgt. Joe Louis' appearance as guest referee turned the card into a double feature for the 5,000 fans.

LINDBLOM RALLY BEATS FARRAGUT QUINTET, 26-21

A third quarter rally led by Earl Burton gained Lindblom a 26 to 21 victory over Farragut and undisputed command of the central section junior basketball listings of the City league yesterday on the winner's court.

Farragut, winner of four previous games, held a 13 to 10 margin at half time, but Lindblom bounded back to take a 16 to 15 margin at the start of the fourth period. It was Lindblom's fourth straight triumph.

In other central section junior games yesterday, Gage Park beat Du Sable, 33 to 32; Tilden defeated Dunbar, 48 to 16, and Phillips whipped Harrison Tech, 34 to 32.

Jerome Shuman and Lou Prempas contributed 26 points to spark the Marshal seniors to a 51 to 30 victory at Washburne for the Commandos' fourth triumph in five games and the fifth consecutive defeat for the hosts.

Parker and Calumet divided a double header in the south section race in St. Sabina gymnasium. The Parker juniors triumphed, 39 to 29, for their fifth straight victory. The Calumet seniors remained undefeated, winning, 39 to 23, for their fifth in a row.

MARTIN MARION OF CARDINALS IS TAKEN BY ARMY

Fort Jackson, S. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Martin [Slats] Marion, St. Louis Cardinals' shortstop, was accepted for army service today.

Marion, who led the hitting for both teams in the Cardinals-New York Yankees 1943 worlds' series, reported for his physical examination for local draft board No. 1 at Abbeville.

JOHNNY McCARTHY IN NAVY.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 24 (AP).—Secretary John Quinn of the Boston Braves announced tonight that the team's first baseman, Johnny McCarthy, had been inducted into the United States navy. Quinn said McCarthy wrote of his induction to club officials but gave no further details.

MIDDLE WEST'S UTILITY EMPIRE CUT UP BY SEC

Must Dispose of 55 Subsidiary Firms.

Dissolution of the Middle West corporation's public utility system thru the amputation of its properties in nine states, Mexico, and Canada, leaving the parent company with a central nucleus of operating companies mainly in Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky, was ordered yesterday by the securities and exchange commission under provisions of the holding company act. The company must dispose of 22 direct and 33 indirect subsidiaries.

In its general lines the sweeping SEC order followed closely the breakup plans which Middle West itself proposed last February to comply with the "death sentence" provisions of the law as interpreted by the commission. The so-called integration proceedings against the company, top holding corporation for the old Insull utility empire, have been pending since March 1, 1940.

Holdings Are Varied.

Holdings in the complex system include intermediate holding companies, electric and gas utilities, natural gas production and transmission properties, steam heating, water supply, railroad and bus transportation, and ice manufacturing and real estate companies operating mainly in middle western and southwestern states.

The SEC order permits Middle West to retain conditionally eight operating properties of Central Illinois Public Service company and Kentucky Utilities company. These properties may or may not be found joinable into an integrated system which could be retained indefinitely under the holding company act, after the acquisition of certain Indiana properties, the SEC opinion said.

Held by Midland Affiliate.

The Indiana properties, which would serve as a link between the Illinois and Kentucky utilities, are held by Public Service Company of Indiana, Inc., an affiliate of Midland United company, now undergoing reorganization under the bankruptcy act. Middle West holds an interest in Midland United.

In one important respect the commission's order apparently did not fully meet the Middle West corporation's suggested breakup program, company officials said. It was their hope that the Central & South West Utilities company, a subsidiary, would be permitted to retain substantially all of its operating properties, but the SEC left the question open. Central & South West was granted 15 days to present additional evidence on the retainability of certain gas, water, and ice businesses.

Suggested Sale to Stockholders.

The company's plan contemplated distribution or sale of its holdings of Central & South West stock to its own stockholders, on a pro rata basis, after a merger of that subsidiary and American Public Service company.

Middle West had previously agreed to the dissolution of North West Utilities company, another subsidiary. The plan for that company contemplates the distribution of its assets to its stockholders. Those assets consist of common stocks of Wisconsin Power and Light, Lake Superior District Power, and Northwestern Public Service companies. Middle West would then distribute to its own shareholders their proportionate interest in the North West holdings.

DIVIDEND PAYMENTS DURING 1943 SLIGHTLY HIGHER THAN IN 1942

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—December cash dividend payments of $710,300,000 brought the year's total to $3,541,400,000, slightly higher than the $3,528,800,000 total for 1942, the commerce department reported today. The record year was 1929, when dividend payments aggregated $5,944,000,000.

Manufacturing corporations paid $1,813,000,000 in dividends last year compared with a 1942 total of $1,790,000,000. Gains of approximately 10 per cent were registered by the oil refining and transportation equipment—chiefly aircraft and shipbuilding—industries. Most other subgroups showed little change.

Railroad dividends were up from $177,400,000 to $201,400,000 and the miscellaneous group—dominated by motion pictures—paid $27,800,000 in 1943 dividends compared with $25,500,000 in 1942.

Next Problem for Pullman Is Decree Form

Efforts by attorneys for Pullman, Inc., and the department of justice to agree on a form of decree are expected as the next step in the anti-trust litigation in which a three judge federal District court in Philadelphia has ruled Pullman must separate its car manufacturing business from its sleeping car service operations.

The court last Saturday instructed both sides to seek such an agreement, and announced that if they cannot agree it will then enter a final order of its own. The possibility remains that either the company or the government will appeal to the Supreme court after the final decree has been entered, company officials said.

Earns 340 Millions in Nine Months.

If Pullman ultimately is required to divorce its manufacturing and service operations, it will mean the separation of businesses which during the first nine months of 1943 had combined gross revenues of more than 340 million dollars.

The two branches of manufacturing and service have been united since the late George M. Pullman established the business in 1867.

If the separation is finally arranged, the method would remain to be determined, as the court has not expressed its views on this point. In various anti-trust cases, notably Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and American Tobacco company, stocks of constituent companies were distributed pro rata to the common stockholders of the holding corporations.

Court Gives Company Option.

Pullman, Inc., was given the option to decide which subsidiary should be separated from the parent corporation, and the court indicated no preference between Pullman company, the sleeping car service organization, or Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company.

In event of a breakup certain reasons apparently would still exist for maintaining the holding company. Besides the car manufacturing and servicing divisions, Pullman, Inc., also owns all or nearly all the capital stocks of several other companies: Pullman Railroad company, operating an industrial railroad in the Lake Calumet district; Pullman Land association, Harbor City Land company, Pullman Trust and Savings bank, and Pullman-Standard Car Export corporation. Pullman, Inc., also holds 99.68 per cent of the stock of a French manufacturing company, Enterprises Industrielles Charentaises.

SPRAGUE SAYS ACQUISITION OF FIRM AIDS BOTH

Acquisition by Sprague Warner-Kenny corporation of a controling common stock interest in Western Grocer company of Marshalltown, Ia., will be beneficial to the two companies and their customers thru making Sprague Warner's national distribution system available to Western's subsidiary, Marshall Canning company, and in other ways, Nathan Cummings, president of Sprague Warner-Kenny, said yesterday. At a meeting of Western Grocer directors in Marshalltown next Thursday, Cummings said he will be elected a director and chairman, and Art Oppenheimer vice chairman, with Frank Brewer continuing as president. The price paid for the stock was $17.50 a share.

Week's Steel Output Set at 99.4 Pct. of Capacity

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Steel operations this week will be at the rate of 99.4 per cent of capacity, compared with 99 per cent last week, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported today. A month ago the rate sank to 86.3.

RETAILERS AFFECTED BY EASTER INVENTORY CURB TOLD TO APPEAL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Retail merchants suffering hardships as a result of inventory restrictions in relation to Easter merchandise today were advised to file appeals with the WPB by Chester L. Jones, inventory limitation administrator. He said the variable date of Easter, which is 16 days earlier this year than in 1943, may adversely affect those stores which plan their spring merchandising programs in relation to the holiday.

Reserve Heads Oppose Banks Paying Fees

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—A proposal that the federal reserve act be amended to provide that the absorption of exchange and collection charges by member banks shall not be deemed payment of interest on deposits met with strong opposition from the board of governors of the federal reserve system today.

A spokesman for the board, J. P. Driebelbis, general attorney for the board, appeared before the house banking and currency committee, which began hearings on a bill by Rep. Brown [D., Ga.] to so amend the reserve act.

Holds it a Trade Lure.

"The bill before the committee," Dreibelbis said, "would permit a member bank to reward or compensate its customers for the use of their demand funds so long and only so long as the reward or compensation consisted of absorbing exchange charges."

The absorbing bank, he added, "pays the charges only because it is getting the use of some one's funds and it would not pay them otherwise. Considering that there is a statute prohibiting the payment of interest on demand deposits it is plain to see what could be done competitively by the use of the device which the bill before the committee would sanction.

Indorsed by Doughton.

"It is small wonder, therefore, that already one outlying suburban bank, by using this device to reward correspondent banks, spread its business even into surrounding states and ran its deposits from $800,000 to over 8 million in less than a year."

Sen. Doughton [D., N. C.], chairman of the house ways and means committee, has indorsed the bill, saying the reserve board had chosen an "unfair, inopportune time to agitate the matter."

The Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, thru Francis R. Brown, solicitor, also expressed its approval of the proposed legislation.

PARLEY TO SCAN REPUBLIC STEEL PLANT DISPOSAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—The recommendation of the WPB that the Republic Steel corporation's electric furnace plant in South Chicago be abandoned altho it is 98 per cent completed will be considered soon by a conference of Defense Plant corporation engineers, representatives of WPB, and the company, a DPC spokesman said today. Disposition of this plant, owned by DPC, will not be decided until the advantages and disadvantages of starting operations are thoroly considered, he said.

The Republic plant was one of seven which the WPB suggested should not be completed because their capacity is no longer needed. The projects were designed to increase the capacity for making alloy and high quality carbon steel.

Beet Grower in Middle on Subsidy Fight

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—The beet sugar producer seems to be the innocent bystander in the congressional battle over subsidies.

Several years ago, congress, to stimulate domestic sugar production, enacted a law under which sugar beet growers received $2.50 a ton from the government, plus the price paid by the processor—$7 a ton last year. All went well until the war hiked labor and other costs. Then the Commodity Credit corporation was called on to help, in order that the nation's sugar supply might be maintained. Last year, the CCC contributed $1.50 a ton toward the grower's gross return, making a total of $11 a ton.

Bill Sidetracks Plans.

Last fall, plans were all made by the department of agriculture to announce the sugar support program when the anti-subsidy battle was launched in the house. The house passed the Steagall bill, denying CCC the right to make subsidy payments. The senate delayed action on the measure and a simple resolution, continuing the life of CCC until Feb. 17, was adopted.

CCC officials decided that, in view of the time limitation, they could not commit themselves to a payment for sugar or any other continuing subsidy. In fact, Robert H. Shields, solicitor of the agriculture department, questioned whether the CCC could continue to make payments toward the 1943 crop.

Shields referred to one section of the Steagall bill which, he said, permits subsidy or price support programs to be carried out thru Dec. 31, only if they were announced on or before Oct. 13, 1943.

Efforts have been made thruout the subsidy debate to distinguish between consumer subsidies or price roll-backs, and incentive payments, or producer subsidies.

Exempts Sugar Payments.

In the senate's version of the bill, which is scheduled to be debated this week, is an amendment, secured by Sen. Murdock [D., Utah] and others, which specifically exempts sugar payments from the subsidy ban.

But Sen. Murdock said his conferences with heads of the price control program led him to the belief that the bill, if congress approves it, will be vetoed by the President. Administration leaders, he said, believe subsidies are an absolute necessity in keeping the living cost within bounds.

So the sugar beet producers, with no apparent objection on the part of any one in congress to federal support for their industry, find their 1944 crop program stymied and their 1943 payments threatened.

People and Events

Harold D. Conklin yesterday was appointed manager of Hotpoint range and water heater sales division of the Edison General Electric Appliance company. He returns to Chicago after nine years in Los Angeles as district sales manager. F. B. Williams, manager of the refrigerator division in Chicago, has been appointed sales manager of the southern region.

Wendell J. Brown and Clifford C. Pratt have become partners in the law firm of Scott, MacLeish, and Falk.

Gardner Cowles Jr., president of the Des Moines Register and Tribune, was elected a director of United Air Lines at a special meeting in Chicago. He succeeded Joseph P. Ripley, who resigned recently so that Harriman, Ripley & Co., with which he is associated, might handle United's new financing plan.

"Accounting Control of Direct Labor Costs" will be discussed by M. F. Hill, assistant controler of the Oliver Farm Equipment company, and N. J. Kuhn, secretary-treasurer of the Carbide Tool company of Chicago, before the Chicago chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants Thursday in the American Furniture Mart.

Joseph J. Witry was elected a director of the Niles Center State bank, to succeed Edward Schoeneberger, who resigned.

Panel discussions on war time and post-war problems will be held today by the National Association of Cleaners and Dyers, closing a two day conference in the Hotel Sherman.

WPB FORMULA FOR POST-WAR OUTPUT TESTED

Quotas to Be Fixed on Civilian Goods.

BY LLOYD NORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—A formula for the transition of American industry from a war to peace basis has been devised by the war production board and is being tested in several consumer durable goods programs, it was learned tonight.

The question of which companies will be allowed to make civilian goods first has been decided by WPB as follows:

1. Each company will be allowed a production quota based on a uniform percentage of its actual output of the given product in a pre-war base period.

May Keep Trade Mark.

2. Any company which is engaged in war production and does not have the facilities or man power to resume the manufacture of a peace time product will be permitted to have its quota made for it under its distinctive trade mark by any other company.

The effect of this formula, according to WPB officials, is to protect the competitive position of each company on the basis of its pre-war status. Those companies which have their product made by competitors will be represented on the market by their trade marked goods.

The quota system has been applied in the WPB program calling for the production this year of 2 million electric flatirons. Each manufacturer who made irons before the war will be assigned a production quota which he can transfer to any of his competitors. This quota is 43 per cent of his production in 1940.

Aids Small Producers.

WPB officials said that small manufacturers may benefit at first from this arrangement because many large manufacturers are preoccupied with war contracts and may wish to have their civilian work done by a small firm.

On the other hand, the officials said, small manufacturers may find it economically impractical to undertake production of a relatively small amount of the irons and will prefer to combine their quotas with some larger firm and take advantage of the lower production cost per unit.

Whether the formula can be applied in the reconversion of all types of industries has not been decided.

Termed Fair Formula.

Industry representatives generally have accepted the quota formula as fair and workable, especially because it maintains a pre-war status quo and blocks the entrance of war-nourished "upstarts" in their field, WPB executives said.

Price control has proved the major stumbling block to the civilian production program, they disclosed. Resumption of electric iron production has been delayed by disagreement between the office of price administration and the industry on what price ceilings should be assigned to the irons.

PRICE HIKE HELD WAY TO BOOST OIL PRODUCTION

Wichita, Kas., Jan. 24 (AP).—An increase in the price of crude oil and refined petroleum products was urged today by the Kansas Oil Men's association which said, "The only tried and proven method of increasing production is the price incentive."

After hearing speakers report that production was declining in this district, the association's annual convention adopted a resolution which said such a hike would be "minute and inconsequential to the consumer and not inflationary."

W. W. Vandeveer, director in charge of the petroleum administration for war, district 2, Chicago, told the marketers that equitable distribution of available crude supplies is a must if "we are to keep present refining capacity alive."

Orderly Disposal of Surplus Urged by Grocer Chief, Bank

What Peace Holds

Wholesale grocers face the possibility of a slump in sales volume, a decline in values of goods and consequent inventory losses "in 1944 if our hope for success on the war front is realized," R. B. Caywood, president of the National-American Wholesale Grocers' association, said yesterday at the annual meeting of the association in the Drake hotel.

The disposal of surpluses at the end of the war poses a big problem for grocers, Caywood said. He suggested that a government agency be established to control their disposal in an orderly manner.

Independent wholesale and retail grocers have improved their relative positions in food distribution during the war and must be alert to maintain and improve their position, he said.

Victory to Increase Pressure.

"Victories on the military front are likely to increase rather than diminish pressure on food supplies," said M. Lee Marshall, newly appointed director of the war food administration's office of distribution.

Marshall said 1944 food allocations were on the basis of 14 to 15 per cent for the military, 75 per cent for civilians and 10 to 11 per cent for allies. Last year the military took about 12 per cent.

He said supplies for civilians was not based on "leftovers, but by allocations thru a realistic and practical job of determining commodity the civilian needs."

Radical changes in transportation facilities will change materially distribution and merchandising methods after the war, P. M. Brinker, Dallas, Tex., president of the National Association of Retail Grocers, said. Many new items of food will appear on food store shelves, he predicted.

Extra Care Advised

New York, Jan. 24 [Special].—The disposition of perhaps 65 billion dollars of surplus war supplies demands immediate formulation of a national policy and extra care to avoid economic repercussions, the Guaranty Trust company said today.

The bank advised the creation of a board representing the military and naval services to determine when plant facilities and war supplies are no longer needed, and to devise the best means for their disposal.

The problem already has appeared in the redistribution of raw materials and productive equipment resulting from contract cutbacks, and will be magnified in the final phases of the war, the bank said.

Temptation to Government.

"There will probably be strong agitation in certain quarters for the retention of some facilities by the government for purposes of experimentation in industrial operation," the bank asserted. "The temptation to adopt this course will be especially strong with respect to the many properties that can be sold or leased for private operation only at substantial loss.

"There could be few surer ways of 'losing the peace' than to make surplus war property an instrument of further penetration by government into the business field."

The proposed commission would determine what properties are needed in the conduct of the war and for national defense, and superintend the disposal of all other properties within a definite period.

"No class of property should be disposed of, or terms fixed, except after consultation with committees representing the industry or industries most directly affected. Property should be disposed of, as far as possible, thru regular trade channels by the industries that originally produced it."

FEDERAL LIQUOR TAX IN 1943 HITS RECORD MARK OF 1½ BILLIONS

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—The government collected record breaking taxes on alcoholic beverages in 1943 despite hard liquor shortages and the impact of war time dislocations on the industry.

The $1,454,201,727 collected in 1943 was 19.6 per cent higher than the 1942 total and exceeded collections in any previous year, the allied liquor industries said today.

Despite the fact that all whisky and gin production was stopped more than a year ago and altho distilled spirits withdrawals for last year were about 29 per cent below 1942, federal taxes on distilled spirits alone accounted for $906,378,808 or 62.3 per cent of the total.

A 50 per cent increase—from $4 to $6 per proof gallon levied in November, 1942, boosted the 1943 tax returns on distilled spirits to 16½ per cent over the previous similar period.

Altho the beer excise tax was raised only 17 per cent in November, 1942, beer sales expanded last year and the various taxes on this beverage created a rise of 27.7 per cent for a total of $515,063,125 in 1943, as against $403,436,418 a year earlier.

Studebaker Heavy Truck Output Tops 100,000 Mark

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 24 [Special].—The Studebaker corporation has exceeded the 100,000 mark in the production of four and six wheel military trucks, H. S. Vance, chairman of the board, reported today. "Current operations rank Studebaker among the largest producers of trucks," Vance said. "Only one other factory surpasses the company in the manufacture of trucks above the two ton classification."

MARITIME BOARD GETS COMPLAINT OF SHIPBUILDERS

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Man power and production policies at Bethlehem-Fair Field ship yard, Baltimore, will be investigated immediately, Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, announced today following a meeting with a delegation of union workers.

Representatives of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America [CIO] presented the commission today with a brief of charges including, "the company was deliberately slowing down production."

Union charges included: That the company's proposal to shift from an eight hour to a 10 hour day would result in dismissal of several thousand workers; that the company dismissed "first class high salaried mechanics" to hire persons with lower salaried skills, thus further slowing down production; that the company refused a union proposal that workers be trained on company time for the scheduled April conversion from Liberty to Victory ship production.

Corset Firm Buys Plant for Post-War Expansion

The Blair Corset company, 231 South Green street, yesterday purchased the three story factory building at the northeast corner of Washtenaw and Belden avenues, 287 by 125 feet, from Industrial Properties, Inc., thru George Lurie, for $120,000. David Blair, president, said the company would use the building after the war.

HOG RECEIPTS REDUCED UNDER 'PERMIT PLAN'

Volume 27% Below Last Monday's.

WFA Extends Floor

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24 (AP).—Temporary extension of the government's price support program to include choice butcher hogs weighing up to 330 pounds was announced tonight by the war food administration, effective Jan. 27. This is the second extension, the price floor of $13.75 at Chicago originally having been only for 200 to 270 pound hogs and recently extended to 300 pounds.

Hog receipts were reduced 27 per cent under Monday of last week by the marketing permit system which became effective at the Chicago stock yards yesterday. Total arrivals of 40,000, including direct shipments to packers, were smallest for Monday in six weeks and compared with 54,875 a week earlier.

An increase in shipments to packers was more than offset by a decline in open market supplies by commission men, who reduced the supply on the open market to 22,000, or 8,000 below the "quota" agreed on for the first market session under the program. Directs to packers, at 18,000, were the largest since mid-November.

Clearance Improves.

Broader buying of all classes of hogs resulted in the best Monday clearance in four weeks. The holdover at the close was estimated at 6,000, compared with 20,000 Monday of last week and 23,000 two weeks ago. Only one Monday in the last eight weeks had a smaller carryover.

The general price level was highest in 10 days with increases of 5 to 10 cents a hundred pounds in all hogs under 200 pounds and over 300 pounds. The average moved up 5 cents, to $13.25. No change occurred in prices for "government weights," which sold mostly at the $13.75 "floor," the day's top.

Off Weights Are Lower.

Packers continued to buy all "off weights" well below the support price, giving $12.50 to $13.15 for the majority of good to choice 170 to 190 pound lights, and $12.60 to $13 for most 305 to 375 pound butchers.

Best grades of beef cattle were firm with other classes steady to 25 cents lower. Quality was poorest of the season for Monday, with the $17 top paid for mixed steers and heifers. Calves were steady.

Lambs and old sheep were mostly steady. The lamb top was $15.90.

NEW RECORD SET IN 1943 OUTPUT OF ALLOY STEEL

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—A new record total of 13,116,000 tons of alloy steels was produced by American companies in 1943, an amount 14 per cent higher than the preceding record of 11,526,000 tons, turned out in 1942, the American Iron and Steel institute reported today.

The peak month last year was March, when 1,284,000 tons were produced. In succeeding months production was lower because of lighter demand, dropping to 799,000 tons in December.

Alloy steels are specially treated to meet specific requirements.

NEED NOT SIGN.

Matured coupons of postal savings bonds are payable to the bearer on demand, but when they are presented at a postoffice the clerk will demand that the holder sign his name on the back of the coupons. Does the clerk have the right to make this demand? F. H.

Answer: No, but when the reason for asking the person cashing a coupon to sign his name is understood, every one should be willing to comply with the request. Postal clerks must pay for any spurious currency they accept or any counterfeit coupons they cash. The request for the coupon casher's signature, therefore, is only a precaution taken by the clerks, on their own initiative, to avoid personal losses.

Formerly a person cashing an interest coupon on a postal savings bond or a corporation bond was required to sign an ownership certificate. This was done by order of the treasury department, for the purpose of checking against the income tax returns of persons receiving interest. Ownership certificates are no longer required.

STOCKS WEAKEN, CLOSE LOWER ON PROFIT TAKING

Fractional Gains Made by Few Favorites.

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Stock market leaders generally suffered moderate losses today after early advances in rail issues were reversed by profit taking sales.

The fact the carriers, despite hopeful income and traffic prospects, had swung to the highest level on average since late last July, inspired some holders of these securities to cash in on the idea a reaction might be expected.

Customers turned a bit skeptical also because of apprehension over taxes and thoughts of possibly impending important foreign developments. The continued interest of Wall street in the war loan drive still served as a market handicap. Good earnings and dividend reports aided selected issues.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.1 of a point at 50.9. Of 855 issues traded, 317 were down, 301 up, and 237 unchanged.

RAIL BONDS STRONG.

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—A small rally in rails plus investment nibbling among high priced industrials and utilities kept the bond market steady today. Sales totaled $14,337,100 compared with $16,859,000 last Friday. For the fourth time in a row, the Associated Press average of 20 rails established a new peak since 1937 at 80.

CHICAGO STOCKS ACTIVE.

Wisconsin Bankshares led the list in turnover on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday and sold at a new high of 8⅝, closing with a net gain of ⅛. Consumers company B and Central Illinois Securities preferred were other active issues at fractionally higher prices.

WHEAT CLOSES STEADY AFTER EARLY DECLINE

Light showers in parts of the winter wheat belt and prospects of more weakened grain futures in the early trading yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat and rye declined about 1 cent a bushel on scattered selling, but late in the session commission house support and short covering caused a rally. Closing sales on wheat were unchanged to ¼ cent lower. Rye finished unchanged to ¼ cent higher. Oats declined ⅛ to ¼ cent and barley was ½ cent higher to ½ cent lower.

Lacking other incentive, traders in wheat were paying careful attention to crop and weather reports, altho the plant is dormant and the actual condition will not become known until after a period of growing weather.

CHINESE EXPECT U.S. TO TAKE 1ST PLACE IN TRADE

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—Contemporary China, publication of the Chinese News Service, says that after the war the United States probably will dominate the Chinese trade, a market previously shared with Great Britain, Germany, and Japan.

Assuming that Germany and Japan will be eliminated from trade with China, the service estimated two-thirds of China's imports would be from the United States and one-third from Britain.

"The only ways that she [China] can finance the import of industrial goods are to increase the export of agricultural products and mineral materials and to obtain long term credits from foreign governments and concerns," the service said.

WAR TIME GAS STOVES SET FOR FEBRUARY SALE

Gas ranges for civilians—a streamlined war time type—are being produced by Cribben and Sexton company, Chicago, and will be in the hands of Chicago dealers about the first week of February, George D. Wilkinson, president, said yesterday. The company is engaged principally in production of airplane subassemblies and high explosive shells.

The stove, a four burner type, has no heat regulator and is made to WPB specifications, he said. It contains an oven compartment and a separate pull-out broiler drawer. The stove is designed so the heat regulator may be added at a later date, he added.

Stone and Goethe Street Apartment Sold to Trust

The five story Stoneleigh Court apartments, at the southwest corner of Stone and Goethe streets, were sold yesterday by the Chicago Title and Trust company for $137,000. The building, occupying a 65 by 131 foot lot, contains 44 furnished apartments. Title was taken by Frances Davis for a trust, represented by Morris Kamm, attorney.

Emerson Radio Obtains 6 Million Dollar VT Loan

New York, Jan. 24 (AP).—The Emerson Radio and Phonograph corporation has negotiated a "VT" loan [revolving credit] of 6 million dollars with the Chase National Bank and the National City Bank, Benjamin Abrams, president, announced today.

Jewel Tea 4 Week Sales Decrease 6.54 Per Cent

Jewel Tea Co., Inc., retail grocery distributor, yesterday reported sales were $4,023,953 during the four weeks ended Jan. 1, a decrease of 6.54 per cent under the corresponding period a year earlier. Sales during 1943 totaled $52,351,465, a decrease of 1.64 per cent below 1942.

Mystified

[TRIBUNE Photo.]
MRS. EDNA MEDLEVINE.

Mrs. Edna B. Medlevine, 22 years old, was a highly puzzled wife when she returned to her home at 6811 Paxton avenue one day last month and found it stripped of much of its furniture, and her husband, Felix, 35, and his personal effects gone.

"He sent me on a vacation to my folks in Louisville Dec. 1, and when I came home two weeks later, most everything was gone," she told Judge R. J. Dunne in Circuit court yesterday under questioning of her lawyers, Joseph H. and Norman Becker. Mrs. Medlevine is suing for separate maintenance. Until Dec 1, everything was harmonious, she said.

The Beckers added that Mrs. Medlevine still hasn't any explanation for the separation, but Medlevine's lawyer, Morris A. Haft, suggested "the couple couldn't get along." Medlevine, owner of two small department stores, is now living with his mother at 1255 South Halsted street. Judge Dunne ordered Medlevine to pay his wife $30 a week temporary support.

DON'T OVERLOOK CHILD'S INCOME IN TAX RETURNS

Parents or Individual May Pay Levy.

[This is the sixth in a series of articles on the individual income tax.]

Prior to 1943 the tax status of a minor child's earnings was of concern only to parents of child movie stars, quiz kids, and a few others. The situation is different now, with thousands of minors earning substantial sums from full or part time jobs.

In probably the majority of cases, the minor's earnings must be included with those of his parent or guardian in filing an income tax return for 1943. The determining factor is the law of the state in which the taxpayer resides. In Illinois and nearly all other states the law provides that a parent or guardian has the legal right to the earnings of a minor—a person who has not yet reached the full legal age, or majority. In some states the full legal age is 21 years for both men and women; in others, including Illinois, it is 21 for men and 18 for women.

The parent may renounce the legal right to the earnings of a minor child, thus avoiding responsibility for paying taxes on the earnings. If state law permits, renunciation is not necessarily a formal act, but may be established by past actions.

Treasury department instructions this year provide that a minor must pay the tax on his earnings if the parent has "relinquished control and authority over the child by conferring on the child the right to his earnings, together with the obligation of self-support." Such relinquishment, the treasury adds, "may be absolute or conditional, complete or partial, as where the parent relinquishes the right to the minor's earnings but retains the right to control the social or moral conduct of the minor. In any case, it must be proved, and the burden of proof is on the parent who asserts that he is not taxable on the minor's earnings."

The instructions do not state whether or not the "obligation of self-support" means that a child must be fully self-supporting before his earnings can be considered as belonging to him rather than the parent.

An inconsistency in the regulations as they stand is the fact that a parent may be required to include with his own income the earnings of a child under 21, but if the child is 18 no dependency credit is allowed.

Representatives of the collector of internal revenue for the Chicago area advise that a boy 18 or over should file a separate return, explaining that since no dependency credit can be allowed for him, his earnings should not be included with his parent's. Altho no treasury regulations or court decisions are cited to support this advice, the taxpayer is justified in being guided by it and can hope that there will not be reversal later.

Entirely distinct from a minor's salary or wage earnings is his income from other sources, such as property or trust funds. The parent has no legal right to such income. If total income from such sources, or from earnings belonging to him, exceeded $500 in 1943, a minor who is unmarried must file an income tax return or one must be filed for him by his parent or guardian. A minor is entitled to the same personal exemption and deductions accorded other individuals.

To obtain a refund of taxes withheld at the source, a minor who owes no tax must file a return. The parent who includes a child's earnings with his own income is entitled to take credit for taxes withheld from the child's wages.

[Tomorrow's article will be on the partial cancellation of one year's tax.]

PAY-AS-YOU-GO AUTHOR MOVES TO SIMPLIFY TAX

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Rep. Carlson.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 24.—Rep. Frank Carlson [R., Kas.], who introduced pay-as-you-go taxation, today introduced a bill to "streamline" income tax payments so that some 30 million of the nation's 50 million taxpayers won't have to file tax returns.

With the pending tax bill in senate-house conference and apparently soon to be disposed of, Carlson said tax simplification should be the next order of business of the house ways and means committee, which inaugurates all revenue producing legislation.

Carlson said he realized his plan is not the "last word" in tax simplification, but asserted it will provide a basis for discussion. He proposes in his bill to:

1. Have only one tax on personal incomes. The tax base will be the same for all. A single set of rates and exemptions would be set up.

Many Would Miss Filing.

2. Do away with income tax returns for those whose tax bill is paid thru pay-as-you-go pay roll deductions. He would provide, however, that they could file a return if they desired.

3. Extend use of the "short form" income tax return to persons having gross incomes up to $5,000. Currently, use of the short form is limited to incomes under $3,000.

4. Bring about "drastic simplification" of both the long and short form income tax return.

Would Extend Filing Time.

5. Extend the time for filing a final estimation of the individual's income and tax to Jan. 15 following the close of the taxable year "to eliminate the guessing contest" that has caused "so much irritation and confusion" among taxpayers.

Meanwhile, the 14 senate and house conferees who will attempt to reach a compromise on the pending bill to increase taxes this year by 2 billion 275 million dollars, met today for their first session. Most of the day was spent reading the bill.

Harvey Company Guards to Be Awarded Emblem

A guidon, emblematic of excellence in marksmanship, first aid, and drill, will be presented to guards for the Whiting corporation of Harvey tonight in Homewood auditorium. The presentation will be made by Capt. Francis J. Leahy of the 6th service command, and will be received by Howard B. Grant, president of the corporation. The presentation will be followed by a competitive drill among guard personnel of several Chicago area war plants.

● This is a new large scale map of the Rabaul area in New Britain. Captured from an Australian garrison on Jan. 23, 1942, Rabaul has been maintained by the Japanese since then as an air and sea base. Its airdromes, the principal ones of which are indicated on the map, have been bombed repeatedly by allied planes. Allied land forces already are concentrated at Arawe and Cape Gloucester, at the other end of New Britain. Inset map shows location of Rabaul in respect to New Guinea and Bougainville.
